Little Girl Wins Big Prize At State Fair

Three-year-old Kim Eubanks of 823 S. 12th threw a nickel at the Nickel Pitch and won a giant dog—bigger by far than the little girl. Kim's Grandpa, R. J. Brooks of 908 S. 10th, wasn't too keen on the big dog, but Kim told Nickel Pitch manager Vivian Hodge of Fort Worth she wasn't leaving without the dog. She didn't. (Star Staff Photo.)

Fair Crowd Cut By Rain

By JOHN De CAMP
Star Staff Writer

The waterlogged 1966 Nebraska State Fair went through its "shakedown cruise" Friday. A lot of small leaks showed up, but by Friday night the "super fair" was cruising along smoothly.

An estimated 18,000 persons sloshed through mud churned up by 2½ inches of rain and thousands of head of livestock to get a look at the first of its kind fair in Nebraska.

This was considerably below last year's 25,000 first day figure. But fair officials were elated at the turnout. Fair Manager Henry Brandt said that advance ticket sales for the Tennessee Ernie Ford show are the best that he can ever remember. Brandt attributed the lower first day turnout to the rain.

Many Had To Pay

Biggest shock of the day came to many concessionaires and parents of 4-H children who learned that a newly-initiated fair policy makes them pay an admission fee to the grounds.

In previous years, these people had all been given free passes.

The many free exhibits — set up at a cost of tens of thousands of dollars to advertisers, the University and the State of Nebraska—had their test runs and final adjustments made Friday. The interest appeal of all the exhibits was far greater than any previous year.

The exhibits which drew top crowds were the live wildlife displays set up by the Nebraska Game Commission, the numerous health exhibits and the RCA Whirlpool fully automated kitchen of 1970.

Noise Brings Complaint

One of the more interesting problems Friday involved a spat between the Banana A-go-go booth and the Nebraska Centennial Commission booth.

The Banana A-go-go booth, managed by Pat Egan of Lincoln, plays music—loud. Beatle type music—and has a duo of interestingly attired go-go girls dancing on the top of the banana booth. Centennial exhibitors thought the banana booth music too loud and grumbled to Fair Manager Brandt.

A conference among all parties involved resulted in quieter music—well, at least a little quieter. But as a group of teenagers assembled around the banana booth observed, "You've at least got to have the music loud enough to hear." The Banana booth sells bananas.

Parade Saturday

The fair parade through downtown Lincoln will be one of the top fair activities Saturday. The parade starts at 10:30 Saturday morning and is expected to last until nearly noon.

Midway activity Saturday will start at 10 a.m. Time trials for the Big Car auto races begin at 1:00 Saturday noon and the actual races, six of them, will start at 2:30.

The heavy rain which threw the rest of the fair into confusion was like a dream come true to the racers. According to Gene Van Winkle, vice president of national speedways, the track "should be in record breaking condition."

This will be the first time at the Nebraska State Fair that speedway type cars will compete on the new ½ mile track recently built within the ⅝ mile horsetrack.

Curtis Told ICC Orders Boxcars

Washington (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Commission advised the office of Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., Friday it is issuing boxcar distribution orders which will be effective as of 12:01 a.m. Sept. 6.

The orders direct four railroads to furnish 75 cars each week to the Burlington railroad.

The four lines are the Pennsylvania, Kansas City Southern, Louisville & Nashville and Erie Lackawanna.

The orders are aimed at relieving the boxcar shortage developing along the Burlington lines.

Curtis said he was encouraged and pleased by the ICC action.

Mayors Told D.C. Example

. . . BY ROSS

Washington (AP) — Erupting from its world of cold statistics, a government bureau warned Friday that Negro unemployment is worsening. And it gave its recipe to help save cities from ghetto-born riots.

Imploringly, Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of labor statistics, called on mayors of every sizable city to do in 1967 what was done in Washington this summer. That is, to set up programs to find jobs for teen-agers, or, failing that, to involve them in activities to "broaden and enrich" their experience.

"I believe," he said, "it is no coincidence that we had no massive teen-age disturbances in Washington this summer, unlike some other cities."

Briefing

The occasion for his remarks was a briefing for newsmen on monthly employment figures. The routing was quickly disposed of:

1. The number of Americans at work in August was 76.4 million, the same as July's record-breaking figure but really a new record, because employment usually drops by 250,000 in August.

2. Unemployment totalled 2.9 million in August, a seasonal drop from July's 3.2 million. The percentage of the labor force unemployed remained unchanged from July at 3.9. The labor force is a widely fluctuating figure, consisting of those working and looking for work.

Then the briefing turned to the Negro. A bureau release said:

"Joblessness among Negro workers (who make up 92% of non-whites) has been worsening in recent months. The unemployment rate for whites in August was the same as in April, 3.4%. The rate for nonwhites gradually increased from 7.0 to 8.2% during the same period."

Serious

Ross remarked that up to now his bureau had not been emphasizing this deterioration in the job picture for Negroes because it was uncertain whether it was a mere month-to-month variation or something more serious.

"Unfortunately it appears to be the latter," he said.

He launched into a discussion of "poverty tracts" of about 100 cities around the country — places marked by "low education, low skills, low income" Twelve million people live in such tracts, and their labor force numbers 6.5 million. Of these people working or looking for work, 45% are Negroes and 55% white.

7.5% Versus 3.8%

In March, according to a special study, unemployment in the poverty tracts was 7.5% of the labor force, and outside the tracts it was 3.8.

"Unemployment was highest for the Negroes in the poverty sections," Ross said. "It was 9.4%. And it was very high for Negro teen-agers, 31% for males and 46% for females."

The implications of the March study have not all been worked out, but Ross has reached a tentative conclusion: to bring the unemployment rate in the poverty tracts down to the level prevailing among whites outside an increase of 250,000 jobs would be necessary.

But the unemployment figures do not tell the whole story. Ross got a surprise when he learned that 150,000 men 25 to 55 years old in the poverty tracts are neither working nor looking for work, hence do not figure in the unemployment statistics.

TOO MUCH FOR PATROL CAR

Held in lieu of $2,500 bonds, the pair had to sleep on the floor of their jail cell because they couldn't fit the jail cots.

Most Local Banks Will Grant Student Loans Under '65 Act

Most Lincoln banks Friday said that they would grant student loans under the 1965 Federal Higher Education Act.

Some smaller banks reported that they had had no requests for loans under the act though their policy was to grant such loans, while one had formulated no policy in regard to the program.

State Banking Director Byron Dunn requested Friday that student loans be issued under the 1965 Federal Higher Education Act in spite of the fact that some lending institutions considered the 6% interest rate too low.

"A congressional committee presently is considering a proposal to increase the interest rate in these loans," Dunn said, "but we can't expect Congress to take any action during this session.

"I've asked banks and other lenders to accept the loans for the time being so young people who want to attend college are not prevented from doing so for financial reasons."

State Sen. Ross H. Rasmussen of Hooper said Thursday he learned that some students were having difficulty securing the federally guaranteed loans because the 6% interest rate established by law is considered too low by some banks.

Nebraska received a federal grant of $45,600 under the act this year, enough to guarantee $456,000 worth of student loans.

Wallace Signs Nullifier Of Integration Guides

Montgomery, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George Wallace signed Friday a bill defying federal school integration guidelines in Alabama and set the stage for another possible confrontation with the federal government.

Wallace signed the bill less than three hours after it was given final legislative approval by the state house of representatives.

At the same time, Wallace lashed out at the guidelines in a statement issued during a specially called press conference, where he signed the measure.

'Rips Veil'

Wallace said the new Alabama law "rips the veil of secrecy from the web of intrigue, bribery and blackmail by which the Health, Education and Welfare Dapartment has invaded and destroyed the local autonomy of our school boards."

He said the law also:

—"Stops the interference with the employment practices of our schools."

—"Stops the requirement of percentage quotas; prevents busing of little school children away from their neighborhood schools."

The new law's main provisions:

—Prohibit Alabama school boards from signing agreements to comply with the guidelines.

—Appropriate state funds to reimburse schools for part of the federal money they may lose for failure to abide by the stepped-up desegregation requirements.

$42 Million

The reimbursement provision, however, does not apply to funds available under the the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and they account for some 75% of the $42 million in federal school funds budgeted for Alabama this year.

The legislation's purposes, as expressed on the house floor by Rep. Alton Turner of Crenshaw County, is to prevent city and county boards from "being coerced into complying with illegal guidelines" prescribed by the HEW Department.

The bill declares, as Wallace has said many times, that it is a violation of federal as well as state law for HEW to require faculty integration and the assignment of pupils on a quota or percentage formula.

AFL-CIO Opposes 4.5% Interest Limit

Washington (UPI)—Organized labor Friday opposed an administration plan and backed a House Banking Committee measure to roll back interest rates on bank time deposits to 4.5% for one year.

Andrew J. Biemiller, director of legislation for the AFL-CIO, wrote each member of Congress urging support for the measure which will go before the House for a showdown vote Wednesday.

The administration favors a measure giving the Federal Reserve Board broader authority to set interest rates but opposes Congress putting a mandatory 4.5% ceiling as proposed in the measure of Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex.

Patman's plan would put a 4.5% ceiling on all time deposits under $100,000 for a one-year period. The deposits over $100,000 would still be eligible for interest up to the current maximum 5.5% set by the FRB last Dec. 6.

Biemiller said that the only reservation the AFL-CIO has about Patman's measure is it doesn't go "far enough." Biemiller would like to see a 4.5% ceiling on all time deposits.

Medical Cost Inquiry Won't Be Witchhunt

Washington (AP) — The coordinator of the inquiry ordered by President Johnson into the rising costs of medical services said Friday he does not plan "a witchhunt for skullduggery."

"We will take a very hard and a very quick look," said Asst. Welfare Secretary William Gorham. "We want to take a look to see how much of this is justified. I'm not saying there are abuses."

"But if any laws are being violated through collusion that will be brought out," Gorham added, "and the Justice Department will be participating in the study on antitrust phases."

Gorham, designated by Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner to make the study, told an interviewer he hopes to come up with some findings that could lead to actions to alleviate pressures which force medical costs up.

Gardner announced at the White House Aug. 23 that Johnson had ordered a quick study of rising medical care costs.

The secretary cited statistics that hospital and doctors' bills went up by 3.4% in the preceding six months, had advanced 0.7% during July alone, and if the rising rate continued would advance by 6.8% in 12 months.

—Appropriate state funds to reimburse schools for part of the federal money they may lose for failure to abide by the stepped-up desegregation requirements.

$42 Million

The reimbursement provision, however, does not apply to funds available under the the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and they account for some 75% of the $42 million in federal school funds budgeted for Alabama this year.

The legislation's purposes, as expressed on the house floor by Rep. Alton Turner of Crenshaw County, is to prevent city and county boards from "being coerced into complying with illegal guidelines" prescribed by the HEW Department.

The bill declares, as Wallace has said many times, that it is a violation of federal as well as state law for HEW to require faculty integration and the assignment of pupils on a quota or percentage formula.

AFL-CIO Opposes 4.5% Interest Limit

Washington (UPI)—Organized labor Friday opposed an administration plan and backed a House Banking Committee measure to roll back interest rates on bank time deposits to 4.5% for one year.

Andrew J. Biemiller, director of legislation for the AFL-CIO, wrote each member of Congress urging support for the measure which will go before the House for a showdown vote Wednesday.

The administration favors a measure giving the Federal Reserve Board broader authority to set interest rates but opposes Congress putting a mandatory 4.5% ceiling as proposed in the measure of Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex.

Patman's plan would put a 4.5% ceiling on all time deposits under $100,000 for a one-year period. The deposits over $100,000 would still be eligible for interest up to the current maximum 5.5% set by the FRB last Dec. 6.

Biemiller said that the only reservation the AFL-CIO has about Patman's measure is it doesn't go "far enough." Biemiller would like to see a 4.5% ceiling on all time deposits.

Medical Cost Inquiry Won't Be Witchhunt

Washington (AP) — The coordinator of the inquiry ordered by President Johnson into the rising costs of medical services said Friday he does not plan "a witchhunt for skullduggery."

"We will take a very hard and a very quick look," said Asst. Welfare Secretary William Gorham. "We want to take a look to see how much of this is justified. I'm not saying there are abuses."

"But if any laws are being violated through collusion that will be brought out," Gorham added, "and the Justice Department will be participating in the study on antitrust phases."

Gorham, designated by Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner to make the study, told an interviewer he hopes to come up with some findings that could lead to actions to alleviate pressures which force medical costs up.

Gardner announced at the White House Aug. 23 that Johnson had ordered a quick study of rising medical care costs.

The secretary cited statistics that hospital and doctors' bills went up by 3.4% in the preceding six months, had advanced 0.7% during July alone, and if the rising rate continued would advance by 6.8% in 12 months.

Viet War Involves All Indochina

By MARTIN STUART-FOX

Saigon (UPI)—All of the countries that used to be called Indochina now are involved, one way or another, in the war in Viet Nam.

Involvement is military as well as political. The war is affecting not only South and North Viet Nam but also neighboring Laos—friendly to the American cause — and Cambodia, which is decidedly unfriendly.

The United States has made no attempt to cloak its step-up of the war to include bombing attacks on North Viet Nam. But they do not discuss operations involving Laos and Cambodia. They remain shrouded in secrecy.

Technically Neutral

Technically, Laos and Cambodia are neutral under the terms of the 1962 Geneva pact guaranteeing their borders. It was a guarantee ignored by the North Vietnamese communists and the United States has had no choice but to follow suit.

The North Vietnamese military supply line known as the Ho Chi Minh trail meanders through both Laos and Cambodia. North Vietnamese forces in division strength have been stationed on Laotian and Cambodian territory to protect the trail.

In Laos, these forces lend aid and comfort to the communist Pathet Lao forces that have been operating for years, notably in the Plain of Jars region. Red targets in Laos are fair game for American airplanes.

7th Fleet, Viet Bases

They operate from bases built in Laos and from U.S. warships of the 7th Fleet as well as from airfields in South Viet Nam. Attacks in Laos are not confined to North Vietnamese supply lines. American planes take swipes at the Pathet Lao as well.

No one has forced this down Laos' throat. The government of Prince Souvanna Phouma has given tacit consent.

A "private" commercial airplane known as Air America is used as a rescue unit for American pilots downed in Laos. It is under contract to the Souvanna regime.

Among other things, the airline supplies government guerrillas operating behind Pathet Lao lines in northeast Laos.

Yanks On Ground

American communications experts and ground controllers have moved into Laos to aid in the air support roles played by U.S. jet fighters in the country. But emphasis is on use of Filippino and Thai technicians rather than U.S. citizens.

Asians are less conspicuous, it is felt.

Further, the United States has been beefing up the Laotian air force. Thailand, the strongest U.S. ally in Southeast Asia, has sent in pilots to fly American-built bombers for the Laotians. Laotian pilots are being trained.

Thailand has sent artillerymen as advisers with the Laotian ground forces in the Plain of Jars area.

Kept Quiet

But it is hush-hush. Souvanna, to maintain the legal stance of neutrality, cannot admit he is receiving U.S. arms aid. U.S. officials will not talk about the almost daily bombings of communist targets in the country.

Cambodia is the other side of the coin. Here, the communists are welcome—while Prince Norodom Sihanouk also clings to the stance of neutrality and insists Cambodia favors neither side.

Not only are North Vietnamese forces using Cambodian territory, but the Viet Cong find the Cambodian border handy for sanctuary when fleeing U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

'No' To Chasing

American commanders would like nothing more than to send their troops into Cambodia under the doctrine of "hot pursuit." Washington says "no."

Such attacks are forbidden, although U.S. planes occasionally may stray across the poorly defined border.

But if U.S. pilots cannot cross the border, there is nothing to stop Laotian or South Vietnamese air force planes from doing so. However, their raids have been officially restricted to an area within six miles of the Cambodian border.

Skyraider Downed; Plane Losses 356

Saigon (AP)—A U.S. Navy A1 Skyraider was shot down over North Viet Nam Friday in bad weather that generally curtailed air strikes on enemy fuel and transport facilities, the U.S. military command reported Saturday. The pilot was rescued.

In another announcement a U.S. spokesman said 356 U.S. planes have been lost over North Viet Nam since August 1964.

In the ground war, a South Vietnamese spokesman reported, more than 1,000 government infantrymen engaged the Viet Cong in a short, savage battle in a mangrove swamp of the Mekong Delta Friday and killed 57 enemy troops.

In another development, Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chief of state, joined Premier Nguyen Cao Ky in raising the possibility of a ground strike at North Viet Nam.

In a speech, Thieu said an allied landing in North Viet Nam might be necessary if the bombing of the north and the ground war in the south failed to halt Communist aggression.

He said a massive landing such as he envisioned would be a strategic defensive move, but he rejected the term "invasion" as inappropriate to such a maneuver.

Chopper Burns

The Americans also lost a helicopter in South Viet Nam. The chopper crashed and burned, and 14 American servicemen were reported injured.

The Skyraider was hit in the Dong Hoi area on the North Vietnamese coast. The pilot parachuted into the sea and was rescued by a Navy helicopter.

Despite the adverse weather conditions, Air Force and Navy planes pounded fuel storage areas and rail and other transportation facilities from North Viet Nam

Operation in the air war over North Viet Nam .. . limited Thursday, also, by low visibility and thunderstorms, but six jet flights got through for blows at the Kumming - Hanoi railway. A spokesman said the supply line from Red China was cut in 10 places.

A Saigon decree for life imprisonment of election saboteurs, fresh Viet Cong terrorist attacks and a shakeup in the command of South Viet Nam's navy paralleled military developments:

—Tons of explosives were rained by B52 jet bombers on suspected Viet Cong troop concentrations 35 miles southeast of Saigon.

—The U.S. 1st Infantry Division closed out a 10-day sweep, dubbed Operation Amarillo, that centered 28 miles north of Saigon.

Officers estimated 171 Viet Cong were killed and said the bodies of 102 were counted.

The navy commander, Capt. Tran Van Phan, was dismissed by the military junta and a former chief of staff, Cmdr. Nguyen Van Anh, replaced him.

The U.S. military command was notified that the junta fired Phan because he failed to protect shipping lanes between Saigon and the sea. Communist mines have damaged three vessels in the river channels in the last two weeks.

On the other hand, informants said the navy has been under close official surveillance recently because of reports that its vessels were being used to transport nonmilitary cargoes.

Unlike the dismissal of Lt. Gen. Hguyen Chanh Thi as commander of the 1st Corps area which sparked a Buddhist-backed spring uprising, the ouster of Phan is not expected to have political repercussions. The captain was not a member of the top level brass.

LBJ Talk Bid Depends On Bonn Reply

Washington (AP) — The outcome of President Johnson's bid for three-power talks on British forces in West Germany apparently hinges on a reply from German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Britian's Prime Minister Harold Wilson has given Johnson a conditional okay for U.S.-British-German discussions on the troop question, informants said.

Erhard, however, has been vacationing in Scandinavia, and it was assumed Friday that there will be a delay in this response to a message from Johnson proposing the talks. If he doesn't reply sooner, Erhard presumably will have an answer when he visits here Sept. 25.

Johnson's proposition was described here as a move to head off any rapid London cutback of its 50,000-man Army of the Rhine.

In Washington's view, Europe's defense is too important to risk its unraveling through a decision by one ally.

S. African Premier Sees Black Leader First Time

Pretoria, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd opened his bid to win friends in black Africa with a 3½-hour meeting with Basutoland's prime minister, Chief Leabua Jonathan, here Friday.

It was the first time that a South African prime minister had received the leader of a black country on South African soil. They made no appearances together in public.

White-ruled South Africa, because of opposition to its apartheid (race segregation) policies, does not have diplomatic relations with a single independent black African state. But Verwoerd hopes to establish three friendly neighbors in British territories on this country's borders which are soon to become independent.

These are Basutoland, scheduled to become the independent state of Lesotho Oct. 4; Bechuanaland, due to become the independent state of Botswana Sept. 30, and Swaziland, which may become independent in 1968.

All three are heavily dependent on South Africa for economic, geographic and political reasons and would find it almost impossible to survive after independence without the friendship of South Africa. Basutoland is entirely surrounded by South Africa.

Chief Jonathan smiled broadly when he arrived for his precedent-setting visit to Verwoerd in this country's administrative capital.

Some observers thought Verwoerd missed an opportunity to improve his image by not appearing in public with his visitor, even though strict protocol did not demand this.

U.N. Envoys Working On How To Keep Thant

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. diplomats concentrated Friday on how to draft U Thant to continue as secretary-general. Talk about a successor faded into the background for the time being.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, in the forefront of the draft movement, sent a personal note to Thant asking him to reconsider his decision to not offer himself for a new term.

A U.S. spokesman said the note was intended to back up the statement issued by Goldberg several hours after Thant's decision was announced Thursday.

Goldberg also conferred for an hour in private with Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko. No details of their talk were disclosed.

Ambassadors Muhammad H. el-Farra of Jordan and J. T. F. Iyalla of Nigeria conferred with Goldberg, and also with the heads of the British and French missions.

They will confer also with Fedorenko. Reports that the Soviet bloc was taking a dim view of a draft movement were denied by an Eastern European diplomat.

McGrath, Kicked Out By Truman, Dies At 62

From Press Reports

Narranganset, R.I.—Former U.S. Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath, 62, who directed the Democratic campaign in 1948 which resulted in President Harry Truman's upset victory, died Friday of a heart attack.

McGrath, then a U.S. senator from Rhode Island, was Democratic National Committee chairman 18 years ago when Truman was the underdog to Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Afther the election, McGrath gave up his Senate seat to become attorney general in the Truman Cabinet.

High-Level Hassle

Three years later, Truman booted McGrath out of the Cabinet amidst charges that high government officials and congressmen had pressured the Justice Department to kill cases.

McGrath was dropped after he defied Truman's chief investigator, the late Newbold Morris of New York, over filling out a financial questionnaire concerning sources of personal income.

J. HOWARD McGRATH

Directed Campaign

McGrath angered Truman by firing Morris who was answerable only to the president though technically attached to the Justice Department. Four hours later, Truman announced McGrath's resignation.

"McGrath expected a whitewash," Morris said later.

"Everything was cozy, comfortable and cordial until he discovered I meant business."

Caudle Took Brunt

Subsequently McGrath's Asst. Atty. Gen. T. Lamar Caudle took the brunt of the investigation.

He was sentenced to two years in prison for blocking a tax case. He recently was freed after six months in prison on a pardon from President Johnson.

McGrath returned to private practice of law in Providence and Washington and in 1960 made public a personal letter from Truman which he considered an apology from the former president.

McGrath said he received the letter within a week after resigning and said it indicated his relations with Truman were on the "highest plane." He added that they had remained so through the years.

In Independence, Mo., Truman expressed regret at McGrath's death.

"The untimely passing of Howard McGrath, an old colleague and friend of mine, saddens me," Truman said.

Brandt For German Ties To Satellites

Bonn (UPI)—West German Social Democratic leader Willy Brandt called Saturday for the establishment of diplomatic relations with the country's eastern neighbors with no strings attached.

Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, was quoted by the Hamburger Abendblatt newspaper as saying that establishing diplomatic relations with eastern bloc countries would not run counter to the so-called Hallstein Doctrine.

Named after Walter Hallstein, formerly foreign ministry state secretary and now president of the European Economic Community Commission, the doctrine states that West Germany should recognize no country which has diplomatic relations with communist East Germany.

The Soviet Union, with which Bonn maintains diplomatic relations, has been the only exception from the rule.

Russian Accused Of Buying Secrets

Washington (UPI)—The United States accused a Soviet embassy official Friday of trying to buy U.S. space and military secrets from an American who collaborated with the FBI to thwart the plot.

Valentin A. Revin, 33, a third secretary at the embassy and one of its seven science officers, was ordered to leave the country immediately. He formerly was an exchange student at the University of California at Berkeley.

The State Department refused to disclose the name or other details about the American for a "good reason."

Paid $5,000

But other government sources said he was a Washington area scientist employed in a small business who was paid more than $5,000 for passing FBI-approved information to Revin at various "drops" around Washington.

Revin was assigned to the embassy June 26, 1963, and began working with the American early in 1965, government sources said, but did not ask for secret information until last fall.

Revin had told the American to buy a camera and photograph documents for film drops and to obtain a tape recorder for tape drops. He told the American to collect all possible material on the U.S. space program, with emphasis on the Surveyor moon shot.

In addition he asked for personal information on Defense Department scientists and data on U.S. aircraft.

Government sources said the American first was approached by a Soviet embassy official in 1961 and asked to provide certain scientific information. Another Russian took over the contact in 1964, but it was not until Revin returned from a trip to Moscow in the fall of 1965 that the American was asked to provide classified information.

Rail Strike Over, But Continues

Montreal (UPI)—Canada's week-long nationwide rail strike was officially over Friday, but railroaders by the thousands defied government and union orders and stayed home.

The rumbling discontent of many railroaders, ordered back to work by parliamentary legislation Thursday, grew throughout the day as train after train was first scheduled, then cancelled because crews failed to show.

Hardest hit areas were the west coast, where 10,000 men stayed away from work, and Montreal, a key railroading center of the country.

The Maritimes, Ontario and Winnipeg, Gateway to the Western Prairies and the U.S. Midwest, also reported resistance by railwaymen to Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's back-to-work law.

In an Ottawa news conference prior to his departure for the London Commonwealth prime ministers conference, Pearson said he was confident all the railroad workers would return to their jobs soon.

McGrath said he received the letter within a week after resigning and said it indicated his relations with Truman were on the "highest plane." He added that they had remained so through the years.

In Independence, Mo., Truman expressed regret at McGrath's death.

"The untimely passing of Howard McGrath, an old colleague and friend of mine, saddens me," Truman said.

Brandt For German Ties To Satellites

Bonn (UPI)—West German Social Democratic leader Willy Brandt called Saturday for the establishment of diplomatic relations with the country's eastern neighbors with no strings attached.

Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, was quoted by the Hamburger Abendblatt newspaper as saying that establishing diplomatic relations with eastern bloc countries would not run counter to the so-called Hallstein Doctrine.

Named after Walter Hallstein, formerly foreign ministry state secretary and now president of the European Economic Community Commission, the doctrine states that West Germany should recognize no country which has diplomatic relations with communist East Germany.

The Soviet Union, with which Bonn maintains diplomatic relations, has been the only exception from the rule.

Russian Accused Of Buying Secrets

Washington (UPI)—The United States accused a Soviet embassy official Friday of trying to buy U.S. space and military secrets from an American who collaborated with the FBI to thwart the plot.

Valentin A. Revin, 33, a third secretary at the embassy and one of its seven science officers, was ordered to leave the country immediately. He formerly was an exchange student at the University of California at Berkeley.

The State Department refused to disclose the name or other details about the American for a "good reason."

Paid $5,000

But other government sources said he was a Washington area scientist employed in a small business who was paid more than $5,000 for passing FBI-approved information to Revin at various "drops" around Washington.

Revin was assigned to the embassy June 26, 1963, and began working with the American early in 1965, government sources said, but did not ask for secret information until last fall.

Revin had told the American to buy a camera and photograph documents for film drops and to obtain a tape recorder for tape drops. He told the American to collect all possible material on the U.S. space program, with emphasis on the Surveyor moon shot.

In addition he asked for personal information on Defense Department scientists and data on U.S. aircraft.

Government sources said the American first was approached by a Soviet embassy official in 1961 and asked to provide certain scientific information. Another Russian took over the contact in 1964, but it was not until Revin returned from a trip to Moscow in the fall of 1965 that the American was asked to provide classified information.

Rail Strike Over, But Continues

Montreal (UPI)—Canada's week-long nationwide rail strike was officially over Friday, but railroaders by the thousands defied government and union orders and stayed home.

The rumbling discontent of many railroaders, ordered back to work by parliamentary legislation Thursday, grew throughout the day as train after train was first scheduled, then cancelled because crews failed to show.

Hardest hit areas were the west coast, where 10,000 men stayed away from work, and Montreal, a key railroading center of the country.

The Maritimes, Ontario and Winnipeg, Gateway to the Western Prairies and the U.S. Midwest, also reported resistance by railwaymen to Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's back-to-work law.

In an Ottawa news conference prior to his departure for the London Commonwealth prime ministers conference, Pearson said he was confident all the railroad workers would return to their jobs soon.

Plucky Orphaned Youngsters Determined To Pay Off Farm

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crab Orchard —Nobody knows how many ice cream socials and teenage dances and benefit ball games it took but Durwood and Leona Little's five kids are still together.

And, plucky youngsters that they are, they're still on the fourth-generation farm where they're determined to remain. Its rolling 210 acres are home more than ever, since both parents and two younger brothers lost their lives in a July 10 auto accident.

"I never wanted to do anything but farm here with dad," reflected Junior, whose boyish freckles bely the indepbedness and mansize responsibility he inherited at age 17. "Once I get through this last year of school, things should work out so we can stay together and pay off the place like the folks had planned."

The Lewiston High football prospect has lived all his young life on the attractive farm, as have Clara, 14; Roger, 13; Betty, 12; and Dallas, 10. They'd shared the thrill as a family when Durwood signed papers a couple years ago to "start buying" the place from his parents' estate

Aided By Relatives

Newly arrived from Bethany, Okla., to help fulfill that contract and the rearing of the five orphaned children are Mrs. Little's brother, Delbert Sargent, and his wife, LaVeta. They are guardians, according to the court's cold wording, but obviously sacrificial parents as well.

"The Sargents sold their home and furniture and he gave up a good job as postal clerk to come and look after the family," said L. E. Laflin, Crab Orchard cattleman who helped fan the flames of an incredibly successful fund drive. "Delbert grew up on a farm here himself, and he can make that place pay its way if anybody can."

Uncomplaining about their new role, the former campus sweethearts (Betheny Nazarene College) have just introduced the Littles to cousin-baby sister Lisa, 22 months. Cooking for eight is foreign to the small-family background of Ainsworth native LaVeta, but "Clara and Betty are real good dishwashers." ...

Sophomore Clara is in the midst of acknowledging a small mountain of letters and cards from "people we never even heard of." Clothing canned goods and other items seemingly have poured in from everywhere—including a load "from a Roca couple that must have solicited every house in town."

A trust fund at the Johnson County Bank and Beatrice First National has swelled to some $20,000 one donation coming even from the Congo. Building rapidly with contributions from the immediate area, its impetus continues from national publicity by the family's Methodist denomination.

Amazed By Gifts

"We had no idea people would open their hearts and pocketbooks like they have," said Laflin and his Lincoln sister, Mrs. Lois Bigsby. "At least a dozen towns staged some type of benefit, from Tecumseh's Jaycee auction to Crab Orchard's stand at the county fair. A widower with nine children sent $300, neighbors gave livestock, and teenage combos played all evening for free— it's been simply fantastic."

When will the drive end?

"Our only plan is to accept money as long as it keeps coming," said Laflin "When five kids are concerned, there will be a good place for every dollar."

Griffin Said Progressing; Still Serious

Aspen, Colo. (AP)—A 30-year-old former resident of Seward, Neb., James Griffin, slashed by a knife before his woman companion was killed early Wednesday, is reported making some progress at a hospital.

However, Griffin was reported Friday in still serious condition with wounds of the abdomen and chest.

Coroner Bernard Popish said an inquest might be held into the deaths of Gay Prior and Griffin's estranged wife, Sonja.

Miss Prior was stabbed in the heart in a surprise attack in an Aspen residence. Six hours later, the body of Mrs. Griffin was found on a road west of Aspen. She had been shot through the heart and a rifle lay nearby.

Authorities said Griffin and his wife separated after a quarrel two weeks ago.

Corn Progressing Toward 'Real Bumper Possibilities'

By United Press International

Nebraska corn growers, anticipating a bin-busting year, got more good news from government farm experts.

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported the corn crop appears to have come through August in "real good shape . . . it is very promising."

Arnold V. Nordquist, division chief, said some early planted fields in extreme southeast Nebraska were damaged by dry weather.

"However," he added, "aside from that, the corn is progressing toward real bumper possibilities. Some of the dryland corn is better than it has been in a long time."

Nordquist explained the division is presently processing August field reports for the September corn forecast, which will be announced Sept. 9.

Late Corn Surprises

"The crop is a little ahead of normal. Some of the late corn is actually turning out better than anticipated," he added.

Nordquist said about 5% of the crop has matured. Less than 20% has failed to reach the so-called dough stage.

The U.S. Agriculture Department on Aug. 1 estimated the Nebraska corn crop would produce 266,019,000 bushels at 63 bushels an acre —second highest yield on record.

"So far there has been nothing to indicate that this prediction won't hold up," Nordquist said.

Only a small portion of the corn was harmed during the critical pollinating stage. Most of the damage was to southern fields plagued by drought.

"Generally, weather conditions were favorable for good growth in August. It was a little cool in some parts but not enough to cause any great damage," Nordquist said.

Rains reversed dreary prospects in some northeast sections. An absence of hot, scorching temperatures in the west and central also helped.

Irrigated corn fields "look especially fine" and could establish some records of their own, according to the division.

Overall, Nordquist described the corn crop—dryland and irrigated—as "one of the best progressing, best looking in Nebraska corn history."

Ledford Charged With Forgery In Cattle Purchase

Kirksville, Mo (UPI)—Donald Dean Ledford, 30, was charged with forgery in connection with a $44,650 check to buy cattle in Alliance, Neb.

The check was given to the Alliance Livestock Auction Co. Aug. 19.

The check was written on a Green City, Mo., auction company. It was believed to be one of a number of cashier's checks stolen from that firm in a recent burglary.

Police said Ledford, of Kirksville, used the assumed name of Melvin D. Kemp and used Kemp credit cards to prove his identity.

The credit cards were believed stolen from Kemp's car at a Denver, Colo., service station.

A warrant for his arrest was issued in Box Butte County, Neb..

Ledford was arrested in Kirksville Tuesday on a charge of running a stop sign and driving with a suspended license.

Disaster Loan Offices Close

Omaha (UPI) — The temporary disaster loan offices in Columbus and St. Edward were closed Friday as a result of a tapering off of reqests for loan applications.

The temporary offices were opened to accommodate persons who suffered damages to homes and businesses in the August floods along the Loup, Cedar and Platte Rivers and tributaries.

As of Sept. 1, two applications for business loans and eight for home loans had been submitted. Applications have been distributed to 22 additional persons.

Disaster loan applications will be accepted until Feb. 28, 1967. In the future, interested persons are asked to write or visit the Omaha regional office at 215 North 17th Street, to obtain information and applications for disaster loans.

Terrytown Low-Cost Housing Plan Okayed

Washington (AP)—The Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a proposed 64-unit, low-cost housing project at Terrytown, Neb., and an application for a $12,800 preliminary planning loan is being processed, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., announced.

Twenty of the units would be for the elderly.

Child Stealing Charges Filed Against Three

Ainsworth (AP) — A missing person report filed here has led to the charging of three men with child stealing and also charges of giving false information to law officers against two of the men.

Missing since the night of Aug. 16, is Adella Whitley, 15, daughter of the Rev. William Whitley of Ainsworth, according to Brown County Sheriff Rusty Davis.

The sheriff's office subsequently arrested Bill Miller of Ainsworth and Bill Young of Long Pine and the pair has been charged with giving false information in connection with the missing girl.

County Attorney Sam Ely also filed charges of child stealing against Miller and Young and against George Lee Stiger of California, who is being sought. Sheriff Davis says he believes the girl to be with Stiger.

Dr. Jensen Dies; Lutheran Minister

Des Moines, Iowa (UPI)—Dr. Alfred Jensen, 73, a native of Denmark and former president of the American Evangelical Lutheran Church, died Thursday here.

He was president of the American Evangelical Lutheran Church from 1936 until his retirement in 1960. He also served as pastor of Lutheran churches in Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa.

Woman Dead, Three Hurt In Headon Crash

. . . During Rainstorm

Laurel (AP) — A 65-year-old Carroll woman was killed and three other persons injured in a two-car crash during a rainstorm on Highway 20, about 8.5 miles northeast of here late Thursday night.

State Trooper Kenneth Buoy identified the victim as Mrs. Anna Arp.

Injured and taken to a Sioux City, Iowa, hospital were Marie Arp, 39, daughter of the victim; Myron Brunning, 56, of Roy, Utah, and his wife, Marie, also 56. They were reported in fair condition Friday.

Buoy said the Arp car was headed west and the Brunning car east when they collided "during a hard rainstorm. The collision was almost headon," he added.

Young Omaha Negroes End Camp Experiment

Columbus (AP)— The game was rugged and nobody asked Arnold Dailey to play.

But Dailey stepped in at tackle, got smacked hard on the first couple of plays and came up grinning. Before it was over, they let him carry the ball.

That wasn't bad for a cop.

But that was what Dailey was here for, along with five other Omaha police officers: To take part in an experiment in community relations.

With the policemen were 58 young Negroes from Omaha's Near North Side. For them the five days at the YMCA camp were to be an experiment in "clean living," a test to see what youths from impoverished areas could get out of the kind of summer outing that many U.S. youngsters take for granted.

Result of Rioting

The experiment, at the YMCA's Camp Sheldon about 90 miles west of Omaha, is one of the things which has come in the wake of rioting by young Negroes of the Near North Side this summer.

There were no scheduled classes at the camp, no counselors and no assigned duties.

"The guys worked out their own power structure," said Sam Cornelius who headed the police-YMCA project. He is director of the Near North Side Y in Omaha.

"They had a fistfight the first day," he recalled. "Natural leaders emerged; they're stricter than any camp director could be.

"You'll notice the cabins are clean," said Cornelius. "Someone said clean cabins keep down the flies."

For two days there was not much mixing between the boys and the policemen. The boys didn't want the buddy treatment and didn't get it.

On the third day, Policemen Bob Iltzsch caught a fish—a four-pounder—in a spot where the boys had been angling without success.

That broke the ice.

Discussed Housing

Late that night there was a knock on the door of the officers' cabin. Fifteen boys had come to talk to Capt. Monroe Coleman about condemned housing—a problem in some ramshackle sections of the Near North Side.

The talk turned to other things—football and Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears star who hails from Omaha.

The camping session broke up Friday and nobody was ready to say how much had been accomplished.

But as Policeman Carl Vaccaro said, "At least we've found that these boys aren't all tough. They have a human side, they like to have fun. I think they found out the same thing about us."

Corn Progressing Toward 'Real Bumper Possibilities'

By United Press International

Nebraska corn growers, anticipating a bin-busting year, got more good news from government farm experts.

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported the corn crop appears to have come through August in "real good shape . . . it is very promising."

Arnold V. Nordquist, division chief, said some early planted fields in extreme southeast Nebraska were damaged by dry weather.

"However," he added, "aside from that, the corn is progressing toward real bumper possibilities. Some of the dryland corn is better than it has been in a long time."

Nordquist explained the division is presently processing August field reports for the September corn forecast, which will be announced Sept. 9.

Late Corn Surprises

"The crop is a little ahead of normal. Some of the late corn is actually turning out better than anticipated," he added.

Nordquist said about 5% of the crop has matured. Less than 20% has failed to reach the so-called dough stage.

The U.S. Agriculture Department on Aug. 1 estimated the Nebraska corn crop would produce 266,019,000 bushels at 63 bushels an acre —second highest yield on record.

"So far there has been nothing to indicate that this prediction won't hold up," Nordquist said.

Only a small portion of the corn was harmed during the critical pollinating stage. Most of the damage was to southern fields plagued by drought.

"Generally, weather conditions were favorable for good growth in August. It was a little cool in some parts but not enough to cause any great damage," Nordquist said.

Rains reversed dreary prospects in some northeast sections. An absence of hot, scorching temperatures in the west and central also helped.

Irrigated corn fields "look especially fine" and could establish some records of their own, according to the division.

Overall, Nordquist described the corn crop—dryland and irrigated—as "one of the best progressing, best looking in Nebraska corn history."

Ledford Charged With Forgery In Cattle Purchase

Kirksville, Mo (UPI)—Donald Dean Ledford, 30, was charged with forgery in connection with a $44,650 check to buy cattle in Alliance, Neb.

The check was given to the Alliance Livestock Auction Co. Aug. 19.

The check was written on a Green City, Mo., auction company. It was believed to be one of a number of cashier's checks stolen from that firm in a recent burglary.

Police said Ledford, of Kirksville, used the assumed name of Melvin D. Kemp and used Kemp credit cards to prove his identity.

The credit cards were believed stolen from Kemp's car at a Denver, Colo., service station.

A warrant for his arrest was issued in Box Butte County, Neb..

Ledford was arrested in Kirksville Tuesday on a charge of running a stop sign and driving with a suspended license.

Disaster Loan Offices Close

Omaha (UPI) — The temporary disaster loan offices in Columbus and St. Edward were closed Friday as a result of a tapering off of reqests for loan applications.

The temporary offices were opened to accommodate persons who suffered damages to homes and businesses in the August floods along the Loup, Cedar and Platte Rivers and tributaries.

As of Sept. 1, two applications for business loans and eight for home loans had been submitted. Applications have been distributed to 22 additional persons.

Disaster loan applications will be accepted until Feb. 28, 1967. In the future, interested persons are asked to write or visit the Omaha regional office at 215 North 17th Street, to obtain information and applications for disaster loans.

Terrytown Low-Cost Housing Plan Okayed

Washington (AP)—The Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a proposed 64-unit, low-cost housing project at Terrytown, Neb., and an application for a $12,800 preliminary planning loan is being processed, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., announced.

Twenty of the units would be for the elderly.

Child Stealing Charges Filed Against Three

Ainsworth (AP) — A missing person report filed here has led to the charging of three men with child stealing and also charges of giving false information to law officers against two of the men.

Missing since the night of Aug. 16, is Adelia Whitley, 15, daughter of the Rev. William Whitley of Ainsworth, according to Brown County Sheriff Rusty Davis.

The sheriff's office subsequently arrested Bill Miller of Ainsworth and Bill Young of Long Pine and the pair has been charged with giving false information in connection with the missing girl.

County Attorney Sam Ely also filed charges of child stealing against Miller and Young and against George Lee Stiger of California, who is being sought. Sheriff Davis says he believes the girl to be with Stiger.

Dr. Jensen Dies; Lutheran Minister

Des Moines, Iowa (UPI)—Dr. Alfred Jensen, 73, a native of Denmark and former president of the American Evangelical Lutheran Church, died Thursday here.

He was president of the American Evangelical Lutheran Church from 1936 until his retirement in 1960. He also served as pastor of Lutheran churches in Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa.

$1,200 Four-Year Scholarship Told

A four-year $1,200 scholarship has been established by the Nebraska Dairy Technology Society at the University of Nebraska Foundation.

It will be awarded this school year to a freshman in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics whose major interest is in dairy products or food science.

Both Morrison, Curtis Will Speak To Broadcasters

The Nebraska Broadcasters Association said Gov. Frank Morrison and U.S Sen. Carl T. Curtis will speak at the association's annual convention in Norfolk Sept. 18-20.

Sen. Curtis will appear on Sept. 19 and Gov. Morrison the following day.

Representatives of some 60 radio and television stations and allied industries from throughout the state as well as delegates from similar associations in neigboring states are expected to attend.

Woman Dead, Three Hurt In Headon Crash

. . . During Rainstorm

Laurel (AP) — A 65-year-old Carroll woman was killed and three other persons injured in a two-car crash during a rainstorm on Highway 20, about 8.5 miles northeast of here late Thursday night.

State Trooper Kenneth Buoy identified the victim as Mrs. Anna Arp.

Injured and taken to a Sioux City, Iowa, hospital were Marie Arp, 39, daughter of the victim; Myron Brunning, 56, of Roy, Utah, and his wife, Marie, also 56. They were reported in fair condition Friday.

Buoy said the Arp car was headed west and the Brunning car east when they collided "during a hard rainstorm. The collision was almost headon," he added.

Young Omaha Negroes End Camp Experiment

Columbus (AP)— The game was rugged and nobody asked Arnold Dailey to play.

But Dailey stepped in at tackle, got smacked hard on the first couple of plays and came up grinning. Before it was over, they let him carry the ball.

That wasn't bad for a cop.

But that was what Dailey was here for, along with five other Omaha police officers: To take part in an experiment in community relations.

With the policemen were 58 young Negroes from Omaha's Near North Side. For them the five days at the YMCA camp were to be an experiment in "clean living," a test to see what youths from impoverished areas could get out of the kind of summer outing that many U.S. youngsters take for granted.

Result of Rioting

The experiment, at the YMCA's Camp Sheldon about 90 miles west of Omaha, is one of the things which has come in the wake of rioting by young Negroes of the Near North Side this summer.

There were no scheduled classes at the camp, no counselors and no assigned duties.

"The guys worked out their own power structure," said Sam Cornelius who headed the police-YMCA project. He is director of the Near North Side Y in Omaha.

"They had a fistfight the first day," he recalled. "Natural leaders emerged; they're stricter than any camp director could be.

"You'll notice the cabins are clean," said Cornelius. "Someone said clean cabins keep down the flies."

For two days there was not much mixing between the boys and the policemen. The boys didn't want the buddy treatment and didn't get it.

On the third day, Policemen Bob Iltzsch caught a fish—a four-pounder—in a spot where the boys had been angling without success.

That broke the ice.

Discussed Housing

Late that night there was a knock on the door of the officers' cabin. Fifteen boys had come to talk to Capt. Monroe Coleman about condemned housing—a problem in some ramshackle sections of the Near North Side.

The talk turned to other things—football and Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears star who hails from Omaha.

The camping session broke up Friday and nobody was ready to say how much had been accomplished.

But as Policeman Carl Vaccaro said, "At least we've found that these boys aren't all tough. They have a human side, they like to have fun. I think they found out the same thing about us."

Petition Drive For Doyle Starts

Omaha (AP)—A drive has been started to place the name of Thomas D. Doyle on the Nov. 8 election ballot as a petition candidate for county assessor.

Doyle is a planning engineer at the Western Electric Omaha Works.

Republican Joseph C. Stolinski who now holds the office is seeking re-election. James Donahue is the Democratic candidate.

A World Of Variety

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One of the amazing things about the world is its infinite variety. It is full of happiness and disappointment, good and evil, rich and poor and a multitude of things in between. Even your own city is never the same from day to day. The first of the week it was hot and dry but the end of the week came on, still hot, but rainy and wet.

Determining Use

Earlier in the week, city officials still had a lot of unfinished business at the Lincoln Air Force Base. By Thursday evening it had been settled—the city received the rights of entry it has long been negotiating for and the Lincoln Housing Authority arrived at an agreement with the federal government for the operation of the 1,000 housing units at the base. It is the latter situation that is of immediate concern to some people. It will be up to the authority to put the housing to its best use at the least interference with the market in the city in general.

This the authority intends to do, according to its chairman, Kenneth King. With rentals ranging from $70 to $250 per month, it would appear as though the housing will not be undercutting rentals in town and discouraging sales of new homes. Further, the units will be rented with some selectivity with regard to tenants.

King has placed the emphasis on rentals to Job Corps personnel, university students, military dependents and the elderly. Thus, the housing has promise of filling a real community need without doing serious damage to the local rental and sales market.

As to other aspects of the base, the way is now cleared for its development by the city and the Airport Authority. The mayor of Lincoln, Dean Petersen, said that the base deactivation, its economic impact upon our community and disposition negotiations with the government have been the major headaches of his administration. This is not hard to believe and the mayor and others who have worked with him on this project have earned the sincere thanks of the people of Lincoln. Unfortunately, it is not the end of the line for Mayor Petersen now that he has concluded things with Uncle Sam, a fact with which he is well aware. It is likely that the really tough job is still ahead.

This tough job will be finding a use for the sprawling former air base. In the base property and facilities, the city has a tremendous potentiality, but unrealized potentiality is of no value. It provides no payroll and no economic stimulation to the city. In this regard, the mayor and City Council have a most serious responsibility. This responsibility is to see to it that the development of the base proceeds along practical and efficient lines. Thus, if the city engages in some of the studies that have been suggested for the base, it should do so with a clear understanding of their absolute ability to implement whatever findings there are. Another study that lies on a shelf gathering dust is going to earn for city officials condemnation, not thanks.

For more variety in the world, one might consider the case of Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe. Governor Volpe has been told to be quiet and is taking it, quite a thing for any politician, particularly in an election year. In fact, the governor has been ordered not to utter a word for three to four days.

The governor is complying because the order comes from his doctor. The official is suffering from laryngitis. How many gags have been built around that theme! All of us probably have our favorite nominee for a good case of laryngitis. But be careful; someone you least suspect might have your name in mind.

Home Of His Own

People make up this varied world in which we live—people and their circumstances. There is the case in Tennessee, for instance, of a 14-year-old boy who lived in the city's storm sewers for two years. The boy has been found by authorities to have been psychologically and physically secure in his strange home. The boy had been arrested several times since 1960 but each time he was hustled from agency to agency and finally ended up on his own again. The trouble in Memphis, said a juvenile court probation officer, is that we have plenty of diagnostic facilities, but no place for a kid to go after he's been diagnosed.

It sort of points up the fact that we can get a little too expert and professional in our affairs if we are not careful. The best advice and guidance in the world aren't worth much if there is no following up on it, no way of putting it into practice. Authorities now promise that the boy, cute, with a good sense of humor and a winning way, will now get the help he needs.

Homeowner Wins One

Taking it on the chin most of the time, area homeowners won a round in District Court this week. They won when District Court Judge Bartlett Boyles ruled that escrow accounts held by two Lincoln savings and loan associations were not taxable as intangible property.

The county had placed these funds on the tax rolls in light of an attorney general's ruling that they were the property of homeowners who paid them into the association as advance payment of taxes, etc. But Judge Boyles ruled that the funds were the property of the associations and not escrow accounts under Nebraska law.

The attorney general's ruling was one we originally considered to be a stretch of the imagination. This money is paid by a borrower and then he never sees it again. It is not money held, in the tradition of escrow accounts, until such time as the true owner wants it or until conditions for its release have been fulfilled.

The money never reverts back to the person who has paid it in but simply goes to pay taxes and whatever charges are made against it. To tax it in escrow would be to charge a tax against money paid as taxes. It would mean paying a penalty for paying your taxes in advance. That has no legal ring to it and certainly makes no sense.

As the property of a savings and loan association, the funds in question are exempt under state law. The big question was their legal ownership and Judge Boyles has settled that intelligently and equitably.

A Tribal Attitude

A jet flight at this time of year from the arid Southwest to Lincoln is educational like nothing else.

The great space is spanned in just a few hours. One enplanes in the bright morning sunshine amid scenes of cactus, palm trees and flowers, with great surroundings of desert, and by noon is in rain drenched Lincoln, beautiful in all directions, but oppressively humid.

One of the great differences, one senses, is in the tribal attitudes toward water. Nebraska has a great abundance, both from the sky and from the ground, but uses it in a niggardly manner. California has only enough for where people dwell. But what little it has it uses abundantly, spends billions to pipe it around and asserts that the future, somehow, will provide much more, from the sea or from some other region. Arizona worries constantly about its lack of water, is not sure it will ever get more, but like California it drenches selected spots.

Nebraska has not realized yet what a bountiful resource it possesses. If the rain does not fall at the right moment in July we have drought and damaged agricultural production. It has been that way since the beginning. Yet a few feet down in the ground is the perpetual answer to summer's scenic beauty and to ever normal production. And we don't use it.

This is a great country for zinnias, petunias and marigolds because they flourish largely without care. That is because in terms of water we are a miserly millionaire. We could do infinitely better by turning on a few water faucets. It is ridiculous for this country to concern itself over drought. Drought has to be contrived here and we do rather well at that.

Communities are like girls. The wanted ones, the pretty ones, embellish their resources and always look well. The ones who do not get few dates. Nebraska needs to pretty itself and has everything to do that with except the desire.

Editorial Of The Day

Enhancing The Egg

From The Christian Science Monitor

At the present moment shoppers appear far more concerned about the price tag on the egg carton than about the aesthetic appeal of the container. But it may not always be so. Cornell University Experiment Station is in fact preparing for more artistic days ahead when the discriminating supermarket shopper will choose his eggs not only with a view to their cost and quality but with an eye to the color of their mounting. Does the buyer prefer his eggs set in a container of pink, white, yellow or aqua? The experiment station recently set out to find the answer.

Its procedures were in the best experiment-station tradition. The study was made in a supermarket in central New York where buyers purchased an average of 1,200 dozen large eggs per week. They were given equal opportunity to choose among containers of four colors: "White . . . color of egg shells, associated with purity; yellow, color of yolks and of sunshine; pink, an appetizing color; and aqua, a mixture of blue . . . color of distinction, and of green, associated with nature, freshness and go."

Aqua won, with pink a close second. This confirmed a similar study made by Cornell University 10 years ago which showed aqua the favorite.

Will the tinted trays cost more? Probably. The study does not say but it notes "harsh, unimaginitave colors" of present egg cartons are found because carton manufacturers use whatever colors are most economical for their production practices. Even with food prices rising, there would no doubt be many customers who would pay a small premium for aqua containers to place in their pink-tinted refrigerators. But they should realize that an egg is still an egg, no fresher for its pretty bed. A date on the carton could be more reassuring.

The Startling Rise In Interest Rates

WASHINGTON—President Johnson of Johnson City, Texas, and Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana, Texas, are old friends. On the vital problem of high interest rates, however, the congressman from Texarkana wishes that his old friend in the White House, or at least his secretary of the treasury, would clobber the Federal Reserve Board the way Harry Truman did.

"There is nothing in the Federal Reserve Act which requires it to be independent of the Treasury," Patman recalls. "And, in the past, John Snyder, secretary of the treasury for Truman, kept hammering at the Federal Reserve Board to keep interest rates down.

Congressman Patman pulled a sheet of paper out of his desk. It gave a list of interest rates which the government was paying on its bonds and short-term loans in 1946 under Truman as compared with 1966, 20 years later, under Johnson. The figures showed that interest rates in some cases have gone up nearly 1,200 per cent.

"Between 1941 and 1946," Patman pointed out, "the Treasury was paying ⅜ of 1 per cent interest on short-term loans. Today the government is paying 5.04 per cent.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Do you know what that costs the taxpayer?" the congressman asked. "In 1946 it cost him $3,750 to borrow a million dollars. In 1966 it cost him $50,480 to borrow one million. In other words, it's costing nearly 13 times more."

High grade municipal bonds in 1946 bore an interest rate of 1.64 per cent, according to Patman's research sheet. Twenty years later the rate had gone up to 4.14 per cent.

Patman said that it was George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury under Eisenhower, who first started the trend toward high interest rates. In April, 1953, he raised the interest on long-term government bonds to 3.25 per cent, from a previous 2.5 per cent under Truman.

"Humphrey was doing what the bankers had long wanted, but which Truman vetoed—boosting their profits. The increases Humphrey put across cost the American taxpayers about one billion dollars in the interest on the national debt alone.

☆ ☆ ☆

"However, Humphrey was not as bad as the man who succeeded him, Bob Anderson. He gave the bankers everything they wanted. The interest rate on the national debt has since gone up to 11 billion a year."

I asked if the Federal Reserve had not raised interest rates in order to combat inflation. Patman scoffed.

"It's like pouring gasoline on a fire," he said. "It makes prices higher, not lower. The guidelines on wages and hours are supposed to be kept at 3.2 per cent. But last December the interest rate went up from 4 to 5½. That's an increase of 37.5 per cent in one month—a long way from staying within the guidelines.

"The Fed upped the interest rates to help out the big New York banks which were in a squeeze on their time deposits."

Congressman Patman pointed out that the 1946 Employment Act under which the government operates to stabilize the economy specifies "coordinated" action. Coordination, he said, should include not only the Fed, but the Treasury, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Home Loan Bank Board and the comptroller of the currency.

Crime Show Attracted No Interested Sponsor

WASHINGTON — There is one facet to the National Broadcasting System's recent documentary on organized crime that may be as disturbing as anything that was shown during its 3½ hours of prime TV time: NBC salesmen were unable to sell one commercial spot in it.

And it wasn't because they didn't try. They pursued potential advertisers until just before air time. However, much to NBC's surprise, there were no takers.

Not only that, but as is standard practice for "specials," NBC gave regular sponsors of pre-empted shows the option of sponsoring the crime show or "staying out." Every single one of the pre-empted sponsors decided to stay out.

This despite the fact that the "White Paper" on crime had a rating of 29 per cent of the television audience that night. Translated into people, NBC estimates that the show went into 15 million homes and may have been seen by up to 35 million persons. Sponsors could have had this outsized audience at the regular commercial rates for that time period.

This information was given to this reporter in a long-distance telephone interview by Sid Eiges, an NBC spokesman in New York City. He was called when we noticed the astounding lack of commercials on the show as broadcast over the NBC station in Washington. Here, there was but one commercial, for a mouthwash.

"If the Washington station had a commercial, it was sold locally." Eiges said. "Our sales office couldn't do anything with the show, a fact we found very disappointing. The 'organized crime' documentary was intended as a public service, but not a nonsponsored public service."

Eiges said the special cost up to $500,000 to produce and, originally, NBC had hoped to recover that and make a profit. In reply to a question as to why sponsors were so strangely reluctant to insert their messages in a show with such obvious audience potential, Eiges said he had no explanation.

Informed of this oddity, several congressmen are wondering if organized crime is so entrenched in our society that a TV show about it cannot find sponsors. Perhaps, as one suggested, sponsors were afraid of offending vast numbers of people who, subconsciously or otherwise, are in sympathy with the crooks.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

The political season opens this weekend with the State Fair.

Walton

The candidates now have 66 days to cement their leads or to catch up. They'll have a crack at those huge fair mobs this weekend, then just nine weeks to hit the road and win it all.

Where do the major candidates stand today as they head into autumn?

We asked that question of key leaders of both parties and, assuring them that their answers were not for attribution, we think the concensus of replies should come rather close to depicting the true picture.

Some of the responses were based on recent private party and candidate polls and surveys.

But we emphasize that the question was aimed at determining current strength and not with an eye toward forecasting the winners on November 8.

Here we go:

SENATE: Senator Curtis is considered the current, but slight, favorite over Governor Morrison. Republican leaders remain universally confident that Curtis will win it, and most think he will win it comfortably in November. Democrats are counting on the Morrison magic to give them their first Senate victory in 32 years, and they think he can catch up and move ahead this fall once the two candidates have both hit the Nebraska campaign trail full-time.

GOVERNOR: Nobby Tiemann is still considered to be the front-runner in his contest with Phil Sorensen, but leaders in both parties believe Sorensen has narrowed the gap during the summer months. One key Republican official predicts a tight scrap, come election day—but most GOP leaders think Tiemann will now begin to widen the gap again. Democrats believe Sorensen can win it if he can continue to eat into the presumed Tiemann margin at the same pace he has established during the summer.

CONGRESS, FIRST DISTRICT: Clair Callan still carries the favorite's tag over Bob Denney. Republican leaders generally agree that Callan is ahead today, and only some of them think he can be caught. Democrats are counting on Callan as their strongest nominee and remain confident that he will be the first Democrat in 30 years to win a consecutive term in the House. But close Denney supporters think Callan can still be had if their man can cut deeply into the congressman's Lincoln strength.

CONGRESS, SECOND DISTRICT: Glenn Cunningham is considered a strong favorite over Dick Fellman, but one Republican leader has hoisted the warning flag. Fellman has made some inroads and cannot be counted out of this one, the GOP'er believes.

CONGRESS, THIRD DISTRICT: Republicans and Democrats alike agree that Dave Martin is a shoo-in to win a fourth term in his contest with John Homan.

Remember now, those aren't forecasts.

Okay?

A glance at the political calendar will confirm that the campaign is under way in earnest.

This month you can choose among Sen. Thruston Morton at a GOP fund-raiser in Lincoln on the 14th; the Morrison fund-raiser in Lincoln on the 17th; the Democratic state convention in Lincoln on the 18th; the Republican state convention and a fund-raiser featuring Richard Nixon in Omaha on the 23rd, and the Sorensen fund-raising dinner with Governor Connally of Texas in Omaha on the 27th.

Later, Vice President Humphrey and Sen. Edward Kennedy will come to the state to plug for certain Democratic nominees.

Possible other visitors include President Johnson and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall.

☆ ☆ ☆

With apologies to Nebraska's public power leaders, who may not think it very funny, we repeat the proposed new slogan for the state's public power industry: "Black Power."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Signs And Warnings Of Depression

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will call a special session of Congress after the November 8 election to put forward a tax increase and in all probability to request a supplemental appropriated of many billions of dollars to pay for the Viet Nam war. This is the growing conviction of a number of senators who are making their plans accordingly.

A poker player holding his cards as close to his vest as possible, the President is keeping his intentions a tight secret. An obsession with him is to retain every option to the very last minute, and thus goes for the smallest details — the date and even the hour of a political speech—as well as the great decisions. The surest way to win his disfavor, those around him have discovered to their sorrow, is to drop the slightest hint about the future.

Whether he can wait until after November 8 to take the steps that seem so urgently required to put restraints on the economy and on the spiraling interest rate is what some members of Congress are asking. They fear that the price rise, coupled with the credit squeeze, will start a slide that cannot be checked if action is put off until mid-November or early December.

If the schedule now contemplated is followed, Congress will adjourn around October 1. It is possible, however, that the session will drag on well into October, and the leaders would then call for a recess and a return after November 8. This would get the President out from under the blame for calling a special session.

With only four to six weeks more of the present session, this leaves hardly time enough to pass a tax bill in view of the backlog of other legislation that must move through the congressional mill. And the autocrat of the tax process, Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee, could readily invoke a veto on the issue of time alone.

In his sorties around the country, Johnson is telling the crowds that they never had it so good. He spins off figures to show that while prices may have risen a little, incomes have far outpaced the price rise. At times the President sounds as though he were trying to convince himself as well as the crowds that all is for the best in the best possible of worlds.

There are precedents for this kind of response to a time of economic uncertainty. In 1930, after the mirage of the stock-market boom had collapsed a year before, Herbert Hoover kept assuring the country that all was well if the people would count their blessings and have confidence in the health of the economy.

Despite the continuing dramatic decline of the stock market today, no one would suggest an analogy with that eve of catastrophe. Unemployment has dropped below the 4 per cent that was considered a level that could be lived with. Many areas have in recent months reported a shortage of workers with a minimum of training. The wholesale price index has begun to drop.

Yet warning signs cannot be ignored. The money squeeze has sent home construction plummeting. The real estate market is slowed. A record inventory of cars on hand coincides with the start of the new model year.

In his rare public statement suggesting the danger of a recession or a depression, Harry S. Truman spoke the fears of a great many people, including members of Congress. Truman has roots in the populism of the West and his voice, like that of Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee and Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, is raised against the greed of the bankers for whom the money squeeze is a bonanza. They see the small farmer and small businessman flattened out and a recession, or even a depression, growing out of this pincers movement.

While this may be no more than a reflex out of a vanished past, it is nevertheless a concern widely shared. And, demonstrably, the President's appeals to industry, bankers and trade unions for restraint are having no effect. Voluntarism—and this was a grim lesson of 1929 and after—never has worked.

In terms of his own timing, the present is an interlude which the President must count on his luck to get through. In the conventional view, a tax increase on the eve of an election is poison for the party in power. Democrats running in marginal House districts would hate to have to vote for an increase, since they know the Republican opposition will say economy is the answer.

So Johnson falls back on the rhetoric of you've never had it so good. If the line holds without too much damage until mid-November, he will indeed be in luck. In the meantime, the Bureau of the Budget is working up a massive program for rehabilitation of the cities. That is to be the cornerstone of the President's State of the Union message in January calculated to take the curse off a tax increase.

In the Senate and House, those who had planned vacations or inspection trips to faraway places are not happy at the prospect of coming back in November or December. But under the circumstances, they will have no choice.

A World Of Variety

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One of the amazing things about the world is its infinite variety. It is full of happiness and disappointment, good and evil, rich and poor and a multitude of things in between. Even your own city is never the same from day to day. The first of the week it was hot and dry but the end of the week came on, still hot, but rainy and wet.

Determining Use

Earlier in the week, city officials still had a lot of unfinished business at the Lincoln Air Force Base. By Thursday evening it had been settled—the city received the rights of entry it has long been negotiating for and the Lincoln Housing Authority arrived at an agreement with the federal government for the operation of the 1,000 housing units at the base. It is the latter situation that is of immediate concern to some people. It will be up to the authority to put the housing to its best use at the least interference with the market in the city in general.

This the authority intends to do, according to its chairman, Kenneth King. With rentals ranging from $70 to $250 per month, it would appear as though the housing will not be undercutting rentals in town and discouraging sales of new homes. Further, the units will be rented with some selectivity with regard to tenants.

King has placed the emphasis on rentals to Job Corps personnel, university students, military dependents and the elderly. Thus, the housing has promise of filling a real community need without doing serious damage to the local rental and sales market.

As to other aspects of the base, the way is now cleared for its development by the city and the Airport Authority. The mayor of Lincoln, Dean Petersen, said that the base deactivation, its economic impact upon our community and disposition negotiations with the government have been the major headaches of his administration. This is not hard to believe and the mayor and others who have worked with him on this project have earned the sincere thanks of the people of Lincoln. Unfortunately, it is not the end of the line for Mayor Petersen now that he has concluded things with Uncle Sam, a fact with which he is well aware. It is likely that the really tough job is still ahead.

This tough job will be finding a use for the sprawling former air base. In the base property and facilities, the city has a tremendous potentiality, but unrealized potentiality is of no value. It provides no payroll and no economic stimulation to the city. In this regard, the mayor and City Council have a most serious responsibility. This responsibility is to see to it that the development of the base proceeds along practical and efficient lines. Thus, if the city engages in some of the studies that have been suggested for the base, it should do so with a clear understanding of their absolute ability to implement whatever findings there are. Another study that lies on a shelf gathering dust is going to earn for city officials condemnation, not thanks.

For more variety in the world, one might consider the case of Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe. Governor Volpe has been told to be quiet and is taking it, quite a thing for any politician, particularly in an election year. In fact, the governor has been ordered not to utter a word for three to four days.

The governor is complying because the order comes from his doctor. The official is suffering from laryngitis. How many gags have been built around that theme! All of us probably have our favorite nominee for a good case of laryngitis. But be careful; someone you least suspect might have your name in mind.

Home Of His Own

People make up this varied world in which we live—people and their circumstances. There is the case in Tennessee, for instance, of a 14-year-old boy who lived in the city's storm sewers for two years. The boy has been found by authorities to have been psychologically and physically secure in his strange home. The boy had been arrested several times since 1960 but each time he was hustled from agency to agency and finally ended up on his own again. The trouble in Memphis, said a juvenile court probation officer, is that we have plenty of diagnostic facilities, but no place for a kid to go after he's been diagnosed.

It sort of points up the fact that we can get a little too expert and professional in our affairs if we are not careful. The best advice and guidance in the world aren't worth much if there is no following up on it, no way of putting it into practice. Authorities now promise that the boy, cute, with a good sense of humor and a winning way, will now get the help he needs.

Homeowner Wins One

Taking it on the chin most of the time, area homeowners won a round in District Court this week. They won when District Court Judge Bartlett Boyles ruled that escrow accounts held by two Lincoln savings and loan associations were not taxable as intangible property.

The county had placed these funds on the tax rolls in light of an attorney general's ruling that they were the property of homeowners who paid them into the association as advance payment of taxes, etc. But Judge Boyles ruled that the funds were the property of the associations and not escrow accounts under Nebraska law.

The attorney general's ruling was one we originally considered to be a stretch of the imagination. This money is paid by a borrower and then he never sees it again. It is not money held, in the tradition of escrow accounts, until such time as the true owner wants it or until conditions for its release have been fulfilled.

The money never reverts back to the person who has paid it in but simply goes to pay taxes and whatever charges are made against it. To tax it in escrow would be to charge a tax against money paid as taxes. It would mean paying a penalty for paying your taxes in advance. That has no legal ring to it and certainly makes no sense.

As the property of a savings and loan association, the funds in question are exempt under state law. The big question was their legal ownership and Judge Boyles has settled that intelligently and equitably.

A Tribal Attitude

A jet flight at this time of year from the arid Southwest to Lincoln is educational like nothing else.

The great space is spanned in just a few hours. One enplanes in the bright morning sunshine amid scenes of cactus, palm trees and flowers, with great surroundings of desert, and by noon is in rain drenched Lincoln, beautiful in all directions, but oppressively humid.

One of the great differences, one senses, is in the tribal attitudes toward water. Nebraska has a great abundance, both from the sky and from the ground, but uses it in a niggardly manner. California has only enough for where people dwell. But what little it has it uses abundantly, spends billions to pipe it around and asserts that the future, somehow, will provide much more, from the sea or from some other region. Arizona worries constantly about its lack of water, is not sure it will ever get more, but like California it drenches selected spots.

Nebraska has not realized yet what a bountiful resource it possesses. If the rain does not fall at the right moment in July we have drought and damaged agricultural production. It has been that way since the beginning. Yet a few feet down in the ground is the perpetual answer to summer's scenic beauty and to ever normal production. And we don't use it.

This is a great country for zinnias, petunias and marigolds because they flourish largely without care. That is because in terms of water we are a miserly millionaire. We could do infinitely better by turning on a few water faucets. It is ridiculous for this country to concern itself over drought. Drought has to be contrived here and we do rather well at that.

Communities are like girls. The wanted ones, the pretty ones, embellish their resources and always look well. The ones who do not get few dates. Nebraska needs to pretty itself and has everything to do that with except the desire.

Enhancing The Egg

From The Christian Science Monitor

At the present moment shoppers appear far more concerned about the price tag on the egg carton than about the aesthetic appeal of the container. But it may not always be so. Cornell University Experiment Station is in fact preparing for more artistic days ahead when the discriminating supermarket shopper will choose his eggs not only with a view to their cost and quality but with an eye to the color of their mounting. Does the buyer prefer his eggs set in a container of pink, white, yellow or aqua? The experiment station recently set out to find the answer.

Its procedures were in the best experiment-station tradition. The study was made in a supermarket in central New York where buyers purchased an average of 1,200 dozen large eggs per week. They were given equal opportunity to choose among containers of four colors: "White . . . color of egg shells, associated with purity; yellow, color of yolks and of sunshine; pink, an appetizing color; and aqua, a mixture of blue . . . color of distinction, and of green, associated with nature, freshness and go."

Aqua won, with pink a close second. This confirmed a similar study made by Cornell University 10 years ago which showed aqua the favorite.

Will the tinted trays cost more? Probably. The study does not say but it notes "harsh, unimaginitave colors" of present egg cartons are found because carton manufacturers use whatever colors are most economical for their production practices. Even with food prices rising, there would no doubt be many customers who would pay a small premium for aqua containers to place in their pink-tinted refrigerators. But they should realize that an egg is still an egg, no fresher for its pretty bed. A date on the carton could be more reassuring.

The Startling Rise In Interest Rates

WASHINGTON—President Johnson of Johnson City, Texas, and Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana, Texas, are old friends. On the vital problem of high interest rates, however, the congressman from Texarkana wishes that his old friend in the White House, or at least his secretary of the treasury, would clobber the Federal Reserve Board the way Harry Truman did.

"There is nothing in the Federal Reserve Act which requires it to be independent of the Treasury," Patman recalls. "And, in the past, John Snyder, secretary of the treasury for Truman, kept hammering at the Federal Reserve Board to keep interest rates down.

Congressman Patman pulled a sheet of paper out of his desk. It gave a list of interest rates which the government was paying on its bonds and short-term loans in 1946 under Truman as compared with 1966, 20 years later, under Johnson. The figures showed that interest rates in some cases have gone up nearly 1,200 per cent.

"Between 1941 and 1946," Patman pointed out, "the Treasury was paying ⅜ of 1 per cent interest on short-term loans. Today the government is paying 5.04 per cent.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Do you know what that costs the taxpayer?" the congressman asked. "In 1946 it cost him $3,750 to borrow a million dollars. In 1966 it cost him $50,480 to borrow one million. In other words, it's costing nearly 13 times more."

High grade municipal bonds in 1946 bore an interest rate of 1.64 per cent, according to Patman's research sheet. Twenty years later the rate had gone up to 4.14 per cent.

Patman said that it was George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury under Eisenhower, who first started the trend toward high interest rates. In April, 1953, he raised the interest on long-term government bonds to 3.25 per cent, from a previous 2.5 per cent under Truman.

"Humphrey was doing what the bankers had long wanted, but which Truman vetoed—boosting their profits. The increases Humphrey put across cost the American taxpayers about one billion dollars in the interest on the national debt alone.

☆ ☆ ☆

"However, Humphrey was not as bad as the man who succeeded him, Bob Anderson. He gave the bankers everything they wanted. The interest rate on the national debt has since gone up to 11 billion a year."

I asked if the Federal Reserve had not raised interest rates in order to combat inflation. Patman scoffed.

"It's like pouring gasoline on a fire," he said. "It makes prices higher, not lower. The guidelines on wages and hours are supposed to be kept at 3.2 per cent. But last December the interest rate went up from 4 to 5½. That's an increase of 37.5 per cent in one month—a long way from staying within the guidelines.

"The Fed upped the interest rates to help out the big New York banks which were in a squeeze on their time deposits."

Congressman Patman pointed out that the 1946 Employment Act under which the government operates to stabilize the economy specifies "coordinated" action. Coordination, he said, should include not only the Fed, but the Treasury, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Home Loan Bank Board and the comptroller of the currency.

Crime Show Attracted No Interested Sponsor

WASHINGTON — There is one facet to the National Broadcasting System's recent documentary on organized crime that may be as disturbing as anything that was shown during its 3½ hours of prime TV time: NBC salesmen were unable to sell one commercial spot in it.

And it wasn't because they didn't try. They pursued potential advertisers until just before air time. However, much to NBC's surprise, there were no takers.

Not only that, but as is standard practice for "specials," NBC gave regular sponsors of pre-empted shows the option of sponsoring the crime show or "staying out." Every single one of the pre-empted sponsors decided to stay out.

This despite the fact that the "White Paper" on crime had a rating of 29 per cent of the television audience that night. Translated into people, NBC estimates that the show went into 15 million homes and may have been seen by up to 35 million persons. Sponsors could have had this outsized audience at the regular commercial rates for that time period.

This information was given to this reporter in a long-distance telephone interview by Sid Eiges, an NBC spokesman in New York City. He was called when we noticed the astounding lack of commercials on the show as broadcast over the NBC station in Washington. Here, there was but one commercial, for a mouthwash.

"If the Washington station had a commercial, it was sold locally," Eiges said. "Our sales office couldn't do anything with the show, a fact we found very disappointing. The 'organized crime' documentary was intended as a public service, but not a nonsponsored public service."

Eiges said the special cost up to $500,000 to produce and, originally, NBC had hoped to recover that and make a profit. In reply to a question as to why sponsors were so strangely reluctant to insert their messages in a show with such obvious audience potential, Eiges said he had no explanation.

Informed of this oddity, several congressmen are wondering if organized crime is so entrenched in our society that a TV show about it cannot find sponsors. Perhaps, as one suggested, sponsors were afraid of offending vast numbers of people who, subconsciously or otherwise, are in sympathy with the crooks.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

The political season opens this weekend with the State Fair.

Walton

The candidates now have 66 days to cement their leads or to catch up. They'll have a crack at those huge fair mobs this weekend, then just nine weeks to hit the road and win it all.

Where do the major candidates stand today as they head into autumn?

We asked that question of key leaders of both parties and, assuring them that their answers were not for attribution, we think the concensus of replies should come rather close to depicting the true picture.

Some of the responses were based on recent private party and candidate polls and surveys.

But we emphasize that the question was aimed at determining current strength and not with an eye toward forecasting the winners on November 8.

Here we go:

SENATE: Senator Curtis is considered the current, but slight, favorite over Governor Morrison. Republican leaders remain universally confident that Curtis will win it, and most think he will win it comfortably in November. Democrats are counting on the Morrison magic to give them their first Senate victory in 32 years, and they think he can catch up and move ahead this fall once the two candidates have both hit the Nebraska campaign trail full-time.

GOVERNOR: Nobby Tiemann is still considered to be the front-runner in his contest with Phil Sorensen, but leaders in both parties believe Sorensen has narrowed the gap during the summer months. One key Republican official predicts a tight scrap, come election day—but most GOP leaders think Tiemann will now begin to widen the gap again. Democrats believe Sorensen can win it if he can continue to eat into the presumed Tiemann margin at the same pace he has established during the summer.

CONGRESS, FIRST DISTRICT: Clair Callan still carries the favorite's tag over Bob Denney. Republican leaders generally agree that Callan is ahead today, and only some of them think he can be caught. Democrats are counting on Callan as their strongest nominee and remain confident that he will be the first Democrat in 30 years to win a consecutive term in the House. But close Denney supporters think Callan can still be had if their man can cut deeply into the congressman's Lincoln strength.

CONGRESS, SECOND DISTRICT: Glenn Cunningham is considered a strong favorite over Dick Fellman, but one Republican leader has hoisted the warning flag. Fellman has made some inroads and cannot be counted out of this one, the GOP'er believes.

CONGRESS, THIRD DISTRICT: Republicans and Democrats alike agree that Dave Martin is a shoo-in to win a fourth term in his contest with John Homan.

Remember now, those aren't forecasts.

Okay?

A glance at the political calendar will confirm that the campaign is under way in earnest.

This month you can choose among Sen. Thruston Morton at a GOP fund-raiser in Lincoln on the 14th; the Morrison fund-raiser in Lincoln on the 17th; the Democratic state convention in Lincoln on the 18th; the Republican state convention and a fund-raiser featuring Richard Nixon in Omaha on the 23rd, and the Sorensen fund-raising dinner with Governor Connally of Texas in Omaha on the 27th.

Later, Vice President Humphrey and Sen. Edward Kennedy will come to the state to plug for certain Democratic nominees.

Possible other visitors include President Johnson and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall.

☆ ☆ ☆

With apologies to Nebraska's public power leaders, who may not think it very funny, we repeat the proposed new slogan for the state's public power industry: "Black Power."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Signs And Warnings Of Depression

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will call a special session of Congress after the November 8 election to put forward a tax increase and in all probability to request a supplemental appropriated of many billions of dollars to pay for the Viet Nam war. This is the growing conviction of a number of senators who are making their plans accordingly.

A poker player holding his cards as close to his vest as possible, the President is keeping his intentions a tight secret. An obsession with him is to retain every option to the very last minute, and thus goes for the smallest details — the date and even the hour of a political speech—as well as the great decisions. The surest way to win his disfavor, those around him have discovered to their sorrow, is to drop the slightest hint about the future.

Whether he can wait until after November 8 to take the steps that seem so urgently required to put restraints on the economy and on the spiraling interest rate is what some members of Congress are asking. They fear that the price rise, coupled with the credit squeeze, will start a slide that cannot be checked if action is put off until mid-November or early December.

If the schedule now contemplated is followed, Congress will adjourn around October 1. It is possible, however, that the session will drag on well into October, and the leaders would then call for a recess and a return after November 8. This would get the President out from under the blame for calling a special session.

With only four to six weeks more of the present session, this leaves hardly time enough to pass a tax bill in view of the backlog of other legislation that must move through the congressional mill. And the autocrat of the tax process, Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee, could readily invoke a veto on the issue of time alone.

In his sorties around the country, Johnson is telling the crowds that they never had it so good. He spins off figures to show that while prices may have risen a little, incomes have far outpaced the price rise. At times the President sounds as though he were trying to convince himself as well as the crowds that all is for the best in the best possible of worlds.

There are precedents for this kind of response to a time of economic uncertainty. In 1930, after the mirage of the stock-market boom had collapsed a year before, Herbert Hoover kept assuring the country that all was well if the people would count their blessings and have confidence in the health of the economy.

City Asks Enlarged State Plan For U.S. 6, City Route 6

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln city officials Friday asked the State Highway Advisory Commission to enlarge the state plan for reconstructing and channelizing (controlling traffic flow) the U.S. 6 (Cornhusker Highway) and City Route 6 (North Cotner) on the northern edge of the city.

City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger said the City of Lincoln supports the proposed plan, but it "doesn't go far enough."

Holsinger and City Engineer Richard Erixson outlined a proposal to extend the improvement to North Cotner and 70th.

"Revamping of one leg of U.S. and City 6 will just dump a traffic problem on the two other legs—70th and Cornhusker and 70th and Fletcher," Erixson said.

The city proposal would improve three more blocks of North Cotner, bringing east-bound traffic off at 70th and west-bound traffic onto 70th near Webster.

State Design Engineer Don Coffey said the plan was a "noble idea," but suggested that $100,000 added cost shouldn't be the responsibility of the state highway department. The state project is estimated at $342,000.

However, Highway Commission member Ralph Hanks of Lincoln suggested that the Department of Roads and the city could at least talk about it.

Holsinger said the city would consider participating in the additional work.

Consider Signals

The traffic engineer also said the state should consider signalizing 70th and Cornhusker Hwy. and 70th and North Cotner at "least as a temporary measure" because of the high-volume traffic that is developing.

Also proposed by the city was a left-turn channel at 8th and Fletcher, which Holsinger said would fit in with the city's future plan to shift City Route 6 from North Cotner onto 84th to connect with O Street.

A Burlington Railroad representative appeared to request that access to the railroad's industrial tract near Fletcher Ave. and U.S. 6 be retained in the proposed relocation of Fletcher.

No one appeared in opposition to the proposed state plan at the public hearing.

Businesses To Host 211 Teachers In Economics Education Program

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Sixteen Lincoln firms will host some 211 public school secondary teachers here Wednesday for a special economic education program directed by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce during teachers' first week back to school.

As guests of members of the Lincoln business community, the teachers in social studies, guidance and vocational areas will be given a day's lesson in economic education, designed to provide a better understanding of the economic factors forming the basis of the free enterprise system.

Through a specially-produced television presentation, seminar discussions and a luncheon speaker, Dr. E. S. Wallace of the University of Nebraska department of business and economics, the program will give educators an insight into the practical aspects of money management and how capital investments contribute to the economic growth.

The half-hour telecast on KOLN-TV at 9 a.m. features four Junior Chamber of Commerce members in a skit written by Mrs. Maxine Faust, a Lincoln teacher, to tell a story about the use of skills and resources to put land, labor, capital and the profit incentive to work creating a new industrial plant for a typical American community.

Also on the telecast will be a panel discussion by Dr. Arzell Ball, vice superintendent of schools; Glenn Bonacker, vice president for operations of Western Power and Gas; and Dr. Bert Evans, NU professor of economics, commenting on economic problems.

Following the program, the host firms—Lincoln Banks, insurance companies, investment firms and savings and loan associations—will conduct individual seminars on money capital and its role in economic activity and outline their own personal experiences in managing money capital.

The lesson in economic education differs considerably from previous programs for teachers by the business community which featured tours of various firms. William Bogar, Lincoln High School principal, indicated that the new format might be followed by programs on other subjects, such as communications.

Don Wolfe of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, reported the experimental project will be evaluated soon after the presentation and again six months later by all participants to determine its success for continuation and promotion nationally.

New School Personnel Get Oriented

Orientation for 185 new classroom teachers and administrators in the Lincoln school district started this week. The full force of 1,358 full-time certificated personnel is slated to be on the job Tuesday, Personnel Director Dr. Carroll Sawin announced Friday.

Only seven vacancies on the elementary level remain, he reported. All secondary teacher positions are filled.

The 1,358 personnel hired for this year compare with 1,390 employed last year. Classroom teachers account for about 1,150 of the certificated positions.

For four days next week teachers will attend a round of pre-school meetings with administrators and principals in addition to classroom and curriculum preparation.

A city-wide meeting conducted on television will feature administrative reports and directions.

Teachers new to the system this year received orientation two days during the week. A Thursday luncheon sponsored by the Lincoln Education Association for new personnel will include speaker Dr. Scott Nordenn of the University of Nebraska Teachers College.

Police Continue Burglar Search

Lincoln police continued their search Saturday for the unknown person or persons who broke into the Alvord Pharmacy late Thursday night or early Friday morning and escaped with over $500 in cash.

The burglar or burglars entered and left the building at 855 So. 27 through a hole drilled in the roof, carrying off $511.51 from an office safe and $24.85 from a change box.

Youth Injured On Motorcycle

A 19-year-old Lincoln youth broke his collarbone shortly before noon Friday when his motorcycle skidded out of control near the intersection of Cotner and Vine, throwing him to the pavement.

Ronald D. Hildenbrand of 1722 So. 24th was taken to Bryan Memorial Hospital and released after treatment of his injuries.

Ryan Sees More Traffic On Weekend

State Accident Records Chief Tom Ryan Friday predicted traffic during the Labor Day weekend would be the heaviest in Nebraska history with a record-high potential for traffic mishaps.

Gov. Frank Morrison also renewed his plea for motorists to keep their headlights turned on at low beam while driving during the daylight hours.

The Labor Day weekend officially started at 6 p.m. Friday and will end at midnight Monday.

Five persons were killed and another 152 injured in traffic mishaps over last year's Labor Day holiday, and the state has averaged nearly eight traffic deaths for this holiday weekend since 1963.

Ryan said highway travel has generally increased 10% since last year. Also, the State Fair and the last opportunity for an extended family holiday before school starts will generate additional traffic.

Danish Princess To Marry Count?

Copenhagen (UPI) — Princess Margrethe, heiress-apparent to the Danish throne, is considering marriage to a French count, informed sources said Friday.

The nobleman was identified as Henri Marie Jen Andro de Laborde de Monpezat, third secretary of the French embassy in London. Neither he nor the Danish royal family were abailable for comment.

Three Summer Tourist Stations Close Labor Day

Three summer tourist stations, operated by the Game Commission, will close for the season on Labor Day, Monday, September 5, the commission reports.

They are located at Blair, Gotte Park at Kimball, and the Greenwood interchange on Interstate 80. All showed marked increases in the number of visitors stopping for information this year.

Two other such stations are open year-round. These are at the State Capitol in Lincoln and the Crossroads Shopping Center in Omaha. In addition, the stations are supplemented by the commission-sponsored Nebraskalander Program.

City Asks Enlarged State Plan For U.S. 6, City Route 6

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln city officials Friday asked the State Highway Advisory Commission to enlarge the state plan for reconstructing and channelizing (controlling traffic flow) the U.S. 6 (Cornhusker Highway) and City Route 6 (North Cotner) on the northern edge of the city.

City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger said the City of Lincoln supports the proposed plan, but it "doesn't go far enough."

Holsinger and City Engineer Richard Erixson outlined a proposal to extend the improvement to North Cotner and 70th.

"Revamping of one leg of U.S. and City 6 will just dump a traffic problem on the two other legs—70th and Cornhusker and 70th and Fletcher," Erixson said.

The city proposal would improve three more blocks of North Cotner, bringing east-bound traffic off at 70th and west-bound traffic onto 70th near Webster.

State Design Engineer Don Coffey said the plan was a "noble idea," but suggested that $100,000 added cost shouldn't be the responsibility of the state highway department. The state project is estimated at $342,000.

However, Highway Commission member Ralph Hanks of Lincoln suggested that the Department of Roads and the city could at least talk about it.

Holsinger said the city would consider participating in the additional work.

Consider Signals

The traffic engineer also said the state should consider signalizing 70th and Cornhusker Hwy. and 70th and North Cotner at "least as a temporary measure" because of the high-volume traffic that is developing.

Also proposed by the city was a left-turn channel at 8th and Fletcher, which Holsinger said would fit in with the city's future plan to shift City Route 6 from North Cotner onto 84th to connect with O Street.

A Burlington Railroad representative appeared to request that access to the railroad's industrial tract near Fletcher Ave. and U.S. 6 be retained in the proposed relocation of Fletcher.

No one appeared in opposition to the proposed state plan at the public hearing.

Businesses To Host 211 Teachers In Economics Education Program

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Sixteen Lincoln firms will host some 211 public school secondary teachers here Wednesday for a special economic education program directed by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce during teachers' first week back to school.

As guests of members of the Lincoln business community, the teachers in social studies, guidance and vocational areas will be given a day's lesson in economic education, designed to provide a better understanding of the economic factors forming the basis of the free enterprise system.

Through a specially-produced television presentation, seminar discussions and a luncheon speaker, Dr. E. S. Wallace of the University of Nebraska department of business and economics, the program will give educators an insight into the practical aspects of money management and how capital investments contribute to the economic growth.

The half-hour telecast on KOLN-TV at 9 a.m. features four Junior Chamber of Commerce members in a skit written by Mrs. Maxine Faust, a Lincoln teacher, to tell a story about the use of skills and resources to put land, labor, capital and the profit incentive to work creating a new industrial plant for a typical American community.

Also on the telecast will be a panel discussion by Dr. Arzell Ball, vice superintendent of schools; Glenn Bonacker, vice president for operations of Western Power and Gas; and Dr. Bert Evans, NU professor of economics, commenting on economic problems.

Following the program, the host firms—Lincoln Banks, insurance companies, investment firms and savings and loan associations—will conduct individual seminars on money capital and its role in economic activity and outline their own personal experiences in managing money capital.

The lesson in economic education differs considerably from previous programs for teachers by the business community which featured tours of various firms. William Bogar, Lincoln High School principal, indicated that the new format might be followed by programs on other subjects, such as communications.

Don Wolfe of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, reported the experimental project will be evaluated soon after the presentation and again six months later by all participants to determine its success for continuation and promotion nationally.

4-H Guernsey Show Family Affair For The Imigs

The Guernsey 4-H show was a family affair, and it had Imig written all over the sheet where they record the champions.

Connie Imig, 17, who also possesses the title of Nebraska's Guernsey Queen, was the lucky young lady who owned and showed the champion Guernsey.

The young man that Connie squeezed out for the championship was 18-year-old Terry Imig, who had to be happy with a reserve champion on his former grand champion at Ak-Sar-Ben.

This sister-brother team are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Imig and for 30 years some member of the family has been showing dairy cattle at the state fair.

Connie said it seems real good to have big brother for competition in the show ring.

She realized she was up against some top competition as Terry has had his share of champions and also a trip to the national dairy show as a judge.

Connie called her champion Fern, but Terry had an extra explanation for his entry called Sugar.

"Sugar isn't really so sweet, but her little sister has already been named Spice," explained Terry who is headed for the University of Nebraska where he will concentrate on an agricultural engineering future.

Court Ruling Told In Land Sale Dispute

By Associated Press

The State Supreme Court Friday generally affirmed a Scotts Bluff District Court decision in a contract dispute between the Western Nebraska Rest Home, Inc., of Scottsbluff and Minatare farmer Edgar F. Russell over the purchase of a tract of land.

The tribunal ruled that "a valid, legally enforceable agreement" existed between the rest home and the farmer, and it ordered the corporation to sell the land to Russell under the terms of the contract.

The court also sustained the lower court order requiring the rest home to pay $1,501 plus interest for damages to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Tarr, who entered into a contract to purchase the land after the firm could not settle its disagreement with Russell.

The high court nullified a $980 damages judgment for Russell.

The corporation contended that the contract with Russell was not binding, but if it ever was, it was rescinded by Russell's attorney in a letter.

"The language relied upon to support the alleged rescission of the contract is neither positive nor unequivocal and, at most, amounts to nothing more than a threat to rescind in the future," the court said.

In another ruling Friday the court:

—Affirmed, in a split decision, a Lancaster County judgment granting a divorce to Mrs. Clara Haumann from Frederick O. Haumann. Both are from Lincoln.

The tribunal also approved the division of custody of the children, with three of them going to their mother and the two oldest ones going to their father.

Well-Known California Criminologist Visits His Birthplace At West Point

Omaha (AP)—A well-known criminologist, after an overnight stay in Omaha, went to his brithplace at West Point Friday, a town he has not visited in 50 years.

Raymond Pinker retired from the Los Angeles Police Department a year ago after heading the department of forensic chemistry for 36 years, and servicing as technical director of the crime laboratory.

His scientific work with police involved him in the alleged kidnaping of actress Marie McDonald, the conviction of murderess Winnie Ruth Judd, and the yet unsolved killing of Elizabeth Short, the "Black Dahlia."

He presently is associated with the Department of Police Science and Administration at the California State College in Los Angeles.

4-H Guernsey Show Family Affair For The Imigs

The Guernsey 4-H show was a family affair, and it had Imig written all over the sheet where they record the champions.

Connie Imig, 17, who also possesses the title of Nebraska's Guernsey Queen, was the lucky young lady who owned and showed the champion Guernsey.

The young man that Connie squeezed out for the championship was 18-year-old Terry Imig, who had to be happy with a reserve champion on his former grand champion at Ak-Sar-Ben.

This sister-brother team are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Imig and for 30 years some member of the family has been showing dairy cattle at the state fair.

Connie said it seems real good to have big brother for competition in the show ring.

She realized she was up against some top competition as Terry has had his share of champions and also a trip to the national dairy show as a judge.

Connie called her champion Fern, but Terry had an extra explanation for his entry called Sugar.

"Sugar isn't really so sweet, but her little sister has already been named Spice," explained Terry who is headed for the University of Nebraska where he will concentrate on an agricultural engineering future.

Car Price Hearing By Senate Unlikely

Washington (AP) — Sen Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chief Senate sponsor of automobile safety legislation, said Friday he sees no need for congressional hearings now on passenger car prices.

United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther proposed a Senate inquiry, asserting the industry is about to raise prices and blame new safety features for the increases.

"If past performance is any indication. . ." Reuther said, "the addition of these safety items will most certainly be used by the industry as an excuse to impose on car buyers price increases unwarranted by the additional costs."

Sets Standards

Legislation awaiting President Johnson's signature establishes federal safety standards for new cars beginning with 1968 models, but the industry has said most of the features involved will be standard equipment on 1967 models.

"You can't anticipate what's going to happen," said Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee.

Magnuson said he hopes there will be no price increase, but if one comes, the manufacturers should spell out all the reasons for it.

"I don't think we need any hearings," he said.

'Not My Business'

Reuther's proposal was made in a letter to Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., but Ribicoff, reached at his home in New London, Conn., said any such hearings would not be the business of his government operations subcommittee.

"I can't invade the jurisdiction of other committees," Ribicoff said, deferring to Magnuson.

"It would be unfortunate if prices out of line to the increased cost of safety items were to be added to the price of a car," said Ribicoff.

Ribicoff said he has not yet received the Reuther letter, but will advise him that any proposal for an inquiry should go to the Commerce Committee or to the Senate antitrust subcommittee, headed by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Guard To Be Used In Cicero

Cicero, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Otto Kerner activated some 2,000 Illinois National Guardsmen for duty during a civil rights march scheduled for Cicero Sunday.

Kerner acted on request of Cicero and Cook County officials, who expressed fear that massive violence would erupt during the march, being staged to protest against housing descrimination.

Cicero, an all-white suburb west of Chicago, is generally regarded as extremely hostile to Negroes. It was the scene 15 years ago of three days of rioting when a Negro attempted to move into an apartment there.

In a statement accompanying his executive order activating the National Guard, Kerner said the march "may result in tumult, riot or mob disorder."

Robert Lucas, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), said there may be as many as 1,000 marchers Sunday.

CORE apparently will be the only civil rights group represented. Two other groups, the West Side Organization and the Oakland Committee for Community Improvement, originally had planned to march but then decided against it.

A week ago, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. called off a march he planned to lead in Cicero when Chicago civic leaders and officials agreed to a far-reaching plan for promoting open housing.

Kerner's order activates seven Guard units from Chicago and one from Joliet.

A Cicero police official said some of the guardsmen would be used to encircle the town "to keep infiltrators out."

Two Unions Gain Farm Workers' Contract Rights

San Francisco (AP) — Two unions trying to organize workers in California's vast agricultural industry Friday both gained the right to represent employes on two California ranches of one of the nation's major growers.

The Teamsters Union and the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, rivals for the right to negotiate contracts with Di Giorgio Corporation, both were declared the workers' choices by the American Arbitration Association.

The new AFL-CIO UFWOC won representation for field workers by a vote of 530 to 331. The UFWOC was chartered last week. It is a merger of the National Farm Workers Association (NWFA) and the Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee of the AFL-CIO. Only 12 farm workers indicated they did not want a union.

The Teamsters were chosen by shed workers on Di Giorgio's Borrego Springs and Delano area farms by a vote of 94 to 43. Seven workers indicated they wanted no union.

'Blue Angel' Pilot Killed In Jet Crash

The pilot was identified as Lt. Cmdr. Dick Oliver, 31, of Fort Mill, S.C., a 1965 graduate of Duke University at Durham, N.C. He was killed instantly.

A crowd of 100,000 watched horrified as the blue jet, a Grumman F11A 'Tiger', plummeted from the sky toward Lake Ontario where it hit a breakwater and burst into flames.

The pilot of a standby rescue helicopter was hit by flying metal. He was rushed to Toronto Western Hospital where doctors treated him for cuts and shock. His condition was not serious.

Exhibition publicity director John Holden said the crash occurred during a stunt where two planes fly directly at each other, pass, and then do a complete roll.

It was believed the downed plane, heading east, dipped too low and went out of control.

A military investigation was ordered to determine the cause of the crash.

Oliver was the third member of the famed stunt team to die at this exhibition in the past 12 years. Others were killed in 1954 and 1958.

California Man Injured In Jump From Train Here

A 46-year-old man was injured at about 4 p.m. Friday afternoon when he jumped from a freight train near the 10th Street viaduct.

Robert R. Barnthouse of Sante Fe Springs, Calif., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital after breaking his right leg in the jump from the train at approximately 12th and Y.

'Go-Going' For Bananas

Sexy Film Brings Gasps At Festival

Venice, Italy (AP)—The Swedish film "Nattlek" (Night Games), so sexually frank and controversial it was banned to the public here, was screened at a private showing at the Venice Film Festival Friday and caused a sensation. Viewers were so shocked they gasped.

Several persons scuffled with police in an effort to crash the closed showing. Surprised press critics acclaimed the picture as the best they had seen at the festival so far.

Some predicted the film might even win the festival's top Golden Lion Award, even though it could not be shown to the Italian public because of censorship.

All Seats Filled

Despite police efforts to keep the showing limited to the jury and critics—numbering about 200 in all—every one of the 1,280 seats in the projection room was filled. Dozens of other persons tried in vain to get in.

Critical comment ranged from "most interesting" to "an excellent picture." Depending on the point of view, some in the audience found the film utterly forthright. Others found it filthy. No one found it boring.

Directed by Mai Zetterling, it tells the story of a married man's efforts to liberate himself from sexual inhibitions instilled in him by his mother. Some of the explicit scenes in the picture brought gasps from the audience.

OK For France

Producer Harry Schien, husband of Ingrid Thulin, who stars in the picture, said he did not foresee too many censorship barriers. French censors already have passed the film, he said, adding that he thought it would be accepted in the United States as well.

The Swedish entry caused more critical excitement than any other picture since the two-week festival opened Aug. 28.

The only other film to come close in stirring interest was Italy's "La Battaglia di Algeri" (The Battle of Algiers), which proviked a boycott by the French delegation to the festival. But the general reaction was that "Nattlek" was definitely superior.

New Delhi, India (AP)—A pro-Russian weekly newspaper charged Friday that a recently published photograph showing Red China's Mao Tze-tung swimming in the Yangtze River was a fake.

The newspaper, Blitz said Peking released the photo in "a pathetic attempt to refute the fact that 72-year-old Chairman Mao is an ailing man, incapable of guiding the destiny of China much longer."

The photo showed Mao's head, along with those of four unidentified men, as they ostensibly went for a 'ong swim. But Blitz said analysis proves the photo was a badly done montage.

It said light hitting the heads of the five swimmers "doesn't come from the same direction, the shadows fall on the wrong side. The water isn't rippled as it would be by moving swimmers, the portrait of Mao could be 20 years old."

PHILCON Team Thanked By Ky

Saigon (AP)—The 28 nurses and doctors of the Philippine medical contingent to Viet Nam were thanked by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky in a public statement and personal letters for their year in "PHILCON III"

Moreover, they and their units won more Viet Nam medals per capita than any other allied unit. The PHILCON teams are being replaced now by the arriving Philippine Civic Action Group (PHILCAG).

Denney: Callan Doesn't Obtain Essential Funds

Republican congressional nominee Robert Denney Friday said Democratic Rep. Clair Callan has "not been effective in obtaining essential funds" for the First District.

If Republican Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska had not acted, funds for Lincoln's federal office building would have been delayed at least another year, Denney told a news conference.

"I want to dispel the myth that my opponent gets things done for Nebraska," Denney declared. That, he said, is "a great illusion" and "a fraud on the voters of the First District."

Lincoln Campaign

Denney officially opened his Lincoln campaign Friday and will concentrate his efforts during the final nine weeks before election in the Capital City.

Callan, Denney said, supported President Johnson 92.6% of the time on issues before the second session of the 89th Congress.

By doing so, Denney said, Callan is "directly responsible for the inflationary trends" which have resulted from federal spending.

Denney said he will present "a positive program" to the voters including:

—improvement of existing Social Security law to provide for automatic increases in payments reflecting hikes in the cost of living index.

Local Control

—practical expansion of federal aid to education on all levels with positive local control.

—construction of a north-south Interstate Highway routed through the First District.

—support for the human investment act, urged by Republicans to involve government and private enterprise in a program for retraining workers displaced by automation.

—amendment of the minimum wage act to permit employment of students as "learners" at a lower wage. If the employer paid more, he should receive a credit on his federal income tax, Denney said.

—amendment of the beef import law to take away discretionary powers held by the secretary of agriculture.

Denney said he opposes the four-year feature of present farm legislation, wants farm price supports aimed at 100% of parity and would like the government "to quietly drop out" of farming once full parity were reached in the market.

The Republican nominee said he has never urged U.S. invasion of North Viet Nam.

Denney scored Callan for voting "against closer congressional control over foreign aid" appropriations, for supporting an effort to place farm workers under the minimum wage act, for supporting legislation granting $14.1 million for Alaska's centennial celebration and Florida tourist trade development and for supporting the administration's sales participation act.

Freak Mishap Kills McCook Woman, 73

A 73-year-old McCook woman was fatally injured Friday in a freak accident in the Gateway Shopping Center parking lot while getting out of a car.

According to Lancaster Country Deputy Sheriff William Greiner, Mrs. Mabel Floy Heskett, who was visiting relatives in Lincoln had gone to the shopping center with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Berdine Heskett and two grandchildren.

He said as the women were getting out of the car, the 13-month-old grandchild apparently put the car into reverse and the ignition was still on so the car began to move.

The daughter-in-law, who was assisting the elder Mrs. Heskett in getting out of the car, tried to push her mother-in-law back into the car so she could reach the brake, but the mother-in-law didn't realize what had happened and continued to force her way out of the car and fell.

Death was attributed to a fractured skull. Mrs. Heskett also suffered a broken hip and leg in the fall.

Deputy County Atty. Ronald said no charges will be filed in connection with the accident.

Car Price Hearing By Senate Unlikely

Washington (AP) — Sen Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chief Senate sponsor of automobile safety legislation, said Friday he sees no need for congressional hearings now on passenger car prices.

United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther proposed a Senate inquiry, asserting the industry is about to raise prices and blame new safety features for the increases.

"If past performance is any indication. . ." Reuther said, "the addition of these safety items will most certainly be used by the industry as an excuse to impose on car buyers price increases unwarranted by the additional costs."

Sets Standards

Legislation awaiting President Johnson's signature establishes federal safety standards for new cars beginning with 1968 models, but the industry has said most of the features involved will be standard equipment on 1967 models.

"You can't anticipate what's going to happen," said Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee.

Magnuson said he hopes there will be no price increase, but if one comes, the manufacturers should spell out all the reasons for it.

"I don't think we need any hearings," he said.

'Not My Business'

Reuther's proposal was made in a letter to Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., but Ribicoff, reached at his home in New London, Conn., said any such hearings would not be the business of his government operations subcommittee.

"I can't invade the jurisdiction of other committees," Ribicoff said, deferring to Magnuson.

"It would be unfortunate if prices out of line to the increased cost of safety items were to be added to the price of a car," said Ribicoff.

Ribicoff said he has not yet received the Reuther letter, but will advise him that any proposal for an inquiry should go to the Commerce Committee or to the Senate anti-trust subcommittee, headed by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Guard To Be Used In Cicero

Cicero, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Otto Kerner activated some 2,000 Illinois National Guardsmen for duty during a civil rights march scheduled for Cicero Sunday.

Kerner acted on request of Cicero and Cook County officials, who expressed fear that massive violence would erupt during the march, being staged to protest against housing descrimination.

Cicero, an all-white suburb west of Chicago, is generally regarded as extremely hostile to Negroes. It was the scene 15 years ago of three days of rioting when a Negro attempted to move into an apartment there.

In a statement accompanying his executive order activating the National Guard, Kerner said the march "may result in tumult, riot or mob disorder."

Robert Lucas, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), said there may be as many as 1,000 marchers Sunday.

CORE apparently will be the only civil rights group represented. Two other groups, the West Side Organization and the Oakland Committee for Community Improvement, originally had planned to march but then decided against it.

A week ago, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. called off a march he planned to lead in Cicero when Chicago civic leaders and officials agreed to a far-reaching plan for promoting open housing.

Kerner's order activates seven Guard units from Chicago and one from Joliet.

A Cicero police official said some of the guardsmen would be used to encircle the town "to keep infiltrators out."

Two Unions Gain Farm Workers' Contract Rights

San Francisco (AP) — Two unions trying to organize workers in California's vast agricultural industry Friday both gained the right to represent employes on two California ranches of one of the nation's major growers.

The Teamsters Union and the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, rivals for the right to negotiate contracts with Di Giorgio Corporation, both were declared the workers' choices by the American Arbitration Association.

The new AFL-CIO UFWOC won representation for field workers by a vote of 530 to 331. The UFWOC was chartered last week. It is a merger of the National Farm Workers Association (NWFA) and the Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee of the AFL-CIO. Only 12 farm workers indicated they did not want a union.

The Teamsters were chosen by shed workers on Di Giorgio's Borrego Springs and Delano area farms by a vote of 94 to 43. Seven workers indicated they wanted no union.

'Blue Angel' Pilot Killed In Jet Crash

The pilot was identified as Lt. Cmdr. Dick Oliver, 31, of Fort Mill, S.C., a 1965 graduate of Duke University at Durham, N.C. He was killed instantly.

A crowd of 100,000 watched horrified as the blue jet, a Grumman F11A 'Tiger', plummeted from the sky toward Lake Ontario where it hit a breakwater and burst into flames.

The pilot of a standby rescue helicopter was hit by flying metal. He was rushed to Toronto Western Hospital where doctors treated him for cuts and shock. His condition was not serious.

Exhibition publicity director John Holden said the crash occurred during a stunt where two planes fly directly at each other, pass, and then do a complete roll.

It was believed the downed plane, heading east, dipped too low and went out of control.

A military investigation was ordered to determine the cause of the crash.

Oliver was the third member of the famed stunt team to die at this exhibition in the past 12 years. Others were killed in 1954 and 1958.

California Man Injured In Jump From Train Here

A 46-year-old man was injured at about 4 p.m. Friday afternoon when he jumped from a freight train near the 10th Street viaduct.

Robert R. Barnthouse of Sante Fe Springs, Calif., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital after breaking his right leg in the jump from the train at approximately 12th and Y.

'Go-Going' For Bananas

Sexy Film Brings Gasps At Festival

Venice, Italy (AP)—The Swedish film "Nattlek" (Night Games), so sexually frank and controversial it was banned to the public here, was screened at a private showing at the Venice Film Festival Friday and caused a sensation. Viewers were so shocked they gasped.

Several persons scuffled with police in an effort to crash the closed showing. Surprised press critics acclaimed the picture as the best they had seen at the festival so far.

Some predicted the film might even win the festival's top Golden Lion Award, even though it could not be shown to the Italian public because of censorship.

All Seats Filled

Despite police efforts to keep the showing limited to the jury and critics—numbering about 200 in all—every one of the 1,280 seats in the projection room was filled. Dozens of other persons tried in vain to get in.

Critical comment ranged from "most interesting" to "an excellent picture." Depending on the point of view, some in the audience found the film utterly forthright. Others found it filthy. No one found it boring.

Directed by Mai Zetterling, it tells the story of a married man's efforts to liberate himself from sexual inhibitions instilled in him by his mother. Some of the explicit scenes in the picture brought gasps from the audience.

OK For France

Producer Harry Schien, husband of Ingrid Thulin, who stars in the picture, said he did not foresee too many censorship barriers. French censors already have passed the film, he said, adding that he thought it would be accepted in the United States as well.

The Swedish entry caused more critical excitement than any other picture since the two-week festival opened Aug. 28.

The only other film to come close in stirring interest was Italy's "La Battaglia di Algeri" (The Battle of Algiers), which proviked a boycott by the French delegation to the festival. But the general reaction was that "Nattlek" was definitely superior.

New Delhi, India (AP)—A pro-Russian weekly newspaper charged Friday that a recently published photograph showing Red China's Mao Tze-tung swimming in the Yangtze River was a fake.

The newspaper, Blitz said Peking released the photo in "a pathetic attempt to refute the fact that 72-year-old Chairman Mao is an ailing man, incapable of guiding the destiny of China much longer."

The photo showed Mao's head, along with those of four unidentified men, as they ostensibly went for a long swim. But Blitz said analysis proves the photo was a badly done montage.

It said light hitting the heads of the five swimmers "doesn't come from the same direction, the shadows fall on the wrong side. The water isn't rippled as it would be by moving swimmers, the portrait of Mao could be 20 years old."

Denney: Callan Doesn't Obtain Essential Funds

Republican congressional nominee Robert Denney Friday said Democratic Rep. Clair Callan has "not been effective in obtaining essential funds" for the First District.

If Republican Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska had not acted, funds for Lincoln's federal office building would have been delayed at least another year, Denney told a news conference.

"I want to dispel the myth that my opponent gets things done for Nebraska," Denney declared. That, he said, is "a great illusion" and "a fraud on the voters of the First District."

Lincoln Campaign

Denney officially opened his Lincoln campaign Friday and will concentrate his efforts during the final nine weeks before election in the Capital City.

Callan, Denney said, supported President Johnson 92.6% of the time on issues before the second session of the 89th Congress.

By doing so, Denney said, Callan is "directly responsible for the inflationary trends" which have resulted from federal spending.

Denney said he will present "a positive program" to the voters including:

—improvement of existing Social Security law to provide for automatic increases in payments reflecting hikes in the cost of living index.

Local Control

—practical expansion of federal aid to education on all levels with positive local control.

—construction of a north-south Interstate Highway routed through the First District.

—support for the human investment act, urged by Republicans to involve government and private enterprise in a program for retraining workers displaced by automation.

—amendment of the minimum wage act to permit employment of students as "learners" at a lower wage. If the employer paid more, he should receive a credit on his federal income tax, Denney said.

—amendment of the beef import law to take away discretionary powers held by the secretary of agriculture.

Denney said he opposes the four-year feature of present farm legislation, wants farm price supports aimed at 100% of parity and would like the government "to quietly drop out" of farming once full parity were reached in the market.

The Republican nominee said he has never urged U.S. invasion of North Viet Nam.

Denney scored Callan for voting "against closer congressional control over foreign aid" appropriations, for supporting an effort to place farm workers under the minimum wage act, for supporting legislation granting $14.1 million for Alaska's centennial celebration and Florida tourist trade development and for supporting the administration's sales participation act.

Police Brutality Charges Seldom Substantiated

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. "Don't you get furious when people charge police brutality? I'm 75 years old, live in a middle-class section of town, and have gone out to work daily for more than half a century. In all this time I've never once seen an example of police brutality. If people observed the law and acted with common courtesy they would be treated properly and would have no reason to clash with police."

A. Many elders have written this column saying much the same thing. Surveys show there is seldom any evidence to support charges of police brutality. Those who make this charge are nearly always those who have violated the law in some respect, acted suspiciously, or done something beyond the bonds of proper behavior. Angry with themselves and their circumstances, their last resort is to charge police brutality.

Q. "My husband's brother pays us an annual visit and heads straight for our teenage daughter. While my husband stands calmly by, Uncle Harry kisses her on the lips, squeezes her, and tries to get her to sit on his lap. She's so young and silly she goes along with these shenanigans. Am I right in being shocked and angry?"

A. Maybe Uncle Harry is the lustful old geezer you paint him. Or maybe you're just reading more into the situation than you should. Most fathers are pretty protective of their daughters, and your husband's calmness in the situation should assuage your fears. If you've brought your daughter up properly she should be able to cope with lecherous males — whether young or senile.

Q. "I'm a widow, 62, who has never worked. But my total income is only $145 a month. I'm in good health and would like to learn typing. But where do I go to learn, and how do I find a job? I feel so confused."

A. You must develop some self-confidence. Talk with your minister or someone accustomed to counseling others. Then visit some business schools and find one that is sympathetic to older students and can assure you they can teach you typing. Remind yourself that thousands of people have learned typing after 60, and that if they could—so can you.

Q. "My son lives with me in my nine-room house. I thought we were pretty well settled, but now at 42 he wants to marry and move into a development of small ranch houses at the edge of town. It seems so stupid, when there's plenty of room for the three of us here. How can I dissuade him?"

A. You shouldn't. Every child should be privileged to live his life independently. Parents often have the best intentions in trying to keep chicks at home under their wing. But this is often the worst thing that could happen to grown children. Develop friends and interests of your own so you won't feel so dependent on your son.

If you would like a booklet "Trailer Life in Retirement" write to Robert Peterson, "Life Begins at Forty," c/o The Lincoln Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

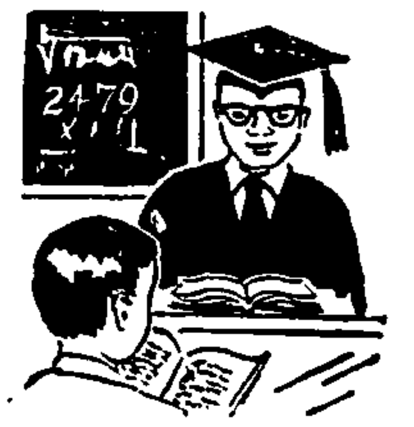
NASON ON EDUCATION:

Son Prefers Science To History

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON



Dear Dr. Nason:

Our son is very inconsistent in his schoolwork. He spends too much time on science. He not only reads the textbook but the encyclopedia and, sometimes, a book from the library. He discusses some of the ideas with his father. But this same hard working, interested boy practically ignores his history lessons, and consequently he makes low grades.

Should we try to regulate the amount of time he spends on science in the hope that he will improve in history?

A.T., Glassboro, N.J.

Answer:

Prohibiting his thinking about science will not increase your son's interest in history. This inconsistent behavior is often found in creative children.

In the hope this may be the case with your son, encourage, rather than discourage, his special interest. However, like the supper dishes, the history lessons are something that should be done. You must approach this problem with kind firmness, holding out the rewarding outcome of increased attention to that subject. The more he makes himself learn about it, the easier his studying will become.

Dear Dr. Nason:

It appears to us that our 10-year-old daughter does not, cannot or will not learn and retain what she is taught. She was given special tests at school, and we were told that she is an average student. Her teachers have told us that she does not learn easily, but have offered no solution.

We have had tutors for her every year but have not been satisfied with the results.

How should we go about finding proper help for this child?

Mrs. H.M., Salt Lake City, Utah

Answer:

Talk the matter over with your family doctor. Then consult your daughter's principal. He may be able to place her in a special class that will more nearly meet her needs.

Another solution, for which he will have the information, would be a possible transfer to another school in the district which offers a specialized program.

Dear Dr. Nason:

Our son is in the second grade but doing fourth grade reading. His writing and arithmetic are good. However, near the end of last term he brought home a paper marked "sloppy." For two mornings after that, he said, "My stomach hurts. I don't want to go to school." I called his teacher who said she was surprised to hear this since he got along well with the other children. The teacher then asked if he we were planning a trip, since the boy had mentioned it. My husband and I were planning a weekend trip to Chicago.

Could events at home have such a drastic effect on my son's feeling toward school? We'd like to avoid a similar incident in the upcoming term.

Mrs. Y.N., Mt. Vernon, N.Y.

Answer:

Indeed they could. Particularly with a sensitive child. A child who does fourth grade reading in the second grade may be more than normally concerned about the actions of other members of the family. You, as adults, cannot and should not allow a child to dominate your activities. However, discuss future family plans with your son, including his responsibility to go happily about succeeding in school. Remember that he is still a little boy and desperately needs the security of your love and affection.

It appears to us that our 10-year-old daughter does not, cannot or will not learn and retain what she is taught. She was given special tests at school, and we were told that she is an average student. Her teachers have told us that she does not learn easily, but have offered no solution.

We have had tutors for her every year but have not been satisfied with the results.

How should we go about finding proper help for this child?

Mrs. H.M.,
Salt Lake City, Utah

Answer:

Talk the matter over with your family doctor. Then consult your daughter's principal. He may be able to place her in a special class that will more nearly meet her needs.

Dear Dr. Nason:

Our son is in the second grade but doing fourth grade reading. His writing and arithmetic are good. However, near the end of last term he brought home a paper marked "sloppy." For two mornings after that, he said, "My stomach hurts. I don't want to go to school." I called his teacher who said she was surprised to hear this since he got along well with the other children. The teacher then asked if he we were planning a trip, since the boy had mentioned it. My husband and I were planning a weekend trip to Chicago.

Could events at home have such a drastic effect on my son's feeling toward school? We'd like to avoid a similar incident in the upcoming term.

Mrs. Y.N., Mt. Vernon, N.Y.

Answer:

Indeed they could. Particularly with a sensitive child. A child who does fourth grade reading in the second grade may be more than normally concerned about the actions of other members of the family. You, as adults, cannot and should not allow a child to dominate your activities. However, discuss future family plans with your son, including his responsibility to go happily about succeeding in school. Remember that he is still a little boy and desperately needs the security of your love and affection.

FORMER coeds were brides on Friday

Lighted cathedral candles and bouquets of coral-toned gladioli formed the background in Eastridge Presbyterian Church, Friday evening, Sept. 2, for the marriage of Miss Stephanie Beltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beltz, to Richard Allgood, son of Mrs. Marty Allgood, and of R. P. Allgood of Dubuque, Iowa.

Wearing sheaths of brocade and crepe in shades of gold and russet were Miss Sue Eichelberger, who was the maid of honor, and the bridesmatrons, Mrs. George Stroh, Mrs. Gerald Martin and Mrs. Jack London.

Terry Allgood served as best man, and seating the guests were North Sheriff, Lexington; George Stroh, Larry Hatheway, Craig Dodge and Jack London.

The bride's gown of white linen was touched with Italian lace. The lace edged the lantern sleeves of the basque and emphasized the Empire waistline of the slender skirt, which was completed by a panel train of the linen extending to chapel length. A cap of jeweled lace petals held her bouffant veil of illusion, and she carried a modern arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Mr. Allgood and his bride will make their home at 4211 M. Mrs. Allgood attended the University of Nebraska, where the bridegroom is a senior student. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, "N" Club and Phi Epsilon Kappa honorary.

For the wedding of Miss Linda Dianne Bateman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bateman, and Stanley D. Fraley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fraley, arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the candlelighted chancel of Grace Methodist Church, Friday evening, Sept. 2. The Rev. Henry Beatty read the lines of the service at 8 o'clock.

Empire frocks of gold-toned crepe and brocade were worn by Miss Jean Freed of Chadron, the maid of honor; Mrs. Bernard Heier, the matron of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Peggy Jo Fraley, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Deanna Wegele and Mrs. Charles McDaniel. They carried long-stemmed gold chrysanthemums.

Charles McDaniel served Mr. Fraley as best man, and the ushers were Tim Bateman, brother of the bride, Ron Culwell, Denny Peterson and Dean Fisher.

The bride selected white peau de soie and French brocade for her wedding gown. A crescent neckline and elbow sleeves accented the bodice, which was trimmed with lace appliques in the rose motif, and the skirt of controlled fullness was complemented by a court train of the brocade. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of jeweled silk and lace, and her bouquet was fashioned of gold-toned roses and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraley, both former students at the University of Nebraska, will make their home at 6917 Y.

NEWS of suburban areas

Unfortunately, most cliches about the changing seasons are trite and true, so we will let the fact that summer is gone, slip unnoticed as far as old sayings go. It is not unnoticed for residents of Lincoln's suburbs, however, as such major events as the closing of swimming pools, the opening of public schools, and the raking of leaves, loom in the near future.

Currently, the last summer-vacation stragglers are coming home, and guests are departing for their own residences. The lazy, hazy days of summer are over.

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

For Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Killion, vacation included a week of camping in Minnesota, with the Nebraska Methodist Camper Group. Campmaster was Rev. Jim Hansen. Mr. and Mrs. Killion and Rev. Hansen were the only Lincoln residents on the trip, as the rest came from different parts of the state.

After the week of camping, Mr and Mrs. Killion went on their own for brief visits in North and South Dakota.

New York City and Washington, D.C., were the highpoints of the ten-day vacation enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Dean A. Shamburg and Tommy. They have just returned from the Eastern vacation, during which they were able to visit many places of historical interest and national importance.

EASTRIDGE

A week ago, four Lincoln couples bid farewell to their daughters, as they took them to a year of studies at Loretta Heights College, in Denver, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. John Head were the Eastridge residents whose daughter is attending Loretta Heights. Joining Barbara Head were Anne Beau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Beau, Dianne Getscher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. E. Getscher, and Jane Denninger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Denninger.

EASTMONT

It's always a joy to see an old friend, and on August 26 several ladies from Bruce Drive were glad to be able to visit with Mrs. Joseph Carlson, a former Bruce Drive resident who now makes her home in Glendale, California, at a coffee given by Mrs. William A. Sommer. Mrs. Carlson and her children, Doug and Debbie, were also at Mr. and Mrs. Sommer's home on Tuesday for another chat.

Mr. and Mrs. Sommer also welcomed visitors last Saturday, and Mrs. Sommer's aunt, Mrs. Eldora Lehman, came to visit from Salinas, Calif.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Myron White recently enjoyed their first vacation since their honeymoon . . . although on this trip, they were accompanied by four little Whites: Diane, Kelly, Amy, and Melissa.

Their week of vacation took them all over Colorado, with half of the time spent "roughing it" — otherwise known as camping. Relatives in Grand Junction claimed the rest of the time. And then, all too soon, vacation was over.

Now Mr. and Mrs. White can look forward to their next summer jaunt—hopefully, however, they will not have to wait nine years for it.

There are new faces in Lincoln Heights, including five on Grandview Boulevard. Lt. Glynn Lane, USN, Mrs. Lane and their family of three—Wendy 5, Trey, 3, and Deborah, 1½—were welcomed to the community from Westminster, Calif. They expect to stay for two years, while Lt. Lane serves as an instructor for NROTC at the University of Nebraska

Attendants

Announcing the members of her bridal party is Miss Dianna McGuire, who will become the bride of Ed Johnson on Saturday, Sept. 17.

Miss Pam Sprague will attend Miss McGuire as maid of honor, and the bridesmatron will be Mrs. Jerrell Johnson. Miss Liz Van Sickle will be the bridesmaid, and attending her aunt as flower girl will be Miss Michele McGuire.

Lighting the candles will be Billy Keys and Rich Johnson, and ringbearer will be Jim Evans

Larry Earleywine will serve as best man, and the ushers will be Jerry Ketcham, Shenandoah, Iowa; Dan Gemmell, Jerry Johnson and Mick McGuire.

ABBY you did right to keep silent

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My mother was Jewish. My father was not. I married a gentile, and I suppose there are people who do not know my background altho I have never tried to hide it.

To get to the point: Recently I was a guest at a cocktail party in the home of some very prominent and respected gentile people. Another guest started making small talk with me, and in casual conversation he made some very degrading remarks about "the Jews. I remained silent, but of course I was hurt.

Now I am wondering if perhaps I should have said something. And if so, what?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Bigotry and bad manners are boorish, whether perpetrated on one who is half-Jewish or 99.44 Chippewa. Unless one would reveal his own insecurity, the best response in sincere (and silent) pity rather than uttered (and futile) censure. You cannot hope to educate a bigot with one short lecture at a cocktail party.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This concerns my husband who I shall call "Stupid" because that's what he is. Stupid met a married woman who is nuts about the zodiac horoscope and he is up to his ears in astrology. She asked him when his birthday was and when mine was, and then told him that he should be married to a Scorpio (that's what she is) and not a Virgo, (that's what I am) if he wanted a long life and a romantic one.

Stupid won't make any decisions or go on a trip or anything unless he asks his zodiac lady first. He believes everything she tells him. This woman is about to break up my home. What should I do?

STUPID' WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Married women who put stars in the eyes of married men are buying a one-way ticket to outer space. Tell Stupid to come down to earth and knock off the foolishness.

AUTUMN bride-elect was shower honoree

Entertaining in courtesy to a September bride-elect recently were Mrs. LeRoy Rothe, Miss Pat Rothe, Mrs. Edward Wilhelm, Jr., Miss Darlene Wilhelm and Miss Diane Mendlik, who were hostesses Friday evening honoring Miss Carolynne Meyers.

A bridal shower was presented to the honoree whose marriage to Robert Fensler, Jr., will be solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 10.

Chose Chapel Service

The altar of the Lutheran Student Chapel on the University of Nebraska campus was appointed with gladioli and chrysanthemums in autumn shades of gold and russet Friday evening, Sept. 2, for the marriage of Miss Victoria Sunderland Norris, daughter of Donald W. Norris, and the late Mrs. Norris, to Robert Lee Nebuda, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Nebuda of West Point. The 7:30 o'clock service was solemnized idn the presence of members of the family by the Rev. Alvin Petersen. Prof. Audun Ravnan, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Julia Joyce Reppert, the vocal soloist.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Robert Dikeman of Cleveland, Ohio, who wore a long-skirted frock in the moss green shade. Her crescent bouquet was fashioned of bronze chrysanthemums and carnations in the bittersweet tone.

Serving Mr. Nebuda as best man was Daniel Nebuda of West Point.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose traditional white satin. The sculptured bodice was designed with long, fitted sleeves, and the bell skirt was detailed at the waist back by a bow of the satin above the detachable, aisle-wide train. Her illusion veil was finger-top length, and she carried a rounded arrangement of white sweetheart roses and daisies encircled with greenery.

Both students at the University of Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Nebuda will reside at 1327 H, Apr. C-2.

Card Club

Meeting Tuesday afternoon will be the members of the Kings And Queens Card Club. Hostesses for the 12:30 o'clock to 4 o'clock card party will be Mrs. Agnes Thelander, Mrs Hazel Wright and Mrs. Stella Sheridan.

The party will be held in the First Federal party room.

Wedding Of Late Summer

Miss Kathleen Jo. Caha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Caha, became the bride of Charles James Osborn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles James Osborn, all of Hemingford, at a candlelight wedding Friday evening, Aug. 5. The double ring service was solemnized by the Rev. David E. Harris of Ainsworth, at the Congregational Church in Hemingford. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Dwayne Clark of Crete, organist and sister of the bride, and the vocalist was Wellington Wilson of Lincoln.

Wearing long-skirted frocks in seafoam green with matching head bows veiled with tulle were Miss Cathy Maiefski of Ogallala, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Sandra Black of Genoa.

Dwayne Clark of Crete served Mr. Osborn as best man, and the groomsman was Harley Bush of Alliance.

The bride appeared in a gown of traditional white satin detailed with insertions of white lace. The lace-trimmed bodice was designed with long sleeves, and vertical panels of the lace accented the skirt which continued into a chapel train. A crown of pearls held her finger-tip veil of illusion, and she carried an arrangement of white Fuji chrysanthemums.

The couple left for a wedding trip to the Black Hills, after which the bridegroom, who has been stationed with the Army in Adak, Alaska, will report for overseas duty in Japan. Mrs. Osborn will continue her studies at the University of Nebraska.

Opening lead — nine of diamonds.

There are some problems which arise during the play where you can figure out exactly the right thing to do with absolute assurance that you are correct.

However, there are other situations where you cannot be sure of your ground and the best you can do is make an intelligent guess. Here is such a case.

Let's say you're East, defending against four hearts, and your partner leads the nine of diamonds. Dummy plays the king, but, being a thoughtful player, you do not automatically play the ace.

Instead, you take a moment or two to consider the hand as a whole, and, more particularly, your play at this point. You certainly don't want to be stampeded into taking the ace and then thinking the hand over, because that would be doing things in exactly the wrong order.

The first thing you ask yourself is the significance of the nine of diamonds. You know that it is not a fourth best lead, nor can it be the top of a sequence, since you are looking at the eight. The nine could be the top card of a worthless three-card suit, but is is far more likely to come from either a doubleton or a singleton.

If the nine is a singleton, it must be right to take the ace and return a diamond, but if the nine is a doubleton, the proper defense must be to let dummy win the trick with the king, at the same time signaling with the eight to show possession of the ace.

There is no good reason to think that declarer is more apt to have five diamonds than four; on the contrary, he is much more likely to have four diamonds than five. Therefore you permit dummy to win the opening lead, and since there is no way for declarer to prevent you from later giving partner a ruff, you eventually defeat the contract.

AUTUMN bride-elect was shower honoree

Entertaining in courtesy to a September bride-elect recently were Mrs. LeRoy Rothe, Miss Pat Rothe, Mrs. Edward Wilhelm, Jr., Miss Darlene Wilhelm and Miss Diane Mendlik, who were hostesses Friday evening honoring Miss Carolynne Meyers.

A bridal shower was presented to the honoree whose marriage to Robert Fensler, Jr., will be solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 10.

Chose Chapel Service

The altar of the Lutheran Student Chapel on the University of Nebraska campus was appointed with gladioli and chrysanthemums in autumn shades of gold and russet Friday evening, Sept. 2, for the marriage of Miss Victoria Sunderland Norris, daughter of Donald W. Norris, and the late Mrs. Norris, to Robert Lee Nebuda, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Nebuda of West Point. The 7:30 o'clock service was solemnized idn the presence of members of the family by the Rev. Alvin Petersen. Prof. Audun Ravnan, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Julia Joyce Reppert, the vocal soloist.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Robert Dikeman of Cleveland, Ohio, who wore a long-skirted frock in the moss green shade. Her crescent bouquet was fashioned of bronze chrysanthemums and carnations in the bittersweet tone.

Serving Mr. Nebuda as best man was Daniel Nebuda of West Point.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose traditional white satin. The sculptured bodice was designed with long, fitted sleeves, and the bell skirt was detailed at the waist back by a bow of the satin above the detachable, aisle-wide train. Her illusion veil was finger-top length, and she carried a rounded arrangement of white sweetheart roses and daisies encircled with greenery.

Both students at the University of Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Nebuda will reside at 1327 H, Apr. C-2.

Card Club

Meeting Tuesday afternoon will be the members of the Kings And Queens Card Club. Hostesses for the 12:30 o'clock to 4 o'clock card party will be Mrs. Agnes Thelander, Mrs Hazel Wright and Mrs. Stella Sheridan.

The party will be held in the First Federal party room.

Wedding Of Late Summer

Miss Kathleen Jo. Caha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Caha, became the bride of Charles James Osborn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles James Osborn, all of Hemingford, at a candlelight wedding Friday evening, Aug. 5. The double ring service was solemnized by the Rev. David E. Harris of Ainsworth, at the Congregational Church in Hemingford. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Dwayne Clark of Crete, organist and sister of the bride, and the vocalist was Wellington Wilson of Lincoln.

Wearing long-skirted frocks in seafoam green with matching head bows veiled with tulle were Miss Cathy Maiefski of Ogallala, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Sandra Black of Genoa.

Dwayne Clark of Crete served Mr. Osborn as best man, and the groomsman was Harley Bush of Alliance.

The bride appeared in a gown of traditional white satin detailed with insertions of white lace. The lace-trimmed bodice was designed with long sleeves, and vertical panels of the lace accented the skirt which continued into a chapel train. A crown of pearls held her finger-tip veil of illusion, and she carried an arrangement of white Fuji chrysanthemums.

The couple left for a wedding trip to the Black Hills, after which the bridegroom, who has been stationed with the Army in Adak, Alaska, will report for overseas duty in Japan. Mrs. Osborn will continue her studies at the University of Nebraska.

Opening lead — nine of diamonds.

There are some problems which arise during the play where you can figure out exactly the right thing to do with absolute assurance that you are correct.

However, there are other situations where you cannot be sure of your ground and the best you can do is make an intelligent guess. Here is such a case.

Let's say you're East, defending against four hearts, and your partner leads the nine of diamonds. Dummy plays the king, but, being a thoughtful player, you do not automatically play the ace.

Instead, you take a moment or two to consider the hand as a whole, and, more particularly, your play at this point. You certainly don't want to be stampeded into taking the ace and then thinking the hand over, because that would be doing things in exactly the wrong order.

The first thing you ask yourself is the significance of the nine of diamonds. You know that it is not a fourth best lead, nor can it be the top of a sequence, since you are looking at the eight. The nine could be the top card of a worthless three-card suit, but is is far more likely to come from either a doubleton or a singleton.

If the nine is a singleton, it must be right to take the ace and return a diamond, but if the nine is a doubleton, the proper defense must be to let dummy win the trick with the king, at the same time signaling with the eight to show possession of the ace.

There is no good reason to think that declarer is more apt to have five diamonds than four; on the contrary, he is much more likely to have four diamonds than five. Therefore you permit dummy to win the opening lead, and since there is no way for declarer to prevent you from later giving partner a ruff, you eventually defeat the contract.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. When parents begin thinking of getting their children a car, they think in terms of a second-hand vehicle that will get them to a job and back or to school and back.

But Lincoln's Ed Smith went a couple of steps further for his two boys, 13-year-old Skip and 15-year-old Eddie—he bought them a racing car that can be run both as a sprint car and as a super-modified.

"When I was about the age of my boys now, I used to go to fairs and see the sprint cars run," Smith relates. "And I always dreamed about having one of them.

But the Lincoln hobby dealer didn't do anything about his dream until the oldest of two daughters was a junior at the University of Nebraska last year.

"I got into it for the boys," he points out. "Because I wanted them to become familiar with engines."

After being a sprint car fan as a youngster, Smith resumed his interest in auto racing a year ago when he began taking his two sons to the stock car races at the now-defunct Lincoln Speedways on No. 14th.

"Then one night we saw a driver's engine blow up and after the race we went down to the pits and I heard him talking about probably having to quit racing," Smith recalls.

"I decided to help him financially," the Lincoln store owner continues. "And then I got more involved than I had intended."

The driver he helped was Mark Crear. Later Smith bought a stock car of his own which Bill Scarborough drove.

"We didn't do too well, but we would sort of pit the two cars against each other," Smith explains.

This year Smith became a regular visitor to Midwest Speedways where he was a frequent visitor to the pit area to see how the business (hobby to him) worked.

"I just sort of listened to lot to people like (Lloyd) Beckman and (George) Odvody, trying to learn what I could," he explains.

Then the boyhood dream of a sprint car began appearing in his mind again. And when he learned of one for sale in Lincoln, he leaped at the opportunity.

"I had begun to look around and I had made phone calls all over the country trying to find one," Smith relates. "Then Lloyd Beckman told me there was one for sale right here in Lincoln.

"It belonged to Bill Smith and when I went to see Bill about it, he thought he had sold to someone else, but the next day when I heard again that he hadn't sold it. I went back."

That night Ed Smith went home with Bill Smith's auto, sans motor. With the Smith home crew of Ed and sons Skip and Eddie wielding the cleaning tools, the chassis was cleaned up and Marty Bassett of Speedway Motors was enlisted to build the engine.

The car is powered by a 327 Chevrolet engine with 375 heads and fuel injectors. The auto is a copy of the No. 5 made famous by A. J. Foyt and it includes the original front axle, radius rods and gas tank off Foyt's sprint car.

The sprint car will be making only its third appearance when it runs in the State Fair Races this afternoon.

The auto, driven by Keith Hightshoe, made its first outing in the Belleville, Kan., Fair races last week, finishing fifth in the A Feature the first night and coming back the second night for a second place finish.

The second place finish was one better than Jay Woodside, the winner of the nationals at Knoxville, Iowa, was able to do.

"We are very happy with the auto," beamed Smith Friday night as his pit crew was putting the finishing touches on the machine. "We plan to take it to Hutchinson, Kan., next week and possibly to Wichita."

How do Skip and Eddie feel about their auto? "Great, if their father doesn't decide that one of them has to tend the store today while he goes to the races."

State Fair Sprint Cars Race Today

Two more outstanding sprint car rookie-of-the-year candidates have submitted entries for auto races highlighting the opening labor day weekend at the Nebraska State Fair.

Fair Secretary Henry Brandt identified the pair as Jon Backlund of Kansas City, who will pilot the Des Moines-owned Brock-Phillip Chevy, and Dick Smith of Stillwater, Minn., recent winner of a feature race at Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Backlund, who won the STP Handicap over the Missouri State Fair's mile track last Sunday in competition with some of the IMCA circuit's top cars, is in his first complete season as a sprint car driver. He drove midgets last year and competes regularly in the Kansas City area super-modified circuit.

These entries plus that of Denver veteran Warren Hamilton and Dick Ritchie of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, 1965 IMCA midget champ now campaigning the Frank Rommel Chevy out of Houston, Tex., brings the list of entries to 34.

IMCA officials arriving here late this week to conduct the three-day meet expressed belief that recent night-time rains would help put the new fairgrounds half mile track in excellent condition.

Racing will open at 1 p.m. with qualifying trials which will determine the line-ups for all heat races on that and the two succeeding days. The first heat will get under way at 2:30 p.m. Seven events with a 30-lap feature each day, today, Sunday and Monday.

Other drivers entered include Thad Dosher of Topeka, Bill Puterbaugh of Roxana, Ill., Jim Moughan of Springfield, Ill., and Rollie Beale of Toledo, the later two high in the ranks of 1966 sprint car title contenders; Don Brown of San Fernando, Calif., noted as both a car builder and as a driver, and two local entrants, Lloyd Beckman of Lincoln and Keith Hightshoe of Ashland, both of whom will be leading contenders for the laurels here this weekend.

Clemente Gets 2,000th Hit

. . . GIANTS LOSE TO CARDS

By The Associated Press

Roberto Clemente reached the 2,000-hit summit and helped Pittsburgh climb into sole possession of the National League lead with a three-run homer that powered the Pirates past the Chicago Cubs 7-3 Friday night.

The victory, coupled with San Francisco's 6-5, 12-inning loss to St. Louis, boosted the Pirates one game ahead of the Giants. Third place Los Angeles whipped Cincinnati 6-1 and remained two games off the pace.

Detroit swept a doubleheader from Cleveland, 4-2 and 7-5 in 10 innings, trimming 1½ games off Baltimore's American League lead. The Orioles, beaten by Chicago 9-8 in 11 innings, still lead by 9½ lengths

Clemente's 23rd homer tied his previous one-year high and gave him 101 runs batted in—marking the first time he has had 100 or more RBI's. He is the ninth active player who has collected 2,000 or more lifetime hits. Bob Veale, with relief help from Don Cardwell, gained his 14th victory of the season.

The Cardinals tripped the Giants on Orlando Cepeda's double and Mike Shannon's double in the 12th.

Claude Osteen and Bob Miller combined for a three-hitter and Ron Fairly knocked Dodgers past Cincinnati.

Stu Miller, Baltimore's relief ace, hit two straight batters in the 11th forcing in the sixth setback in the last seven games.

Mickey Stanley singled and scored the tie-breaking run on Jim Northrup's grounder in the 10th, completing the Tigers' sweep over Cleveland. Denny McLain stopped the Indians on four hits in the opener and Willie Horton cracked a three-run homer.

Ed jmathews hit two home in the first game and Pat Jarvis pitched a four-hitter in the nightcap as Atlanta swept a doubleheader from Houston 6-5 and 2-1.

Philadelphia blanked the New York Mets 6-0 on Jim Bunning's six-hitter and a pair of homers by Rich Allen.

Earl Battey's three-run double in the first inning sparked Minnesota to an 8-5 victory over the New York Yankees; Lew Krausse flipped a six-hitter as Kansas City trimmed Boston 5-1 and California edged Washington 6-5 on a two-run homer by pinch hitter Joe Adcock in the eighth.

Chargers Face Bills On Sunday

By The Associated Press

The first thing Coach Sid Gillman of the San Diego Chargers sees every morning when he enters his office is this newspaper headline:

"Bills Humble Chargers, 23-0."

Gillman keeps the headline, and the page describing the Chargers' loss to Buffalo in the American Football League championship game last year, hanging over his desk because he says it reminds him each morning:

"Coach, whenever you think you have it made, look out. There is a Buffalo laying for you every Sunday of the season."

This Sunday is the first Sunday of play for the Chargers on the AFL's opening weekend of regular season play, and Gillman gets his return shot at the defending champion Bills in a game to be nationally televised by NBC starting at 2:30 p.m. CST.

Newcomers To Decide Links' Success

. . . LOEHR FIGURES, 'COULD BE AS GOOD AS LAST YEAR'

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Rebuilding after a 6-1-1 campaign and No. 4 ranking in 1965, Lincoln High football coach Andy Loehr eyes the upcoming season with cautious optimism.

"If things go right we could be as good as last year," he observes. But the second-year Lincoln High mentor knows that there are a lot of question marks involved in the outlook for the Links.

The most glaring weakness is a lack of experience with only seven lettermen, some of whom saw only brief action, returning.

On the other side of the coin is the arrival of a potentially good crop of athletes from an unbeaten reserve team.

The absence of veterans has left most of the starting assignments up for grabs, with some good competition developing for regular status.

The strong point for the Links is at end, where three of the seven lettermen return.

Bart Glathar, checking in at 6-2 and 180 for his senior campaign, will be a starter on the right side with classmates Lynn Dance (6-0, 178) and Terry Moore (5-11; 160) battling for the other job.

One of the big question marks up front is the tackle situation. There is size available, but Loehr indicates that improvement is needed here if the Links are to have a good campaign.

Senior Jack Holland, the lone letterman, Bill Oldfield and Warren Palmer are joined by juniors Mike Clancy, Bob Dann and Jim Petersen here and the starting jobs are considered wide open.

Senior Craig Rosenberger, a regular last year, returns at guard. Bolstering the spot is Leonard Kremarik, a non-lettering squadman a year ago. Up 15 pounds to 175, he's been one of the line standouts in the early drills.

Others bidding are seniors Tom Goeglein, John Simpson and Joe Adams and juniors Brad Dickson and Rick Sills.

There is good size, but little experience, at the center spot where senior Kurt Pral and juniors Glen Hergenrader and Marvin Jacques are up from the reserve ranks.

The backfield, despite inexperience, has intriguing possibilities.

Coach Alden Johnson, working with the backs, says that this year's crop is on a par physically with last year's veteran group.

But the current group has a long way to go in catching up with the experience owned by the 1965 backs.

Bidding for the quarterbacking job are seniors Steve McKelvey and Don Mohlman and junior Bob Gill.

McKelvey lettered with brief action last year and Mohlman directed the reserve team. Both have size and are labeled as good passers, which indicates the Links may put the ball in the air more this year.

The only other letterman in the backfield is junior Charles Moore, primarily a defensive player last year. Carrying 176 pounds this year, he's bidding for the left halfback job. Joining him there are seniors Roger Rife and Gary Hunt.

On the right side are juniors Melvin Tarpley and Wayne King and senior Bill Strain. Tarpley is rated the swiftest back.

Two Sooner Sophomores Get Nod At Quarterback

Norman, Okla. (AP)—A pair of sophomores—Jim Burgar of Lindsay and Bob Warmack of Ada—will handle the quarterbacking chores for the University of Oklahoma this fall, Coach Jim Mackenzie said Friday.

Mackenzie made the announcement after grading scrimmage films.

The decision, at least for the moment, eliminates from the quarterback picture junior Gene Cagle, a returning starter.

Mackenzie praised the work of all three and said Cagle had shown considerable improvement since last spring.

He stressed the decision was not irrevocable, but added:

"In fairness to the team and because of the necessity of crowding enough execution work into the short time available we can work with only two quarterbacks at a time."

He said Cagle would continue to attend quarterback meetings but that the staff would try to find another position for Cagle.

"He's too good an athlete to stay on the third team," Mackenzie added.

Cagle, from Lawton, became the Sooners' regular quarterback last year after the Texas game. During the spring he worked some at safety.

Burgar, the best passer of the trio, was red-shirted last season. In high school he started 48 straight games.

Warmack is the best runner of the quarterbacks.

Indications are that Mackenzie plans to red-shirt another sophomore, Chebon Dacon. Dacon underwent knee surgery last spring.

Kirkland, Coleman Please NU Coaches

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Two Nebraska gridders who were slowed by injuries much of last season were cited Friday by coach Bob Devaney for their improved performance during the first week of fall drills.

"Ron Kirkland and Langston Coleman both have been looking good so far," Devaney observed Friday afternoon.

Kirkland, a 219-pound, two-year letterman from West Bend, Wis., and Coleman, a 197-pound, two-year letterman from Washington, D.C., both are being counted on heavily this fall; Kirkland at offensive left halfback and Coleman at defensive right end.

"Kirkland looks better physically this year," Devaney noted. "And Coleman is moving better. Both have had trouble with injuries in the past, but they don't show any signs of the past injuries bothering them."

The Husker coaches continued to look at a quartet of tight ends in an effort to fill the vacancy left by the graduation of Tony Jeter. And Devaney pointed out that Dennis Morrison continues to look good at that position.

"He looks good every day and we have moved him up to alternate with those who were listed ahead of him," Devaney said.

Morrison, the 6-1, 202-pound junior from Omaha who was shifted from halfback to tight end during spring drills, started the fall camp Monday behind Mike Wynn, Dan Delaney and Miles Kimmel.

Devaney plans to send his Big Eight favorites through their toughest contact session of the fall this afternoon after a shorts session this morning.

"We'll be rotating the units quite a bit so we can get a good look at everyone," he said. The scrimmage will be filmed and some lineup changes could show up next week after the movies have been scrutinized.

The Husker coach also expressed pleasure with the conduct of the eager NU fans who have watched practice sessions from the south bank of the practice field.

"We are happy to have people watch from the bank," he pointed out. "They have been very cooperative about staying off the field where they could hinder our workouts.

"We hope they continue to show the same fine cooperation."

The bank affords an excellent view of the entire practice area.

SORRY, NO BOXES!

Braves' Oliver Says 'Play Me Or Trade Me'

Atlanta (AP) — Gene Oliver, Atlanta's second-team catcher, said Friday he plans to retire unless the Braves play him more or trade him to another club.

The 31-year-old catcher, having his worst season, told the Atlanta Journal that he believes his talents have been wasted this year.

"I realize that I'm playing behind probably the best catcher in baseball, Joe Torre, but I think I should be valuable enough to somebody to play more than I have."

Abegg shot his animal in Sioux County, and Covalt got his in Morrill County. These are the first pronghorns checked since the bow season opened Aug. 20 for a 23-day run.

Italian Girl Refuses Sex Exam; Goes Home

Budapest (AP)—An Italian girl angrily withdrew from the European track and field championship Friday after refusing to undergo mandatory medical examination for all female participants.

Maria Vittoria Trio, 18, left for Italy with her shocked parents. She said religious grounds prevented her from submitting to a physical check by doctors representing the games' organizing committee.

Her departure, linked to a virtual ultimatum to world champion high jumper Iiolanda Balas of Romania to face the doctors or retire from the championship, dramatized a new regulation aimed at making sure that all girl athletes compete against full-fledged members of their sex.

Miss Balas arrived in Budapest Friday afternoon. The women's high jump qualifications begin Saturday. The rules say all girls must be checked at least 48 hours before their appearance on the tracks.

The international jury gave Miss Balas what a games spokesman said was a "last chance" to have the doctors take a look at her.

There was no immediate comment from the Romanian athlete.

Three star Russian women athletes are absent from the games. They are Tamara and Irina Press and broad jumper Tatyana Shchelkanova. Russian officials say Miss Shchelkanova has a leg injury and that family reasons are keeping the Press sisters at home.

They have not commented on published reports that said they had not shown up because of the new medical examinations.

Smith's Boyhood Dream Now Reality

. . . SPRINT CAR BOUGHT FOR SONS' BENEFIT TO RACE TODAY

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

When parents begin thinking of getting their children a car, they think in terms of a second-hand vehicle that will get them to a job and back or to school and back.

But Lincoln's Ed Smith went a couple of steps further for his two boys, 13-year-old Skip and 15-year-old Eddie—he bought them a racing car that can be run both as a sprint car and as a super-modified.

"When I was about the age of my boys now, I used to go to fairs and see the sprint cars run," Smith relates. "And I always dreamed about having one of them.

But the Lincoln hobby dealer didn't do anything about his dream until the oldest of two daughters was a junior at the University of Nebraska last year.

"I got into it for the boys," he points out. "Because I wanted them to become familiar with engines."

After being a sprint car fan as a youngster, Smith resumed his interest in auto racing a year ago when he began taking his two sons to the stock car races at the now-defunct Lincoln Speedways on No. 14th.

"Then one night we saw a driver's engine blow up and after the race we went down to the pits and I heard him talking about probably having to quit racing," Smith recalls.

"I decided to help him financially," the Lincoln store owner continues. "And then I got more involved than I had intended."

The driver he helped was Mark Crear. Later Smith bought a stock car of his own which Bill Scarborough drove.

"We didn't do too well, but we would sort of pit the two cars against each other," Smith explains.

This year Smith became a regular visitor to Midwest Speedways where he was a frequent visitor to the pit area to see how the business (hobby to him) worked.

"I just sort of listened to lot to people like (Lloyd) Beckman and (George) Odvody, trying to learn what I could," he explains.

Then the boyhood dream of a sprint car began appearing in his mind again. And when he learned of one for sale in Lincoln, he leaped at the opportunity.

"I had begun to look around and I had made phone calls all over the country trying to find one," Smith relates. "Then Lloyd Beckman told me there was one for sale right here in Lincoln.

"It belonged to Bill Smith and when I went to see Bill about it, he thought he had sold to someone else, but the next day when I heard again that he hadn't sold it, I went back."

That night Ed Smith went home with Bill Smith's auto, sans motor. With the Smith home crew of Ed and sons Skip and Eddie wielding the cleaning tools, the chassis was cleaned up and Marty Bassett of Speedway Motors was enlisted to build the engine.

The car is powered by a 327 Chevrolet engine with 375 heads and fuel injectors. The auto is a copy of the No. 5 made famous by A. J. Foyt and it includes the original front axle, radius rods and gas tank off Foyt's sprint car.

The sprint car will be making only its third appearance when it runs in the State Fair Races this afternoon.

The auto, driven by Keith Hightshoe, made its first outing in the Belleville, Kan., Fair races last week, finishing fifth in the A Feature the first night and coming back the second night for a second place finish.

The second place finish was one better than Jay Woodside, the winner of the nationals at Knoxville, Iowa, was able to do.

"We are very happy with the auto," beamed Smith Friday night as his pit crew was putting the finishing touches on the machine. "We plan to take it to Hutchinson, Kan., next week and possibly to Wichita."

How do Skip and Eddie feel about their auto? "Great, if their father doesn't decide that one of them has to tend the store today while he goes to the races."

State Fair Sprint Cars Race Today

Two more outstanding sprint car rookie-of-the-year candidates have submitted entries for auto races highlighting the opening labor day weekend at the Nebraska State Fair.

Fair Secretary Henry Brandt identified the pair as Jon Backlund of Kansas City, who will pilot the Des Moines-owned Brock-Phillip Chevy, and Dick Smith of Stillwater, Minn., recent winner of a feature race at Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Backlund, who won the STP Handicap over the Missouri State Fair's mile track last Sunday in competition with some of the IMCA circuit's top cars, is in his first complete season as a sprint car driver. He drove midgets last year and competes regularly in the Kansas City area super-modified circuit.

These entries plus that of Denver veteran Warren Hamilton and Dick Ritchie of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, 1965 IMCA midget champ now campaigning the Frank Rommel Chevy out of Houston, Tex., brings the list of entries to 34.

IMCA officials arriving here late this week to conduct the three-day meet expressed belief that recent night-time rains would help put the new fairgrounds half mile track in excellent condition.

Racing will open at 1 p.m. with qualifying trials which will determine the lineups for all heat races on that and the two succeeding days. The first heat will get under way at 2:30 p.m. Seven events with a 30-lap feature each day, today, Sunday and Monday.

Other drivers entered include Thad Dosher of Topeka, Bill Puterbaugh of Roxana, Ill., Jim Moughan of Springfield, Ill., and Rollie Beale of Toledo, the later two high in the ranks of 1966 sprint car title contenders; Don Brown of San Fernando, Calif., noted as both a car builder and as a driver, and two local entrants, Lloyd Beckman of Lincoln and Keith Hightshoe of Ashland, both of whom will be leading contenders for the laurels here this weekend.

PIRATES ALONE IN 1ST

Clemente Gets 2,000th Hit

. . . GIANTS LOSE TO CARDS

By The Associated Press

Roberto Clemente reached the 2,000-hit summit and helped Pittsburgh climb into sole possession of the National League lead with a three-run homer that powered the Pirates past the Chicago Cubs 7-3 Friday night.

The victory, coupled with San Francisco's 6-5, 12-inning loss to St. Louis, boosted the Pirates one game ahead of the Giants. Third place Los Angeles whipped Cincinnati 6-1 and remained two games off the pace.

Detroit swept a doubleheader from Cleveland, 4-2 and 7-5 in 10 innings, trimming 1½ games off Baltimore's American League lead. The Orioles, beaten by Chicago 9-8 in 11 innings, still lead by 9½ lengths.

Clemente's 23rd homer tied his previous one-year high and gave him 101 runs batted in—marking the first time he has had 100 or more RBI's. He is the ninth active player who has collected 2,000 or more lifetime hits. Bob Veale, with relief help from Don Cardwell, gained his 14th victory of the season.

The Cardinals tripped the Giants on Orlando Cepeda's double and Mike Shannon's double in the 12th.

Claude Osteen and Bob Miller combined for a three-hitter and Ron Fairly knocked Dodgers past Cincinnati.

Stu Miller, Baltimore's relief ace, hit two straight batters in the 11th forcing in the sixth setback in the last seven games.

Mickey Stanley singled and scored the tie-breaking run on Jim Northrup's grounder in the 10th, completing the Tigers' sweep over Cleveland. Denny McLain stopped the Indians on four hits in the opener and Willie Horton cracked a three-run homer.

Ed jmathews hit two home in the first game and Pat Jarvis pitched a four-hitter in the nightcap as Atlanta swept a doubleheader from Houston 6-5 and 2-1.

Philadelphia blanked the New York Mets 6-0 on Jim Bunning's six-hitter and a pair of homers by Rich Allen.

Earl Battey's three-run double in the first inning sparked Minnesota to an 8-5 victory over the New York Yankees; Lew Krausse flipped a six-hitter as Kansas City trimmed Boston 5-1 and California edged Washington 6-5 on a two-run homer by pinch hitter Joe Adcock in the eighth.

Chargers Face Bills On Sunday

By The Associated Press

The first thing Coach Sid Gillman of the San Diego Chargers sees every morning when he enters his office is this newspaper headline:

"Bills Humble Chargers, 23-0."

Gillman keeps the headline, and the page describing the Chargers' loss to Buffalo in the American Football League championship game last year, hanging over his desk because he says it reminds him each morning:

"Coach, whenever you think you have it made, look out. There is a Buffalo laying for you every Sunday of the season."

This Sunday is the first Sunday of play for the Chargers on the AFL's opening weekend of regular season play, and Gillman gets his return shot at the defending champion Bills in a game to be nationally televised by NBC starting at 2:30 p.m. CST.

Getting your antelope with bow and arrow may be a bit difficult, but not impossible, as two archers have proved, reports the Game Commission.

Abegg shot his animal in Sioux County, and Covalt got his in Morrill County. These are the first pronghorns checked since the bow season opened Aug. 20 for a 28-day run.

Newcomers To Decide Links' Success

. . . LOEHR FIGURES, 'COULD BE AS GOOD AS LAST YEAR'

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Rebuilding after a 6-1-1 campaign and No. 4 ranking in 1965, Lincoln High football coach Andy Loehr eyes the upcoming season with cautious optimism.

"If things go right we could be as good as last year," he observes. But the second-year Lincoln High mentor knows that there are a lot of question marks involved in the outlook for the Links.

The most glaring weakness is a lack of experience with only seven lettermen, some of whom saw only brief action, returning.

On the other side of the coin is the arrival of a potentially good crop of athletes from an unbeaten reserve team.

The absence of veterans has left most of the starting assignments up for grabs, with some good competition developing for regular status.

The strong point for the Links is at end, where three of the seven lettermen return.

Bart Glathar, checking in at 6-2 and 180 for his senior campaign, will be a starter on the right side with classmates Lynn Dance (6-0, 178) and Terry Moore (5-11; 160) battling for the other job.

One of the big question marks up front is the tackle situation. There is size available, but Loehr indicates that improvement is needed here if the Links are to have a good campaign.

Senior Jack Holland, the lone letterman, Bill Oldfield and Warren Palmer are joined by juniors Mike Clancy, Bob Dann and Jim Petersen here and the starting jobs are considered wide open.

Senior Craig Rosenberger, a regular last year, returns at guard, Bolstering the spot is Leonard Kremarik, a non-lettering squadman a year ago. Up 15 pounds to 175, he's been one of the line standouts in the early drills.

Others bidding are seniors Tom Goeglein, John Simpson and Joe Adams and juniors Brad Dickson and Rick Sills.

There is good size, but little experience, at the center spot where senior Kurt Prai and juniors Glen Hergenrader and Marvin Jacques are up from the reserve ranks.

The backfield, despite inexperience, has intriguing possibilities.

Coach Alden Johnson, working with the backs, says that this year's crop is on a par physically with last year's veteran group.

But the current group has a long way to go in catching up with the experience owned by the 1965 backs.

Bidding for the quarterbacking job are seniors Steve McKelvey and Don Mohlman and junior Bob Gill.

McKelvey lettered with brief action last year and Mohlman directed the reserve team. Both have size and are labeled as good passers, which indicates the Links may put the ball in the air more this year.

The only other letterman in the backfield is junior Charles Moore, primarily a defensive player last year. Carrying 176 pounds this year, he's bidding for the left halfback job. Joining him there are seniors Roger Rife and Gary Hunt.

On the right side are juniors Melvin Tarpley and Wayne King and senior Bill Strain. Tarpley is rated the swiftest back.

Two Sooner Sophomores Get Nod At Quarterback

Norman, Okla. (AP)—A pair of sophomores—Jim Burgar of Lindsay and Bob Warmack of Ada—will handle the quarterbacking chores for the University of Oklahoma this fall, Coach Jim Mackenzie said Friday.

Mackenzie made the announcement after grading scrimmage films.

The decision, at least for the moment, eliminates from the quarterback picture junior Gene Cagle, a returning starter.

Mackenzie praised the work of all three and said Cagle had shown considerable improvement since last spring.

He stressed the decision was not irrevocable, but added:

"In fairness to the team and because of the necessity of crowding enough execution work into the short time available we can work with only two quarterbacks at a time."

He said Cagle would continue to attend quarterback meetings but that the staff would try to find another position for Cagle.

"He's too good an athlete to stay on the third team," Mackenzie added.

Cagle, from Lawton, became the Sooners' regular quarterback last year after the Texas game. During the spring he worked some at safety.

Burgar, the best passer of the trio, was red-shirted last season. In high school he started 48 straight games.

Warmack is the best runner of the quarterbacks.

Indications are that Mackenzie plans to red-shirt another sophomore, Chebon Dacon. Dacon underwent knee surgery last spring.

Kirkland, Coleman Please NU Coaches

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Two Nebraska gridders who were slowed by injuries much of last season were cited Friday by coach Bob Devaney for their improved performance during the first week of fall drills.

"Ron Kirkland and Langston Coleman both have been looking good so far," Devaney observed Friday afternoon.

Kirkland, a 219-pound, two-year letterman from West Bend, Wis., and Coleman, a 197-pound, two-year letterman from Washington, D.C., both are being counted on heavily this fall; Kirkland at offensive left halfback and Coleman at defensive right end.

"Kirkland looks better physically this year," Devaney noted. "And Coleman is moving better. Both have had trouble with injuries in the past, but they don't show any signs of the past injuries bothering them."

The Husker coaches continued to look at a quartet of tight ends in an effort to fill the vacancy left by the graduation of Tony Jeter. And Devaney pointed out that Dennis Morrison continues to look good at that position.

"He looks good every day and we have moved him up to alternate with those who were listed ahead of him," Devaney said.

Morrison, the 6-1, 202-pound junior from Omaha who was shifted from halfback to tight end during spring drills, started the fall camp Monday behind Mike Wynn, Dan Delaney and Miles Kimmel.

Devaney plans to send his Big Eight favorites through their toughest contact session of the fall this afternoon after a shorts session this morning.

"We'll be rotating the units quite a bit so we can get a good look at everyone," he said. The scrimmage will be filmed and some lineup changes could show up next week after the movies have been scrutinized.

The Husker coach also expressed pleasure with the conduct of the eager NU fans who have watched practice sessions from the south bank of the practice field.

"We are happy to have people watch from the bank," he pointed out. "They have been very cooperative about staying off the field where they could hinder our workouts.

"We hope they continue to show the same fine cooperation."

The bank affords an excellent view of the entire practice area.

Braves' Oliver Says 'Play Me Or Trade Me'

Atlanta (AP) — Gene Oliver, Atlanta's second-team catcher, said Friday he plans to retire unless the Braves play him more or trade him to another club.

The 31-year-old catcher, having his worst season, told the Atlanta Journal that he believes his talents have been wasted this year.

"I realize that I'm playing behind probably the best catcher in baseball, Joe Torre, but I think I should be valuable enough to somebody to play more than I have."

Bob Charles became the first lefthander to win a major tournament by taking the British Open in 1963.

Italian Girl Refuses Sex Exam; Goes Home

Budapest (AP)—An Italian girl angrily withdrew from the European track and field championship Friday after refusing to undergo mandatory medical examination for all female participants.

Maria Vittoria Trio, 18, left for Italy with her shocked parents. She said religious grounds prevented her from submitting to a physical check by doctors representing the games' organizing committee.

Her departure, linked to a virtual ultimatum to world champion high jumper Illolanda Balas of Romania to face the doctors or retire from the championship, dramatized a new regulation aimed at making sure that all girl athletes compete against fullfledged members of their sex.

Miss Balas arrived in Budapest Friday afternoon.

The women's high jump qualifications begin Saturday. The rules say all girls must be checked at least 48 hours before their appearance on the tracks.

The international jury gave Miss Balas what a games spokesman said was a "last chance" to have the doctors take a look at her.

There was no immediate comment from the Romanian athlete.

Three star Russian women athletes are absent from the games. They are Tamara and Irina Press and broad jumper Tatyana Shchelkanova. Russian officials say Miss Shchelkanova has a leg injury and that family reasons are keeping the Press sisters at home.

They have not commented on published reports that said they had not shown up because of the new medical examinations.

Oakland Steals Net 23-14 Win

. . . DOLPHINS LOSE OPENER

Miami, Fla. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders had to steal their old teammate, Dick Wood, blind Friday night to beat the amazing young Miami Dolphins 23-14 in the kick-off game of the American Football League season.

Howie Williams and Dave Grayson each snagged two of Wood's passes in the second period and the Raiders turned the first two thefts into 10 points in a three-minute span.

Except for this wholesale thievery against Wood, who was claimed by the Dolphins from Oakland in the AFL expansion draft, the new Miami team may have pulled off a real shocker by winning its first time out in league combat.

Joe Auer, a Miami boy who left the Los Angeles Rams to come home and join the Dolphins, gave Oakland's 17-point favorites a warning that a rough night was ahead when he raced 95 yards to a touchdown with the opening kick-off.

Only one Raider, Rodger Bird, got a shot at the fleet Auer. He missed at the 10 as Auer dove into the end zone, hitting the corner flag.

Then interceptions put the Raiders twice on the Dolphin 16, from where they scored on a two-yard run by Hewritt Dixon and a 16-yard field goal by Mike Mercer.

LeClerc's Kicks Edge Cardinals

Chicago (AP) — Roger LeClerc booted five field goals in as many tries Friday night as the Chicago Bears came from behind to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 22-20 in a National Football League exhibition finale for both clubs.

The veteran LeClerc, an unpredictable placekicker at best in the past, hit on 45, 22, 38, and a pair of 33-yard field goals.

—MAY BE TRYING TOO HARD—

Arnie's Army Could Be Cause Of Golf Slump

(Last in Series)

Philadelphia (AP)—One of the big reasons for Arnold Palmer's golf slump could be that he is trying too hard.

He is the only golfer on the tour with his own private army, Arnie's Army, one of the most vociferous and aggressive fan clubs in sports. Palmer knows it, and he tries his hardest to live up to their hero worship.

"They expect me to play well," the game's all-time leading money winner said recently in reviewing his mounting list of problems. "When I don't, I naturally feel I have let them down. So the next time I go out and try all the harder. The pressure just builds up."

Arnie's performances over the last couple of years have been a keen disappointment, but the allegiance of Arnie's Army apparently has been unshaken.

"When I go home after a tournament, there will be hundreds of letters, he said. "If I've had a bad tournament—and I've had a few lately—the letters are 99% encourageing.

"Those who write tell me not to worry, everything will be all right. Some exhort me to go get 'em—just as they do out on the course. Others give me advice."

Arnie hasn't won a major crown now since the Masters of 1964. In the past two years, he has won only four tournaments.

The low spot in his fabulous career was reached in June when he blew a seven-stroke lead over the last nine holes and lost by four shots in a playoff with Bill Casper for the National Open Championship at San Francisco.

Some contend that this may prove to be a psychological blow from which Palmer will never recover.

The one-time charger, renowned for his miracle birdie finishes in the early 1960s, shot a 77 on the last round of the Insurance City Open at Wethersfield, Conn., nearly two weeks ago and last week skied to a last round 74 after tying for the lead in the Philadelphia Classic.

Is Palmer the victim of last round jitters?

"I don't think so," Arnie insists. "I was disappointed that I didn't win at San Francisco, and it still bugs me a little that I lost as I did, but I don't intend to let it saturate my life.

"I go out and play the best I can. I don't try to force it. I have adopted the creed—I forget where it originated — which says, 'O God, give me the serenity to accept that which I cannot change, the courage to change that which should be canged and the wisdom to know the difference'."

Palmer said he now plans a month's rest and practice to regain the proper frame of mind. At the end of that time, he thinks he will be ready to make another strong bid at the major championships, with the professional grand slam still his No. 1 goal — that is, winning the PGA, British and U.S. Opens in a single year.

"I haven't given up on that," Palmer says. "I think it still can be done."

Palmer is 36, just a year older than Ben Hogan was when he won his first major title and four years younger than when Hogan won the Masters, British and U.S. Opens in 1953.

"I don't think there's any pattern to my recent bad last rounds," the millionaire pro from Latrobe, Pa., adds. "When I was winning, I always had one bad round in a tournament—these just happen to be the last day. I've had a bad shoulder, bursitis, and I've let my business interfere to an extent with my golf.

"I've reorganized my business better, and I can devote more time to golf. I won't play as much, perhaps just 15 or 20 tournaments a year, and I won't be as tired. I'll get those pieces put together and then the old feel will come back. Things will be different then."

Nagle Leads Casper By One In Carling Golf Tournament

. . . FINAL ROUND SCHEDULED TODAY

Southport, England (AP)—Kel Nagle, an Australian farmer turned golfer, held a one-shot lead after three rounds of the Carling Golf Championship Friday with U.S. Open champion Bill Casper breathing right down his neck after shooting a four-under-par 69.

Nagle went into Saturday's last round with 68-74-73-215 while Casper had 73-74-69-216.

Bert Yancey from Radnor, Pa., leader after 36 holes, had 73-68-76-217 and Bruce Devlin of Australia was on the same mark with 73-70-74,217.

Yancey kept alive his hopes of taking the first price of $35,000, one of the richest individual jackpots in the game, by carding an eagle on the 513-yard final hole where he sank a putt from 30 feet for a 3.

The final round in the $200,000 tournament over Royal Birkdale's 7,037-yard, par 35-38 links on the edge of the Irish Sea will be played today.

Start of the third round was held up more than an hour when pumps were needed to clear the greens of the water that collected after an all night rain. By the time the greens were fit for play, a howling wind swept in from the sea.

Early finishers had to fight the elements but those who played after lunch had almost ideal circumstances. Both Casper and Nagle were late starters.

Nagle, who defeated Arnold Palmer by one shot for the 1960 British Open Championship, got a birdie 2 at the short fourth hole where he chipped in from 30 feet and then canned a 20-footer for a birdie 3 at the eighth hole. He got another birdie 2 at the short 12th where he sank one from 16 feet.

Then he finished with four straight fives mostly because of bunker trouble. Those last four holes robbed him of what could have been a big lead-instead of just one shot.

Casper finished ahead of Nagle and had to wait to see if the Aussie would catch him.

The U.S. Open champion took only 28 putts in his round, had nine single putt greens and came back with a three-under-par 35. He had four birdies and an eagle on that hot streak. And he also had three bogeys. His eagle came at the 510-yard 17th where he landed his three-iron approach 30 feet from the pin and sank the putt.

Tigers To Rest Kaline; Hoping To Finish Strong

Detroit (AP)—Manager Frank Skaff said Friday he was taking Al Kaline out of the Tigers' line-up in hope the All-Star outfielder will "get strong for the finish."

Skaff's move came as the second-place Tigers prepared to open a four-game weekend series against the Cleveland Indians.

"Taking him out of the line-up was my thinking, not his," Skaff explained. "He hasn't said a word. I just told him he was out of there. We want him strong for the finish."

Injured Depree Drops From Kansas Grid '11'

Ralston Scores Easy Victory In U.S. Net Meet

Forest Hills, N.Y. (AP) — Dennis Ralston, America's top hope in the U.S. Tennis Championships, moved into the second round without trouble Friday, but Roy Emerson and Rafael Osuna had to battle for survival.

Ralston, who is seeded third, easily fought off Jasjit Singh of India, 6-1, 6-3, 7-5 But Emerson, an Australian who hasn't played much tennis since injuring a shoulder at Wimbledon, and Osuna, who has failed to retain the peak he showed in 1963, had to overcome numerous problems in their first round matches.

Emerson, winner here in 1961 and 1964 and the No. 2 seed this year beat Egyptian Ismael El Shafei, 6-3, 9-7, 9-7, after twice being within one point of losing the second set and losing his service four times in the third.

Osuna a former champion from Mexico but unseeded this year, had to go five sets before eliminating Ronald Barnes of Brazil 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Last year he beat Barnes in straight sets.

Cowboys Smarter, But Not Doing It As Well

Stillwater, Okla. (AP)—Coach Phil Cutchin said Friday his 1966 Cowboys know more football at this point than any other Oklahoma State edition, but he says they lack in execution.

"At this point in practice," Cutchin said after his second day of workouts, "the team knows more things than at any other comparable time . . . but we don't do them quite as well."

Gray, Beman Tied In National Amateu

. . . BEMAN'S FOUR-STROKE LEAD DISSIPATES WITH 7

Ardmore, Pa. (AP) — Downing Gray, 28-year-old Walker Cup ace from Pensacola, Fla., fired a two-under-par 68 and went into a tie for the lead at 214 with faltering Deane Beman Friday after three rounds in the 66th National Amateur Golf Championship.

Beman, 28-year-old Bethesda, Md., insurance executive seeking to become the first man since Bob Jones to win three Amateur titles, took a triple bogey 7 on the 15th and bogeyed two of the last three holes for a blowup 76.

He thus dissipated an imposing four-stroke edge which he had carried through 36 holes of his aged event over the 6,509-yard, par 70 Merion Golf Club course.

Meanwhile, Gray, son of one of Navy's all-time great athletes, wielded a 14-year-old Scottish putter like a magic wand and leaped over 12 men to tie for the top position.

One by one, the main challengers fell back in a wild demonstration of give away.

Just when it appeared that the mechanical, crew-cut Beman would make a runaway of this championship, the little two-time champion proved he was human.

On the 378-yard 15th hole, while enjoying a three-stroke lead, Beman hooked his drive out of bounds and hit his second drive just inside the markers.

He needed four shots to get on the fringe back of the green. He had an impossible chip and needed three to get down. Until the disastrous 15th, Beman had played 50 holes of almost flawless golf.

"I just hit the ball too hard," the 1960 and 1963 winner said. "I never hit the ball that far in my life, and it just went farther than I expected."

He said he wasn't getting tired, was not feeling pressure and felt no pain from the broken bone in his right hand which has caused him trouble this summer.

Oakland Steals Net 23-14 Win

. . . DOLPHINS LOSE OPENER

Miami, Fla. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders had to steal their old teammate, Dick Wood, blind Friday night to beat the amazing young Miami Dolphins 23-14 in the kickoff game of the American Football League season.

Howie Williams and Dave Grayson each snagged two of Wood's passes in the second period and the Raiders turned the first two thefts into 10 points in a three-minute span.

Except for this wholesale thievery against Wood, who was claimed by the Dolphins from Oakland in the AFL expansion draft, the new Miami team may have pulled off a real shocker by winning its first time out in league combat.

Joe Auer, a Miami boy who left the Los Angeles Rams to come home and join the Dolphins, gave Oakland's 17-point favorites a warning that a rough night was ahead when he raced 95 yards to a touchdown with the opening kickoff.

Only one Raider, Rodger Bird, got a shot at the fleet Auer. He missed at the 10 as Auer dove into the end zone, hitting the corner flag.

Then interceptions put the Raiders twice on the Dolphin 16, from where they scored on a two-yard run by Hewritt Dixon and a 16-yard field goal by Mike Mercer.

LeClerc's Kicks Edge Cardinals

Chicago (AP) — Roger LeClerc booted five field goals in as many tries Friday night as the Chicago Bears came from behind to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 22-20 in a National Football League exhibition finale for both clubs.

The veteran LeClerc, an unpredictable placekicker at best in the past, hit on 45, 22, 38, and a pair of 33-yard field goals.

—MAY BE TRYING TOO HARD—

Arnie's Army Could Be Cause Of Golf Slump

(Last in Series)

Philadelphia (AP)—One of the big reasons for Arnold Palmer's golf slump could be that he is trying too hard.

He is the only golfer on the tour with his own private army, Arnie's Army, one of the most vociferous and aggressive fan clubs in sports. Palmer knows it, and he tries his hardest to live up to their hero worship.

"They expect me to play well," the game's all-time leading money winner said recently in reviewing his mounting list of problems. "When I don't, I naturally feel I have let them down. So the next time I go out and try all the harder. The pressure just builds up."

Arnie's performances over the last couple of years have been a keen disappointment, but the allegiance of Arnie's Army apparently has been unshaken.

"When I go home after a tournament, there will be hundreds of letters, he said. "If I've had a bad tournament—and I've had a few lately—the letters are 99% encourageing.

"Those who write tell me not to worry, everything will be all right. Some exhort me to go get 'em—just as they do out on the course. Others give me advice."

Arnie hasn't won a major crown now since the Masters of 1964. In the past two years, he has won only four tournaments.

The low spot in his fabulous career was reached in June when he blew a seven-stroke lead over the last nine holes and lost by four shots in a playoff with Bill Casper for the National Open Championship at San Francisco.

Some contend that this may prove to be a psychological blow from which Palmer will never recover.

The one-time charger, renowned for his miracle birdie finishes in the early 1960s, shot a 77 on the last round of the Insurance City Open at Wethersfield, Conn., nearly two weeks ago and last week skied to a last round 74 after tying for the lead in the Philadelphia Classic.

Is Palmer the victim of last round jitters?

"I don't think so," Arnie insists. "I was disappointed that I didn't win at San Francisco, and it still bugs me a little that I lost as I did, but I don't intend to let it saturate my life.

"I go out and play the best I can. I don't try to force it. I have adopted the creed—I forget where it originated —which says, 'O God, give me the serenity to accept that which I cannot change, the courage to change that which should be canged and the wisdom to know the difference'."

Palmer said he now plans a month's rest and practice to regain the proper frame of mind. At the end of that time, he thinks he will be ready to make another strong bid at the major championships, with the professional grand slam still his No. 1 goal — that is, winning the PGA, British and U.S. Opens in a single year.

"I haven't given up on that," Palmer says. "I think it still can be done."

Palmer is 36, just a year older than Ben Hogan was when he won his first major title and four years younger than when Hogan won the Masters, British and U.S. Opens in 1953.

"I don't think there's any pattern to my recent bad last rounds," the millionaire pro from Latrobe, Pa., adds. "When I was winning, I always had one bad round in a tournament—these just happen to be the last day. I've had a bad shoulder, bursitis, and I've let my business interfere to an extent with my golf.

"I've reorganized my business better, and I can devote more time to golf. I won't play as much, perhaps just 15 or 20 tournaments a year, and I won't be as tired. I'll get those pieces put together and then the old feel will come back. Things will be different then."

Nagle Leads Casper By One In Carling Golf Tournament

. . . FINAL ROUND SCHEDULED TODAY

Southport, England (AP)—Kel Nagle, an Australian farmer turned golfer, held a one-shot lead after three rounds of the Carling Golf Championship Friday with U.S. Open champion Bill Casper breathing right down his neck after shooting a four-under-par 69.

Nagle went into Saturday's last round with 68-74-73-215 while Casper had 73-74-69-216.

Bert Yancy from Radnor, Pa., leader after 36 holes, had 73-68-76-217 and Bruce Devlin of Australia was on the same mark with 73-70-74,217.

Yancey kept alive his hopes of taking the first price of $35,000, one of the richest individual jackpots in the game, by carding an eagle on the 513-yard final hole where he sank a putt from 30 feet for a 3.

The final round in the $200,000 tournament over Royal Birkdale's 7,037-yard, par 35-38 links on the edge of the Irish Sea will be played today.

Start of the third round was held up more than an hour when pumps were needed to clear the greens of the water that collected after an all night rain. By the time the greens were fit for play, a howling wind swept in from the sea.

Early finishers had to fight the elements but those who played after lunch had almost ideal circumstances. Both Casper and Nagle were late starters.

Nagle, who defeated Arnold Palmer by one shot for the 1960 British Open Championship, got a birdie 2 at the short fourth hole where he chipped in from 30 feet and then canned a 20-footer for a birdie 3 at the eighth hole. He got another birdie 2 at the short 12th where he sank one from 16 feet.

Then he finished with four straight fives mostly because of bunker trouble. Those last four holes robbed him of what could have been a big lead instead of just one shot.

Casper finished ahead of Nagle and had to wait to see if the Aussie would catch him.

The U.S. Open champion took only 28 putts in his round, had nine single putt greens and came back with a three-under-par 35. He had four birdies and an eagle on that hot streak. And he also had three bogeys. His eagle came at the 510-yard 17th where he landed his three-iron approach 30 feet from the pin and sank the putt.

Tigers To Rest Kaline; Hoping To Finish Strong

Detroit (AP)—Manager Frank Skaff said Friday he was taking Al Kaline out of the Tigers' line-up in hope the All-Star outfielder will "get strong for the finish."

Skaff's move came as the second-place Tigers prepared to open a four-game weekend series against the Cleveland Indians.

"Taking him out of the line-up was my thinking, not his," Skaff explained. "He hasn't said a word. I just told him he was out of there. We want him strong for the finish."

Ralston Scores Easy Victory In U.S. Net Meet

Forest Hills, N.Y. (AP) — Dennis Ralston, America's top hope in the U.S. Tennis Championships, moved into the second round without trouble Friday, but Roy Emerson and Rafael Osuna had to battle for survival.

Ralston, who is seeded third, easily fought off Jasjit Singh of India, 6-1, 6-3, 7-5 But Emerson, an Australian who hasn't played much tennis since injuring a shoulder at Wimbledon, and Osuna, who has failed to retain the peak he showed in 1963, had to overcome numerous problems in their first round matches.

Emerson, winner here in 1961 and 1964 and the No. 2 seed this year beat Egyptian Ismael El Shafei, 6-3, 9-7, 9-7, after twice being within one point of losing the second set and losing his service four times in the third.

Osuna a former champion from Mexico but unseeded this year, had to go five sets before eliminating Ronald Barnes of Brazil 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Last year he beat Barnes in straight sets.

Cowboys Smarter, But Not Doing It As Well

Stillwater, Okla. (AP)—Coach Phil Cutchin said Friday his 1966 Cowboys know more football at this point than any other Oklahoma State edition, but he says they lack in execution.

"At this point in practice," Cutchin said after his second day of workouts, "the team knows more things than at any other comparable time . . . but we don't do them quite as well."

Gray, Beman Tied In National Amateu

. . . BEMAN'S FOUR-STROKE LEAD DISSIPATES WITH

Ardmore, Pa. (AP) — Downing Gray, 28-year-old Walker Cup ace from Pensacola, Fla., fired a two-under-par 68 and went into a tie for the lead at 214 with faltering Deane Beman Friday after three rounds in the 66th National Amateur Golf Championship.

Beman, 28-year-old Bethesda, Md., insurance executive seeking to become the first man since Bob Jones to win three Amateur titles, took a triple bogey 7 on the 15th and bogeyed two of the last three holes for a blowup 76.

He thus dissipated an imposing four-stroke edge which he had carried through 36 holes of his aged event over the 6,509-yard, par 70 Merion Golf Club course.

Meanwhile, Gray, son of one of Navy's all-time great athletes, wielded a 14-year-old Scottish putter like a magic wand and leaped over 12 men to tie for the top position.

One by one, the main challengers fell back in a wild demonstration of give away.

Just when it appeared that the mechanical, crew-cut Beman would make a runaway of this championship, the little two-time champion proved he was human.

On the 378-yard 15th hole, while enjoying a three-stroke lead, Beman hooked his drive out of bounds and hit his second drive just inside the markers.

He needed four shots to get on the fringe back of the green. He had an impossible chip and needed three to get down. Until the disastrous 15th, Beman had played 50 holes of almost flawless golf.

"I just hit the ball too hard," the 1960 and 1963 winner said. "I never hit the ball that far in my life, and it just went farther than I expected."

He said he wasn't getting tired, was not feeling pressure and felt no pain from the broken bone in his right hand which has caused him trouble this summer.

Administration Hit By Accounting Firm

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Administrative deficiencies in the top echelon of the Department of Administrative Services were said Friday to be the major obstacles to orderly implementation of the state's new accounting and budgeting system.

Representatives of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. (PMM), accounting and fiscal mangement consultants, told the Legislative Council's executive committee that lack of administrative leadership and communication led to the current chaotic situation.

Mauritz said the firm would continue working on data processing, programming and systems identification and accounting controls, but he said personnel problems indicated are the ultimate responsibility of the governor.

PMM representatives and the executive committee agreed that Administrative Services "must establish—or re-establish — communication with the state departments and agencies," and consultants would make "weekly reports" to Sen. Richard Marvel, budget committee chairman, and Sen. Marvin Stromer, Legislative Council executive committee member.

'Brow-Beaten'

Mauritz said data processing personnel, responsible for the operation of the state's new million-dollar computer, have been "working to the utmost of their abilities," but have been "brow-beaten and dominated" by the department's accounting division

He recommended data processing be made a division, co-equal to existing accounting and budget divisions, and data Processing Manager Peter Waal have "more administrative freedom."

Sen. Marvel suggested this should be done by executive order rather than wait for the change by 1967 legislation.

Sen. Stromer said Administrative Services will become "a million dollar orphan" in state government unless the situation improves.

Marvel also noted that the firm's letter of Aug. 4, advising Administrative Services Director Willard Townsend of "personnel and functional deficiencies" within the department could be summarized as urging "a good, old-fashioned ramrod is needed to get things done."

'Suggestions Ignored'

PMM representatives also reported a number of recommendations were made from January through June regarding implementation of the new system, but said these "were ignored" by the department.

Marvel said the six months delay in implementing the new budget system was due "to lack of initiative in the budget division."

"The governor will have no more assistance in budget preparation than he did two years ago," charged Stromer.

Anthony Mandolini, another PMM partner, said, "There will be a few more tools in some instances," but conceded that the new budget division generally missed the boat in preparing itself and the state departments and agencies for the conversion.

Blame Consultants

The senators suggested that the consultants, as the technicians in the new system, had failed their responsibilities in not directly advising the Legislature's executive committee, and perhaps the governor, of the growing problems within the department.

Marvel, considered the father of LB173, said he has spent four weeks in attempting to uncover the problems, but noted much of his effort ran into roadblocks.

He said Friday's report was "the frankest" that Legislative representatives have ever gotten from PMM.

The consulting firm conferred earlier Friday with Gov. Morrison, apparently regarding personnel problems indicated to the senators.

In addition to the "weekly reports," PMM representatives and the executive committee indicated another meeting would be held about Oct. 1 regarding other critical deadlines in the system's implementation.

Retrial Ordered For Mass Killers

Vienna (UPI)—Johann and Wilhelm Mauer, brothers charged with the mass slaughter of Jews in Stanislau Poland, between 1941 and 1943, will be retried next month, the Supreme Court announced Friday.

The jury in a trial last February ruled them not guilty on nine of eleven charges and said the brothers had no choice but to obey orders on the other two counts. The judge stopped the trial because of an "obvious jury error."

TENNESSEE ERNIE . . . meeting the crowd.

Ernie Brings Back Memories

By FAYE COLBURN
Star Staff Writer

"Where is he? I hear him but where . . ." Even the spotlight couldn't locate the old pea picker.

That's how Tennessee Ernie Ford began his Friday night performance in the grandstand of the state fairgrounds.

Finally, however, he came out of hiding, singing "Gee but it's good to be here."

Behind him was an horizon pinpointed with the star-like lights of the fairgrounds, floodlights on the white expanses of exhibit buildings, here and there a car moving through the maze, lights reflecting across water standing on the track, all silhouetted against a black Nebraska sky.

"Working hard on the chain gang" seemed to cause reminiscences in the minds of the audience as Nebraska farmers considered farms they had so recently left behind, some in the farthest portions of outstate Nebraska.

Resonant Voice

With his deep resonant voice singing of the experiences of life, Ford awakened the crowd to a consciousness of home and security.

Following Ernie were the Berosini Chimps, colorful in the garb of the old West, arrayed as Indian chiefs.

"Limber little fella isn't he?" came from the audience as one of the chimps skipped through an acrobatic act that Olympic champions would be at a loss to equal.

The Elkins Sisters from Vienna drew a great deal of enthusiasm from their audience with acrobatics —"in unison"—And, oh, what unison.

Tennessee Ernie in the role of MC encouraged young talent with a few succinct words, "By that I don't mean grow your hair down over your eyebrows, make a record . . . and like that!" He was introducing the Highwaymen, who don't grow their hair down to their eyebrows. But they have made a record, quite a number of them, in fact. In their own harmonious words "Woopee!"

Juggling Daring

The Half Brothers staged a daring juggling act, much to the chagrin of one young member of the audience who was bold enough to volunteer to help them out on stage.

With pins whizzing by his his head on both sides, he couldn't keep from jumping—for joy?

The mood again changed when Tennessee Ernie came back front and center with such tunes as Sixteen Tons, and others like Tennessee Waltz. . .

Nebraska Navy's First Ship Back From River Trip

Weatherbeaten but still seaworthy, the S.S. Centennial, the first ship in the mythical Nebraska navy, has arrived in Nebraska following its trip down the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans, the State Centennial Commission reported Friday.

The commission said the ship arrived at the Steinhart terminal in Nebraska City Thursday on a tow barge. The ship will be displayed at the State Fair next week.

The Centennial Commission sponsored the Omaha-New Orleans cruise to promote the state's 1967 centennial celebration.

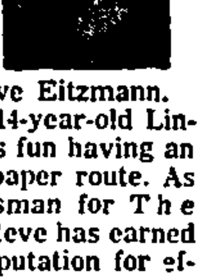
Meet Star Carrier Steve Eitzmann

Some people may think that getting up before five o'clock in the morning is difficult but it isn't for Steve Eitzmann.



STEVE EITZMANN

Early Riser

In fact, the 14-year-old Lincolnite says it's fun having an early moring paper route. As a carrier salesman for The Lincoln Star, Steve has earned an enviable reputation for efficient service and many of his customers are convinced that he is the best paper boy they've ever had.

Profits from his job have helped Steve to become a stockholder in the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company—the firm with which his father holds a job as field engineer.

Steve attends Charles Culler Jr. High and plays halfback on the school's football team.

He is a member of the Walther League at Faith Lutheran Church and spends some of his spare time on such hobbies as building model airplanes and doing gymnastics.

As to the future, Steve would like to become an engineer.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eitzmann think their son has learned much through his job and feel that any young man could benefit from a paper route.

A Stamp Collector? Then pictures and news of new and old Stamps in the "Sunday Journal and Star's "Stamp News" column is a must.

Administration Hit By Accounting Firm

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Administrative deficiencies the top echelon of the Deartment of Administrative ervices were said Friday to e the major obstacles to orerly implementation of the tate's new accounting and udgeting system.

Representatives of Peat, arwick, Mitchell & Co. PMM), accounting and fisal mangement consultants, old the Legislative Council's xecutive committee that lack f administrative leadership nd communication led to the urrent chaotic situation.

Mauritz said the firm would ontinue working on data proessing, programming and ystems identification and acounting controls, but he said ersonnel problems indicated re the ultimate responsibilty of the governor.

PMM representatives and he executive committee agreed that Administrative Services "must establish—or re-establish — communication with the state departments and agencies," and consultants would make "weekly reports" to Sen. Richard Marvel, budget committee chairman, and Sen. Marvin Stromer, Legislative Council executive committee member.

'Brow-Beaten'

Mauritz said data processing personnel, responsible for the operation of the state's new million-dollar computer. have been "working to the utmost of their abilities," but have been "brow-beaten and dominated" by the department's accounting division.

He recommended data processing be made a division, co-equal to existing accounting and budget divisions, and data Processing Manager Peter Waal have "more administrative freedom."

Sen. Marvel suggested this should be done by executive order rather than wait for the change by 1967 legislation.

Sen. Stromer said Administrative Services will become "a million dollar orphan" in state government unless the situation improves.

Marvel also noted that the firm's letter of Aug. 4, advising Administrative Services Director Willard Townsend of "personnel and functional deficiencies" within the department could be summarized as urging "a good, old-fashioned ramrod is needed to get things done."

'Suggestions Ignored'

PMM representatives also reported a number of recommendations were made from January through June regarding implementation of the new system, but said these "were ignored" by the department.

Marvel said the six months delay in implementing the new budget system was due "to lack of initiative in the budget division."

"The governor will have no more assistance in budget preparation than he did two years ago." charged Stromer.

Anthony Mandolini, another PMM partner, said, "There will be a few more tools in some instances," but conceded that the new budget division generally missed the boat in preparing itself and the state departments and agencies for the conversion.

Blame Consultants

The senators suggested that the consultants, as the technicians in the new system, had failed their responsibilities in not directly advising the Legislature's executive committee, and perhaps the governor, of the growing problems within the department.

Marvel, considered the father of LB173, said he has spent four weeks in attempting to uncover the problems, but noted much of his effort ran into roadblocks.

He said Friday's report was "the frankest" that Legislative representatives have ever gotten from PMM.

The consulting firm conferred earlier Friday with Gov. Morrison, apparently regarding personnel problems indicated to the senators.

In addition to the "weekly reports," PMM representatives and the executive committee indicated another meeting would be held about Oct. 1 regarding other critical deadlines in the system's implementation.

Retrial Ordered For Mass Killers

Vienna (UPI)—Johann and Wilhelm Mauer, brothers charged with the mass slaughter of Jews in Stanislau Poland, between 1941 and 1943, will be retried next month, the Supreme Court announced Friday.

The jury in a trial last February ruled them not guilty on nine of eleven charges and said the brothers had no choice but to obey orders on the other two counts. The judge stopped the trial because of an "obvious jury error."

STAR PHOTO

TENNESSEE ERNIE . . . meeting the crowd.

Ernie Brings Back Memories

By FAYE COLBURN
Star Staff Writer

"Where is he? I hear him but where . . ." Even the spotlight couldn't locate the old pea picker.

That's how Tennessee Ernie Ford began his Friday night performance in the grandstand of the state fairgrounds.

Finally, however, he came out of hiding, singing "Gee but it's good to be here."

Behind him was an horizon pinpointed with the star-like lights of the fairgrounds, floodlights on the white expanses of exhibit buildings, here and there a car moving through the maze, lights reflecting across water standing on the track, all silhouetted against a black Nebraska sky.

"Working hard on the chain gang" seemed to cause reminiscences in the minds of the audience as Nebraska farmers considered farms they had so recently left behind, some in the farthest portions of outstate Nebraska.

Resonant Voice

With his deep resonant voice singing of the experiences of life, Ford awakened the crowd to a consciousness of home and security.

Following Ernie were the Berosini Chimps, colorful in the garb of the old West, arrayed as Indian chiefs.

"Limber little fella isn't he?" came from the audience as one of the chimps skipped through an acrobatic act that Olympic champions would be at a loss to equal.

The Elkins Sisters from Vienna drew a great deal of enthusiasm from their audience with acrobatics —"in unison"—And, oh, what unison.

Tennessee Ernie in the role of MC encouraged young talent with a few succinct words, "By that I don't mean grow your hair down over your eyebrows, make a record . . . and like that!" He was introducing the Highwaymen, who don't grow their hair down to their eyebrows. But they have made a record, quite a number of them, in fact. In their own harmonious words "Woopee!"

Juggling Daring

The Half Brothers staged a daring juggling act, much to the chagrin of one young member of the audience who was bold enough to volunteer to help them out on stage.

With pins whizzing by his his head on both sides, he couldn't keep from jumping—for joy?

Nebraska Navy's First Ship Back From River Trip

Weatherbeaten but still seaworthy, the S.S. Centennial, the first ship in the mythical Nebraska navy, has arrived in Nebraska following its trip down the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans, the State Centennial Commission reported Friday.

The commission said the ship arrived at the Steinhart terminal in Nebraska City Thursday on a tow barge. The ship will be displayed at the State Fair next week.

The Centennial Commission sponsored the Omaha-New Orleans cruise to promote the state's 1967 centennial celebration.

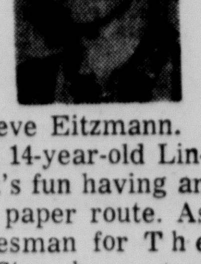
Meet Star Carrier Steve Eitzmann

Some people may think that getting up before five o'clock in the morning is difficult but it isn't for Steve Eitzmann.



STEVE EITZMANN

Early Riser

In fact, the 14-year-old Lincolnite says it's fun having an early moring paper route. As a carrier salesman for The Lincoln Star, Steve has earned an enviable reputation for efficient service and many of his customers are convinced that he is the best paper boy they've ever had.

Profits from his job have helped Steve to become a stockholder in the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company—the firm with which his father holds a job as field engineer.

Steve attends Charles Culler Jr. High and plays halfback on the school's football team.

He is a member of the Walther League at Faith Lutheran Church and spends some of his spare time on such hobbies as building model airplanes and doing gymnastics.

As to the future, Steve would like to become an engineer.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eitzmann think their son has learned much through his job and feel that any young man could benefit from a paper route.

A Stamp Collector? Then pictures and news of new and old Stamps in the "Sunday Journal and Star's "Stamp News" column is a must.

Glamor Stocks, Airlines Slump

New York (AP)—Airlines and glamor stocks showed some sharp losses Friday and the over-all stock market declined in advance of the long Labor Day weekend. Trading was moderate.

Volume was 6.08 million shares compared with 6.25 million Thursday.

The market rallied above its lows when the Dow Jones industrial average was down to a thumping loss of 13.20. At the close, the average showed a decline of only 4.40 at 787.69.

Not unexpectedly, the market was weak from the start as traders took profits on three days of sharp recovery from the 2½-year lows reached Monday when the seven-month slide appeared to have reached a temporary bottom.

Airlines were especially hard hit as a result of prominently published opinion that the increase in labor costs would cut deeply into profit margins.

Airline stocks were down 4 or 5 points in some instances. Losses ran that bad or even worse among some of the glamor stocks in other groups.

Motorola lost 7, Xerox 6½ and Polaroid 4⅝.

"The rally from the Tuesday lows appears to have come to an end and it looks as if the market may have another key test next week," said Newton D. Ziner, analyst for E. F. Hutton & Co.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .1 at 283.8 with industrials down .7, rails down .3 and utilities up .9.

Of 1,391 issues traded, 316 rose and 619 fell. News lows for the year totaled 94. There were no new highs.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks fell, three rose and two were unchanged.

Chrysler was the most active stock, down 1¼ at 35¼ on 357,500. Wall Street sources said that some institution investors had seized upon recent strength in Chrysler to unload their holdings.

Prices declined irregularly on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.37 million shares compared with 1.41 million Thursday.

Corporate bonds declined. U.S. Treasury bonds advanced.

Grain Futures Mart Rallies In Late Trade

Chicago (AP)—After a slow and hesitant trade most of the day with prices both slightly above and below previous closes, most commodities in the grain futures market rallied in late transactions Friday and finished with their third successive advance.

Dealers said the market seemed to lack new factors of any consequence except in soybeans where the September delivery closed weak. The other months, influenced somewhat by September, finished steady to easier.

Transactions almost entirely were described as balancing commitments for the three-day holiday weekend.

Wheat closed ⅝-1⅜ cents a bushel higher, September $1.89-89¼; corn ⅜-1¼ higher, September $1.45⅞-46, oats ½ higher to ¼ lower, September 73¼ cents; rye 1 to 2¼ higher, September $1.26½; soybeans unchanged to 5⅛ lower, September $3.37½-¾.

Douglas Co. Mus Show Cause For Omaha Levy Cut

Omaha (AP)—District Judge John E. Murphy ruled Friday that Douglas County must show why a roll-back in the city of Omaha's tax levy should remain in effect.

The county board slashed the city's levy from 22 mills to 18.71 mills in an attempt to offset recent state-ordered valuaton increases. The city challenged the action in court.

Judge Murphy gave the county a week to answer in a legal brief the challenge made by the city. He said he would set the date for the county's "show cause" hearing later.

Glamor Stocks, Airlines Slump

New York (AP)—Airlines and glamor stocks showed some sharp losses Friday and the over-all stock market declined in advance of the long Labor Day weekend. Trading was moderate.

Volume was 6.08 million shares compared with 6.25 million Thursday.

The market rallied above its lows when the Dow Jones industrial average was down to a thumping loss of 13.20. At the close, the average showed a decline of only 4.40 at 787.69.

Not unexpectedly, the market was weak from the start as traders took profits on three days of sharp recovery from the 2½-year lows reached Monday when the seven-month slide appeared to have reached a temporary bottom.

Airlines were especially hard hit as a result of prominently published opinion that the increase in labor costs would cut deeply into profit margins.

Airline stocks were down 4 or 5 points in some instances. Losses ran that bad or even worse among some of the glamor stocks in other groups.

Motorola lost 7, Xerox 6½ and Polaroid 4⅝.

"The rally from the Tuesday lows appears to have come to an end and it looks as if the market may have another key test next week," said Newton D. Ziner, analyst for E. F. Hutton & Co.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .1 at 283.8 with industrials down .7, rails down .3 and utilities up .9.

Of 1,391 issues traded, 516 rose and 619 fell. News lows for the year totaled 94. There were no new highs.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks fell, three rose and two were unchanged.

Chrysler was the most active stock, down 1¼ at 35¾ on 357,500. Wall Street sources said that some institution investors had seized upon recent strength in Chrysler to unload their holdings.

Prices declined irregularly on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.37 million shares compared with 1.41 million Thursday.

Corporate bonds declined. U.S. Treasury bonds advanced.

Grain Futures Mart Rallies In Late Trade

Chicago (AP)—After a slow and hesitant trade most of the day with prices both slightly above and below previous closes, most commodities in the grain futures market ralled in late transactions Friday and finished with their third successive advance.

Dealers said the market seemed to lack new factors of any consequence except in soybeans where the September delivery closed weak. The other months, influenced somewhat by September, finished steady to easier.

Transactions almost entirely were described as balancing commitments for the three-day holiday weekend.

Wheat closed ⅝-1⅝ cents a bushel higher, September $1.89-89¼; corn ⅜-1¼ higher, September $1.45⅞-46; oats ½ higher to ¼ lower, September 73¼ cents; rye 1 to 2¼ higher, September $1.26½; soybeans unchanged to 5½ lower, September $3.37½-¼.

NU Graduate Student Voted SDS Office

Clear Lake, Iowa—University of Nebraska graduate students Carl Davidson, 23, was elected vice president of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) Thursday night at the last session of the group's national convention.

A Swarthmore, Pa., College graduate, Nick Egleson, 22, was elected president of the left-wing organization.

After a week of debate on the draft and the Viet Nam war, delegates from the 200 local SDS chapters Friday passed a mild resolution urging draft resistance on the chapter level.

Earlier in the week, the students had agitated some Iowans and church groups with their frank talk and casual appearance.

Physically Limited Women May Enjoy Exhibit

Homemakers with a physical limitation may find a visit to the State Fair in Lincoln this year could change their lives.

"Homemaking Unlimited", a mobile display unit co-sponsored by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics and the Nebraska Heart Association, will be stationed on the Fairgrounds near Agricultural Hall.

The unique unit, the only one of its kind in the nation, is part of a rehabilitation program designed to enable the physically limited person to see and try out ideas for simplifying activities in the home.

Dr. Virginia Trotter, Associate dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, explained that thousands of Nebraska homemakers have physical disabilities, ranging from leg braces to the person with a heart condition. However, she stressed, these people have a lot more ability than disability.

"Homemaking is the largest profession employing the most people, yet the least is being done in this area of rehabilitation," she said. In contrast, a man with a physical limitation may find a new job suited to his limitation, but the homemaker must continue her daily duties, she said.

Made possible by a research grant from the Nebraska Heart Association, the unit incorporates information from research studies on labor-saving devices and work simplification conducted throughout the United States.

It will also be used for future research and graduate training under the direction of Dr. Trotter, and Dr. Lois O. Schwab, project co-ordinator.

Traveling with the unit will be Miss Alice Burton, hostess-instructor and rehabilitation research associate for the NU Department of Family Economics and Management. After a stop at the fair, she will take the mobile vehicle on travels across Nebraska, stopping first in Scotts Bluff county. Visits to 17 other Nebraska counties are planned for the coming year, followed by a full state participation.

Programmed through the NU Cooperative Extension Service, "Homemaking Unlimited" will offer an opportunity for community participation on a large scale. Doctors nurses, health related agencies, community leaders, builders, architects and home economists will form a local advisory council under the direction of their county extension agent.

State Labor Head Urges Education For Young People

State Labor Commissioner John E. Sidner Friday urged young Nebraskans who have not completed their education to return to school this fall.

He said young people who drop out of school are more likely to be unemployed or to hold low income or undesirable jobs.

"In terms of dollars and cents," he said, "the high school graduate can expect to earn in his lifetime approximately $100,000 more than the dropout," he said. "Knowledge is the most useful total of any worker."

Matching Federal Grant Approved For Kimball Park

The U.S. Interior Department has approved a $65,806 federal grant to pay half the costs of developing a city-county park at Kimball, Gov. Frank Morrison said Friday.

The federal dollars, available under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, will be matched with state and local money, he said.

The governor siad the Interior Department has also approved a $5,257 grant to assist in the development of camping facilities at two state wayside areas on U.S. Highway 6, four miles east of Hastings and near the Big Blue River in Seward County.

State funds will match the $5,257 grant, he noted.

Heart Attack Caused Ross N. Cox Death

The Lincoln office of Northern Natural Gas Co. reported Friday that Ross N. Cox, Lincoln area manager who died in Arizona Thursday, was the victim of a heart attack, not an accident, as earlier reported.

Mr. Cox suffered the heart attack while traveling by car near Springerville, Ariz., the office reported.

Journal and Star

Want Ads

Your low-cost Want Ad appears daily in the Lincoln Star (Morning) and the Lincoln Journal (Evening) or the Sunday Journal and Star at the following cash rates:

Words	Lines	DAYS
		1	4	7	10
—10	2	.80	2.56	3.64	4.00

Physically Limited Women May Enjoy Exhibit

Homemakers with a physical limtiation may find a visit to the State Fair in Lincoln this year could change their lives.

"Homemaking Unlimited", a mobile display unit co-sponsored by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics and the Nebraska Heart Association, will be stationed on the Fairgrounds near Agricultural Hall.

The unique unit, the only one of its kind in the nation, is part of a rehabilitation program designed to enable the physically limited person to see and try out ideas for simplifying activities in the home.

Dr. Virginia Trotter, Associate dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, explained that thousands of Nebraska homemakers have physical disabilities, ranging from leg braces to the person with a heart condition. However, she stressed, these people have a lot more ability than disability.

"Homemaking is the largest profession employing the most people, yet the least is being done in this area of rehabilitation," she said. In contrast, a man with a physical limitation may find a new job suited to his limitation, but the homemaker must continue her daily duties, she said.

Made possible by a research grant from the Nebraska Heart Association, the unit incorporates information from research studies on labor-saving devices and work simplification conducted throughout the United States.

It will also be used for future research and graduate training under the direction of Dr. Trotter, and Dr. Lois O. Schwab, project co-ordinator.

Traveling with the unit will be Miss Alice Burton, hostess-instructor and rehabilitation research associate for the NU Department of Family Economics and Management. After a stop at the fair, she will take the mobile vehicle on travels across Nebraska, stopping first in Scotts Bluff county. Vistis to 17 other Nebraska counties are planned for the coming year, followed by a full state participation.

Programmed through the NU Cooperative Extension Service, "Homemaking Unlimited" will offer an opportunity for community participation on a large scale. Doctors nurses, health related agencies, community leaders, builders, architects and home economists will form a local advisory council under the direction of their county extension agent.

State Labor Head Urges Education For Young People

State Labor Commissioner John E. Sidner Friday urged young Nebraskans who have not completed their education to return to school this fall.

He said young people who drop out of school are more likely to be unemployed or to hold low income or undesirable jobs.

"In terms of dollars and cents," he said, "the high school graduate can expect to earn in his lifetime approximately $100,000 more than the dropout," he said. "Knowledge is the most useful total of any worker."

Matching Federal Grant Approved For Kimball Park

The U.S. Interior Department has approved a $65,806 federal grant to pay half the costs of developing a city-county park at Kimball, Gov. Frank Morrison said Friday.

The federal dollars, available under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, will be matched with state and local money, he said.

The governor siad the Interior Department has also approved a $5,257 grant to assist in the development of camping facilities at two state wayside areas on U.S. Highway 6, four miles east of Hastings and near the Big Blue River in Seward County.

State funds will match the $5,257 grant, he noted.

GOING GOING
All summer, everyone's been going to see the Celebrity. It's the house that got the season going in Lincoln. Now, the furniture is going to be removed. The Celebrity won't be around much longer. See it this weekend—at 3010 Loveland Drive—just one block north of 30th and Pioneers. Don't put it off. The Celebrity is going . . . going . . .

To The Work...

Here is a prayer for Labor Day. "Establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it," Psalms 90:17. Laborers are their country's nobility. A man's work is born with him. "If any man will not work, don't let him eat; everyone should work peaceably and eat his own bread," 2 Thess. 3:10-12. "Six days shall you work but on the seventh day you shall rest," Ex. 34:21. Then from labor we do not ask respite but only for an intermission to recondition ourselves for the greater tasks ahead. God is with the working man and against the indolent, shiftless non-producers. Then let us labor together with God for Matthew said He promised rest to the heavy laden. He who works is the strength of his native land.
